ST. GEORGE PARISH

September 21,
2025

ST. MICHAEL PARISH

Sioux Falls, SD

25th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Recently, I read an article that shared comments Pope Leo gave in an interview this July. He was worried about the world forgetting “the value of human life, of the family, and the value of society”. He asked: “If we lose sense of those values, what matters anymore?” He said the key to that phenomenon was the widening wage gap between the rich and the poor. The article continues as the Pope said: “For example, CEOs, 60 years ago, might have been making four to six times more than what the workers were receiving. The last figure I saw is that CEOs make 600 times more than what average workers are receiving.” The Pope added that he heard that “Elon Musk is going to be the first trillionaire in the world”. He said, “What does that mean, and what's that about? If that is the only thing that has value anymore, then we're in big trouble.”

One remedy to the Pope's concern can be found in today's gospel. Jesus makes a statement that may find confusing when He says, “I tell you make friends for yourselves with dishonest wealth, so that when it fails, you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings.” First, let me try to clarify what Jesus is referring to when He speaks of dishonest wealth. He's not necessarily referring to wealth that is gained through dishonest methods, but also wealth that can lead to dishonesty. An example would be as the Prophet Amos refers to in the first reading, when the rich want to get richer by fixing their scales for cheating. Also, Jesus is not saying that being financially stable is a bad thing, but it does matter how we use it, realizing that at some point it will fail. We can't take it with us when we die.

If we can't take it with us, how do we make use of it “so that when it fails, you will be welcomed into eternal dwelling”. For me, it begins with acknowledging that I am a steward of my master's goods, just as in today's gospel. Everything that I possess is because of the God-given talents, gifts, and blessings that He has lovingly granted me. As a steward of His gifts, He expects me to act prudently and not squander

His property like the dishonest servant in the gospel. In order to make an eternal dwelling with the blessings He has given in this life, we share those blessings so that others can be blessed. In using our time, talent, and treasure to build up God's kingdom here on earth, we will not only be welcomed into eternal dwellings, but also help to restore the values that Pope Leo is concerned we are losing.

The last verse in the gospel, Jesus says, “you cannot serve both God and mammon”. By God's grace, may we chose Him! Deacon Tim Dickes

Gifts Hymn: Your Words Are Spirit and Life

REFRAIN— Your words are spirit and life, O Lord: richer than gold, stronger than death. Your words are spirit and life, O Lord: life everlasting.

God's law is perfect, refreshing the soul, reviving the weary spirit. God's rule can be trusted: bringing us wisdom, bringing God's wisdom to birth. (refrain)

God's precepts keep us; their purpose is right. They gladden the hearts of people. God's command is so clear it brings us new vision; bringing God's light to our eyes. (refrain)

Living by God's truth is holy and sure; God's presence is everlasting. God's truth is eternal, bringing us justice; bringing God's justice to earth. (refrain)

God's word is precious, desired more than gold; worth more than we dare imagine and, sweeter than honey, this word will feed us, bringing fulfillment and joy. (refrain)
