The Gift of Beatitudes (Mt 5:1-12a)

The eight beatitudes begin with the word "blessed." The original term does not refer to someone with a full stomach or living the good life, but rather to someone in a state of grace.

Living the Beatitudes is not a weakness, but a grace. The discourse of the world is often built on wealth and power. Life has usually become a struggle in the pursuit of profit. The knowledge of God and consideration for others become secondary.

Firstly, it's in my interest.

Thus, Christian values are trampled upon and discarded. Life no longer lives according to the Gospel, but according to our own understanding.

Jesus introduces the Sermon on the Mount with a heartfelt blessing for the poor.

Who is poor then? Here we have two categories of poor people: the poor in spirit, and those who are poor in material possessions. A poor person is someone who knows that without God, he can't do anything.

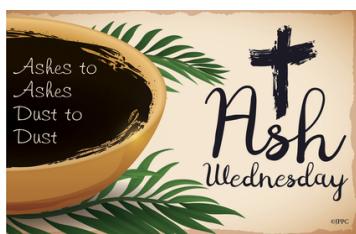

Blessed are those who are afflicted, who suffer, who are persecuted; God will comfort them. In my pastoral experience, I met a woman who had nine children, and all of them had died in war, and even her husband had passed away; she was left all alone. She had lost all hope and joy in life. She told me that she wanted to disappear. I had said to her that in the darkness of our lives, our light is Jesus Christ. Jesus is always by our side.

The purpose of our presence on earth is to worship and praise the Lord. Blessed are the righteous and peacemakers; the kingdom of heaven is theirs. We must work very hard to see God. You should never be someone who sows division or rejects others. The Beatitudes contain the identity card of the Christian.

Living according to the Beatitudes is a grace and a gift from God that we must seek.

Fr. Albert

"The soul's true greatness is in loving God and in humbling oneself in His presence, completely forgetting oneself and believing oneself to be nothing; because the Lord is great, but He is well-pleased only with the humble; He always opposes the proud". - St Faustina, Divine Mercy in my Soul
