(Order of Christian Initiation of Adults)

is a process of study, exploration, faith-sharing, and faith formation for those who are curious about the Catholic faith, whether unbaptized adults or baptized Christians from another tradition who are drawn toward full communion with the Catholic Church.

This journey involves prayer, catechesis, and participation in the life of the Church, culminating in the reception of the Sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, Confirmation, and the Eucharist.

Our summer sessions are the first part of the Inquiry portion where those who have questions about the Catholic Faith are encouraged to attend with absolutely no commitment required.

Hey Deacon!

Christ the King and Our Nation: The Sacred Heart Consecration and America's 250th

On June 11, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops consecrated the United States of America to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. This solemn act, previously approved during their November 2025 general assembly, was undertaken in anticipation of the nation's 250th anniversary of independence in 2026. By making this consecration, the bishops sought not only to honor a historic milestone but also to reaffirm the foundational truths upon which the country was established. These truths recognize that every human being is endowed with the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. In turning the nation toward the Sacred Heart, the bishops invited all people to seek deeper unity with Christ, the source of authentic freedom and peace.

This consecration to the Sacred Heart is far more than a ceremonial gesture. As Pope Leo XIII described in his 1899 encyclical, Annum Sacrum, a consecration should be voluntary in which individuals or communities freely acknowledge Christ's authority and entrust themselves to His loving rule. In offering our hearts to Jesus, we bind ourselves to Him in fidelity and love, recognizing Him as King and placing our confidence in His mercy. This act of belonging expresses a desire to live under His guidance and to allow His Heart to shape our own.

Such a consecration becomes especially meaningful in times of cultural or moral turbulence. Pope Pius XI observed that when societies drift from divine and natural law, when public life attempts to exclude Christ, acts of consecration serve as a courageous witness. They proclaim that "Christ must reign," even when His sovereignty is ignored or denied. A public consecration is therefore both a plea for divine assistance and a declaration of hope. It seeks spiritual renewal not only for believers but for the entire human family, asking that the flame of charity be rekindled and that those who walk in darkness may be drawn toward faith and holiness.

This raises an important question about how such devotion intersects with civic life in the United States. The Church's engagement in public affairs is not about partisanship but about forming consciences, helping Catholics discern moral truth and apply it to social and political realities. The bishops describe conscience as the "voice of God" urging us to choose good and avoid evil. Properly forming this conscience requires effort, prayer, and openness to the teachings of Christ.

A national consecration, then, becomes a collective appeal for conversion. It expresses a desire that Christ's authority be acknowledged in the hearts of all people and that His grace transform the culture. This is particularly fitting as the nation marks its 250th year. Aligning the consecration with such a moment offers a providential opportunity -- it invites reflection on our national identity, our moral responsibilities, and our need for God's mercy.

Ultimately, consecration to the Sacred Heart is about giving ourselves to Jesus and allowing His love to renew our lives. It is a timeless call to reparation, conversion, and hope, one that speaks not only to individuals but to nations seeking true peace and enduring freedom

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Jean Améry, a Holocaust survivor tortured by the Nazis, later wrote about the abyss of human evil. He described his reaction as an “indignant despair.” Haven’t we all, to some degree, felt that abyss opened beneath us? A sudden loss, a violent headline, a moment of loneliness or panic, when the world feels fragile and meaning seems to collapse?

It is to this fear that Jesus speaks in today’s Gospel: “Do not be afraid of those who can kill the body.” (Matthew 10:28) He does not deny evil or pretend we will never suffer. Instead, He reframes the abyss: do not fear those who can kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Your life is seen, known, and counted by the Father. Even the hairs of your head, even the sparrow’s fall.

This is no superficial comfort. Jesus himself has entered the abyss: suffering, death, even our sense of forsakenness, and he has come through it. That is why his words, “Do not be afraid,” hold such weight. They do not erase the abyss but build a bridge across it.

Faith is not pretending everything is fine. It is staring into the abyss and still choosing trust. And in that trust, we discover we are never alone. Christ stands with us, and the Father’s care surrounds us. That is the only comfort deep enough for our (often fearful) hearts.

— Father John Muir

Weekly Prayer

Sunday's Readings

First Reading:

"Sing to the LORD,
praise the LORD,
for he has rescued the life of the poor
from the power of the wicked!" (Jer 20:13)

Psalm:

Lord, in your great love, answer me. (Ps 69)

Second Reading:

But the gift is not like the transgression.
For if by the transgression of the one the many died,
how much more did the grace of God and the gracious gift of the one man Jesus Christ
overflow for the many. (Rom 5:15)

Gospel:

"What I say to you in the darkness, speak in the light;
what you hear whispered, proclaim on the housetops."

Live The Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

"What I say to you in the darkness, speak in the light." We all hear God's voice whispering in our hearts. Discipleship means speaking those words out loud. We all feel the Spirit sing into our souls. Discipleship means that we dance to the tune.

Virtues, Explained!

In being affable, we make ourselves friendly, approachable, and agreeable to those around us, regardless of how they make us feel. "How good and how pleasant it is when brothers dwell together as one," writes King David in Psalm 133.

Blessing for Juneteenth

Dear Lord,
Pour Your goodness and grace upon our brothers and sisters. Even as we celebrate our triumphs, be with us in today's work that strives to bring justice to the oppressed and liberty to captives. Write Your message of freedom in our hearts, so that we might live more deeply healed. Amen.
