SAINT FRANCIS DE SALES AND THE DEVOTIONAL LIFE OF A CHRISTIAN

Dear friends in Christ,

On January 24, we celebrated the memorial of Saint Francis de Sales, Bishop, and Doctor of the Church. He was the great Bishop of Geneva, Switzerland, who worked tirelessly to renew the faith of the Church after the protestant revolution that swept western Europe in the sixteenth century. Saint Francis was born to a noble family. Although he desired to serve God as a priest, his father wanted him to study law and politics. He was an intelligent yet humble and gentle man who received his doctorate in law from the University of Padua at just 24 years old. He was ordained as a priest and later as a bishop, Saint Francis de Sales prioritized the spiritual renewal of his people, especially of families. He realized that people who believe in God and love the Lord, often fall away from the faith because in the busy nature of their lives, they forget their creator and fail to pursue holiness.

We Catholics often wrongly think that the holiness of life is something reserved for the clergy and those in religious life. We see family life as a mundane experience. We also think that only monks and nuns, and those who withdraw from active participation in the world, can achieve holiness. Saint Francis de Sales promoted the revolutionary idea that every baptized man and woman receives the call to holiness. His teachings would later become the basis for what the Second Vatican Council calls the Universal Call to Holiness.

One of the most famous works of Saint Francis de Sales is his book, Introduction to the Devout Life. He emphasized the necessity of devotion in our spiritual journey. “Devotion is the intentional, daily practices that deepen our relationship with God and community” and true devotion leads to holiness. Our Christian faith is not about ideas, it is about a day-to-day walking with the Lord, obeying His commandments, and sharing His love with others.

Saint Francis de Sales’s teaching on true devotion is most needed for our modern society, filled with so much busyness and shallow living. We are burdened by so much activity and expectations. Parents worry about how they will provide for their families. Children struggle with expectations from family, school, and friends. Neighbors scramble to keep each other safe in our troubled world. Amid all these, we easily overlook and forget our Lord and God who calls us to draw closer to him. True devotion deepens our relationship with God in the morning prayer we offer before the rush and activities of the day begin; the conscious tracing of the Sign of the Cross; the intentional moment of silence and prayer before meals; and, most importantly, the faithful and consistent participation in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass every Sunday and Holy Day. “These acts, while seemingly small, become the stitches that weave our faith into the fabric of our everyday existence.” As we engage in the necessary activities of our family life, our financial and social commitments, let us rediscover the beauty of a Christian devotional life.

There are many devotions in the Church that can accompany our faith individually and as a family, devotion to the Most Holy Eucharist, to the Precious Blood of Jesus, to His Most Sacred Heart, to His Most Holy Name or to His Divine Mercy. We have devotions to the Blessed Mother under her various titles and especially praying the Holy Rosary. We also have devotion to the Saints of the Church who pray for us and accompany us on our journey. We can also practice short devotional prayers such as the Jesus Prayer “Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner.”

Saint Francis reminds us that our devotion is according to our state in life. The devotion of a nursing mother is different from the devotion of a monk. The devotion of a teacher is different from the devotion of a construction worker. Each of us must find a space and time that allows us to walk humbly with our God.

May our good Lord give us the grace of a deeper and more intentional devotion in our lives.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

What is the World Day for Consecrated Life?

It's a worldwide celebration held on February 2nd that coincides with the Feast of the Presentation of Jesus.

On this day, the Catholic Church celebrate the contributions of religious sisters, brothers, and priests — people who "consecrate their life to Jesus."

Sometimes, those in consecrated life choose to renew their vows and commitment to the Church. The global Catholic Church prays for them and for vocations.

Beginning February 6, 2026 the parish office will be open from 8:00AM to 12:00PM on Fridays

Stewardship

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 5:3

The phrase "poor in spirit" can be confusing. Think of it in this sense—poor in spirit means depending on God's providence and not depending on our own self-reliance. Being detached from earthy things (power, money, and comfort) and being attached to heavenly things (charity, sacrifice, and mercy). Denying ourselves from satisfying our desires and helping others obtain their basic needs.
