

I will leave as remnant in your midst
a people humble and lowly,
who shall take refuge in the name of the Lord.
(Zep 3:12)

Jubilant from John

Tuesday mornings, my wife Joni and I have the privilege of leading prayer at Friendly Horizons, an Alzheimer and dementia care facility about a mile from our parish. We always begin by singing a classic and unforgettable hymn. In spite of memories dimmed by age and disease, the residents often recall the words from the recesses of their minds. Last Tuesday, we began with What a Friend We Have in Jesus, and as we sang, the lyrics took on a contemporary meaning for me. "Have we trials and temptations? Is there trouble anywhere? We should never be discouraged; take it to the Lord in prayer." "Are we weak and heavy laden, cumbered with a load of care? Precious Savior, still our refuge; take it to the Lord in prayer."

With the turmoil in the Twin Cities fresh in mind, I couldn't help feeling a mixture of discouragement, frustration, anger, and uncertainty. I truly felt weak and heavy laden, encumbered by a load of care. A recent FaceBook post by our oldest daughter, Jennifer, expressed feelings similar to mine: "How it is my neighborhood, but it isn't. How it is my country, but it feels foreign. How I want my kids to know I stood for what's right but I also care so much about their safety, my safety—and I tell myself I can do more good by staying in the room, keeping my position, waiting for the right moment. Which may never come."

So many of us have friends and even family members in the midst of the trouble in our neighboring state to the east. A sense of helplessness and hopelessness, of quiet yet anxious acceptance, may numb us to the powerful possibility of taking it to the Lord in prayer—prayer may just seem too passive and the Lord too remote.

In his Angelus message last Sunday, Pope Leo XIV captured our feelings and frustrations so succinctly: "In our lives, both individually and as a Church, interior struggles or circumstances we deem unfavorable can lead us to believe that it is not the right time to proclaim the Gospel, to make a decision, to make a choice, or to change a situation. In this way, however, we risk becoming paralyzed by indecision or imprisoned by excessive prudence." Our Holy Father continued with encouraging yet challenging words: "[but] the Gospel calls us to dare to trust. God is at work at all times; every moment is 'God's time,' even when we do not feel ready or when the situation seems unfavorable."

All three of this Sunday's scripture readings offer encouragement and hope for our troubled hearts and times. The Prophet Zephaniah counsels: "Seek the Lord, all you humble of the earth, who have observed the law; seek justice, seek humility; perhaps you may be sheltered on the day of the Lord's anger" (Zep 2:3). St. Paul encourages you and me as he did the Corinthians: "Consider your own calling, brothers and sisters. Not many of you were wise by human standards, not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth. Rather, God chose the foolish of the world to shame the wise, and chose the weak of the world to shame the strong, and God chose the lowly and despised of the world... to reduce to nothing those who are something" (1 Cor 1:26-28).

The Beatitudes provide the capstone to the prophet's counsel and the apostle's encouragement. Jesus Christ prescribed humility, being "poor in spirit," not pride and self-centeredness; meekness, not power; purity of heart, pursuing goodness not greatness; being merciful, not vengeful; accepting insult, not seeking acclaim; bearing suffering and distress, not a life of comfort and ease. These are the attitudes of blessedness that offer peace in the midst of turmoil—and true joy beyond the troubled times in which we live. The Gospel calls us to dare to trust—and take it to the Lord in prayer.

Keep the faith, Deacon John

FASTING BREAD FOR LENT

OLBH Catholic Daughter Court #2805 will be selling loaves of FASTING BREAD for your Lenten journey.

Loaves will be on sale before and after Ash Wednesday Mass.

QUALITY INGREDIENTS AND THEIR SYMBOLIC REFERENCES: This marvelous bread combines pure, wholesome ingredients with symbolic references found in Sacred Scripture.

Stone Ground Wheat and Oats: Symbolic of the pain of being crushed by the wheels of God's Justice – which “grind slowly but exceedingly fine.” “Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains alone. But if it dies, it brings forth much fruit.” Jn 12:24

White Flour: A reminder of the manna given by God to the Hebrews during their forty years in the desert as Moses led them to the promised land. Manna foreshadowed the Holy Eucharist, also the called “Bread from Heaven.” Exodus 16:35, Jn 6:41

Yeast: Unifies many parts into one; a symbol of the kingdom of heaven and of the Church. Mt 13:33

Salt: Christ said to his Apostles: “You are the salt of the earth.” Mt 5:13

Water: Giving life to all things; a symbol of baptism; cleansing. Lenten penances aid the washing away of our sins. Holy water carries a blessing just by its use and when introduced with the sign of the cross. “He who drinks of the water that I will give him shall never thirst.” Jn 4:15

Olive Oil: Acclaimed throughout history as a source of strength, olive oil was used by the athletes of ancient Greece to prepare them for the contests. Mixed with wine it is useful in healing the wounds of those injured on the battlefields of medieval Europe. Olive oil is used by the Church in the Holy Oils applied in sacramental anointing.

Pure Maple Syrup: Collected in pure form flowing from a tree; symbolic of the cross and of the sweetness of the Blood of Christ which flowed freely from the tree of his cross, the tree of life; shed so that “sins may be forgiven.” A symbol of God's love by making this sweet nutrient a gift to be discovered.

Walnuts and Pecans and Cherries: These pleasant gifts found in abundance from prolific trees are reminders of Christ's command to go forth and “produce good fruit.” They are reminders of our own call to perform works of charity, prayer, fasting and almsgiving; the fruit of good works to be undertaken during Lent. Jn 15:16

Raisins: Made from pure grapes, raisins are the fruit of the vine; a reminder of the miracle of water changed into wine at the wedding feast in Cana; of the wine changed into the Blood of Christ at the Last Supper and at the Consecration during Mass. These serve as reminders of that mystery where wine is described as the “fruit of the vine and work of human hands, it will become our Spiritual Drink.”
