FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK:
Forgiven People Must Become Forgiving People.

Imagine this scene: The city has gone dark. The crowds that shouted for Jesus' blood have drifted away. The hill of Calvary is nearly silent now, except for the sound of grief and the last echoes of violence. At the foot of the Cross stands a mother whose heart has been pierced, cradled in the arms of a beloved disciple who cannot understand what has happened, and a few faithful souls who have not run from suffering. Above them hangs Jesus, naked, betrayed, mocked, tortured, and crucified. If ever there were a moment when heaven might have answered hatred with hatred, this was it. If ever there were a moment when justice might have descended as fire, it was there, on that hill. But from the Cross, Jesus does not curse. He does not condemn. He forgives. "Father, forgive them." Those words fall upon the earth like the first light of Easter morning. They travel from Calvary to the empty tomb, from the empty tomb into the heart of the Church, and from the heart of the Church into every Christian life. They are also the words that stand behind the mission of the Knights and Dames of the Holy Sepulchre, who do not simply honor a holy place, but bear witness to the victory of mercy that burst forth from it.

That is why this Sunday's Gospel speaks so powerfully to my own heart, as we welcome members of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem, Knights and Dames who gather with us in anticipation of Monday's Feast: The Exaltation (Triumph) of the Holy Cross. In today's Gospel from Matthew (18:21-35), Peter asks Jesus how often he must forgive. Peter thinks he is being generous when he suggests seven times, as Jewish law at the time required a person to only forgive three times. Jesus answers, "not seven times but seventy-seven times," and then tells the parable of the servant who receives mercy beyond measure but refuses to extend even a fraction of that mercy to another. The lesson is direct and demanding - forgiven people must become forgiving people. The mercy we receive from God must become the mercy we offer to one another.

Christ does not ask us to manufacture forgiveness out of our own strength. He asks us to receive his mercy so deeply that we begin to reflect it. The Cross is the clearest sign of that mercy. From the Cross, Jesus forgives. From the empty tomb, he sends his disciples to announce reconciliation. Every Christian life, then, must become a living sign that mercy is stronger than bitterness and love is stronger than death.

This is also at the heart of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem. The Order is one of the oldest and most historic chivalric orders of the Catholic Church, tracing its origins to the First Crusade and the desire to honor and protect the holy places associated with the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus. Over the centuries, its mission has changed, but its heart has remained fixed on Jerusalem, the Holy Sepulchre, and the Christian communities of the Holy Land. Today, the Order is a worldwide Catholic institution under the protection of the Holy See, entrusted in a particular way with supporting the Latin Patriarchate of Jerusalem and sustaining the Christian presence in the land where our salvation history unfolded.

The mission of the Order is spiritual, charitable, and ecclesial. Its members are called first to deepen their own Christian life in fidelity to the Holy Father and the teachings of the Church. They are also called to pray for the Church in the Holy Land, to support the charitable, educational, cultural, and social works of the Latin Patriarchate, and to foster concern for the Christians who continue to live, worship, study, work, and raise families in Israel, Palestine, Jordan, and Cyprus. In very practical terms, the Knights and Dames help support schools, parishes, seminaries, social services, humanitarian assistance, and pastoral initiatives that allow Christian communities in the Holy Land not merely to survive, but to remain rooted in hope.

That work matters urgently. The Holy Land is not an idea. It is not simply a destination for pilgrims or a chapter in a history book. It is home to living members of the Body of Christ—and their presence is fragile. Christians now make up less than two percent of the population in the Holy Land, and Church leaders warn that war, economic hardship, political oppression, restrictions on movement, unemployment, the collapse of tourism and pilgrimage, insecurity, and the lack of a future are driving families, especially young people, to leave.

Recent reports from the Latin Patriarchate speak of Christian communities facing unemployment of more than fifty percent, and in Gaza only a few hundred Christians remain. Unless Christians throughout the world help provide schools, work, housing, pastoral support, and reasons for families to stay, the Holy Land could one day have shrines, stones, altars, and memories—but very few living Christian families to pray there, raise children there, and keep the faith alive there. When Christians in the Holy Land can educate their children, receive medical care, find employment, maintain parish life, and live with dignity, the whole Church is strengthened. The Order reminds us that Catholic faith is never private or isolated. As St. Paul tells us in the second reading, “none of us lives for oneself.” We belong to the Lord, and because we belong to him, we also belong to one another.

For that reason, membership in the Order is not an honor sought for prestige. It is a vocation of service. Knights and Dames are expected to be practicing Catholics in good standing, faithful to the teachings of the Church, active in parish and diocesan life, known for moral integrity, committed to works of charity, and genuinely concerned for the needs of the Holy Land. They must be willing to pray, to give, to learn, to serve, and, when possible, to make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. They must also be prepared to accept the financial responsibilities of membership, including the annual offering that supports the mission of the Order.

The process is careful and prayerful. A person does not simply “sign up.” Candidates must be nominated by an existing member of the Order who knows them personally and can attest to their faith, character, service, and willingness to embrace the Order’s mission. Candidates are then reviewed and must receive the approval of their diocesan Bishop, and the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem. Ultimately, membership is a papal appointment, conferred in the name of the Holy Father; in our time, those received into the Order are appointed by Pope Leo himself. This seriousness protects the meaning of the Order and reminds every candidate that the Cross worn by a Knight or Dame is not a decoration but a responsibility.

To be considered for nomination, a candidate should normally be at least twenty-five years old, an active and practicing Catholic in good standing, personally known to the sponsor, faithful to Catholic teaching, engaged in the life of the parish and diocese, generous in charity, respectful of the Church’s mission, and able to fulfill the spiritual and financial obligations of membership. A distinguished record of service to the Church is important, but so is humility. The Order seeks people who understand that Christian knighthood is not about titles; it is about discipleship beneath the Cross.

On this Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time, the Gospel asks each of us to look honestly at the mercy we have received and the mercy we are willing to give. The Order of the Holy Sepulchre presents us with the same mystery in visible form: the Cross, the empty tomb, and the living Church in the land of Jesus. To support the Christians of the Holy Land is to stand near the place where forgiveness changed the world. To wear the Cross of the Order is to promise that one’s life will bear witness to that forgiveness.

In addition to serving as your Pastor, I also serve as the Diocesan Coordinator for the Equestrian Order of the Knights and Dames of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem. As such, I ask you to pray with me: pray for the twenty-five Knights and Dames who join us this weekend, pray in a special way for those who will be inducted into the Order at St. Patrick Cathedral in October, and pray most especially for the Christians of the Holy Land whom we are privileged to serve.

I also ask you to listen carefully to the quiet movements of grace in your own heart. Perhaps the Lord is calling you, or someone you know, to give witness to the Cross through this beautiful work of faith, mercy, and solidarity. If you are a member of this parish and would like to learn more about this Order, please come and speak with me. I would be grateful to accompany your discernment. If you are a member of Ordinary another parish, please contact your proper Pastor and begin that conversation with him. The Cross of Christ teaches us that mercy has no limit. The Holy Sepulchre proclaims that love is stronger than death. May our lives, our parish, and the whole Church bear witness to that same victorious love.

With a loving and grateful heart,
Msgr. Louis A. Marucci, VF, Ph.D., D.Min. KCHS
Pastor

24th Sunday in Ordinary Time: Stewardship Gifts

“For if we live, we live for the Lord, and if we die, we die for the Lord; so then, whether we live or die, we are the Lord’s.” – ROMANS 14:8

This is the essence of stewardship – everything we have and everything we are is a gift from God. We aren’t “owners” of anything, we are merely “stewards” of the gifts that God has given us, especially our very own lives. Pray to God, daily, and ask Him how He is calling you to the live the life that He intended for you.
