Introduction

Sinclairs gather and use certain information about individuals in order to provide products and services and to enable certain functions on our website.

We also collect information to better understand how individuals use our website and to provide timely, relevant information to them.

What data we gather

We may collect the following information:

- Name and Job Title
- Contact information
- Demographic information, such as postcode, preferences and interests
- Website usage data
- Other information relevant to enquiries
- Other information pertaining to competitions and surveys.

How we use this data

Collecting this data helps us to understand what you are looking for from our company, therefore enabling us to deliver improved products and services.

Specifically, we may use data;

- For our own internal records
- To improve the products and services we provide
- To contact you in response to a specific enquiry
- To send you promotional emails about our products, services, competitions, giveaways and other things we think may be relevant to you
- To contact you via email, telephone, or mail for market research purposes.

Cookies and how we use them

What is a Cookie?

A Cookie is a small file placed on your computers hard drive. It enables our website to identify your computer as you view different pages on our website.

Cookies allow websites and applications to store your preferences in order to present content, options, or functions that are specific to you. They also enable us to see information like how many people use our website and what pages they tend to visit.

How we use Cookies

We may use cookies to:

- Analyse our web traffic using an analytics package. Aggregated usage data helps us improve our website structure, design, content and functions.
- Identify whether you are signed in to our website. A cookie allows us to check whether you are signed in to our site.
- Test content on our website. For example; 50% of our users might see one piece of content and the other 50% may see a different piece of content.
- Store information about your preferences. Our website can then present you with information you will find more interesting and relevant.
- To recognise when you return to our website. We may show your relevant content or provide functions you used previously.

Cookies do not provide us with access to your computer or any personal information about you, other than which you choose to share with us.

Controlling Cookies

You can use your web browsers cookie settings to determine how our website uses cookies. If you do not want our website to store cookies on your computer or device, you should set your website browser to refuse cookies.

However, please note that doing this will effect how our website functions. Some pages and services may become unavailable to you.

Unless you have changed your browser to refuse cookies, our website will issue cookies when you visit it.

Controlling information about you

When you fill in a form or provide detail on our website, you will see one or more tick boxes allowing you to:

- Opt – in to receive marketing communications from us by telephone, via email or post.
