FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK
Twenty-Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time, World Day of Migrants and Refugees

In 1944, a fourteen-year-old boy named Mario Capecchi arrived in the United States after years of hunger, separation, and homelessness during the Second World War. He spoke no English. Yet this refugee child eventually became a pioneering geneticist and received the Nobel Prize in Medicine. His life does not prove that every newcomer must become famous to deserve welcome. It reveals something more fundamental: when a human being is given safety, opportunity, and belonging, gifts once buried beneath suffering can become gifts for the whole world.

Today, our church celebrates World Day of Prayer for Migrants and Refugees. As disciples of Jesus Christ, we cannot speak about displaced people as though they were merely a border statistic, a campaign slogan, or someone else's responsibility. They are mothers carrying children, fathers seeking safety, young people escaping violence, and families longing to work, worship, and live without fear. Many have endured deserts, detention, exploitation, or years of separation.

We Catholics know the words: "Welcome the stranger." "Whatever you did for one of these least brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me." Yet Jesus asks whether our words have been put into action. Sometimes, people want to act but fail to realize what can be done. In 2018, Pope Francis addressed this issue in his address for the 104th World Day for Migrants and Refugees. He said, "Our shared response to the many challenges of contemporary migration may be articulated by four verbs: to welcome, to protect, to promote, and to integrate." In my opinion, these are not political catchphrases. They are a path of Christian discipleship.

In the United States, the Church recognizes a nation's responsibility to regulate its borders. But authority must always serve the human person and the common good. Our bishops have repeatedly called for significant immigration reform because a system can be legal and still be painfully inadequate: families remain separated, lawful pathways are too narrow or slow, long-settled neighbors live in uncertainty, and people fleeing persecution or trafficking can be left dangerously exposed. We need laws that are orderly and enforceable, but also humane laws that protect borders without hardening hearts.

To welcome is to let a stranger become a neighbor. It may begin with learning a family's name, offering a ride, sharing a meal, practicing English with a newcomer, or supporting Catholic Charities and parish resettlement efforts. Before anyone becomes a case to debate, that person is a child of God to encounter. Welcome happens when someone who has felt invisible discovers a place at our table and in our pew.

To protect is to stand beside people whose vulnerability is easily exploited. It means opposing trafficking, wage theft, unsafe labor, discrimination, and language that treats human beings as threats or burdens. Catholics can accompany families to reputable legal assistance, support due process and humanitarian protections, and insist that enforcement distinguish genuine danger from human desperation. Protection says, "Your life is sacred, and you will not stand alone."

To promote is to recognize that migrants and refugees bring gifts, not merely needs. A parish can tutor children, mentor job seekers, support fair employment and education, or help trained professionals find responsible ways to use their skills. Promotion does not ask, "How little can we offer?" It asks, "What has God placed within this person that can bless our community?" Mario Capecchi's story is extraordinary, but every newcomer carries a dignity and vocation that no résumé can measure.

To integrate is to build communion rather than parallel lives. It asks newcomers to participate responsibly in civic life and respect the law, while asking established communities to make room for their voices, faith, traditions, and leadership. Parishes live this verb when longtime residents and recent arrivals pray together, serve together, and know one another's stories. Integration is not the erasure of difference; it is the patient creation of a shared home.

Personal charity, however, cannot excuse public silence. Catholics must bring a well-formed conscience into civic life. We should move beyond slogans, learn the Church's principles, reject falsehood and contempt, contact legislators, and support comprehensive reforms that preserve families, provide realistic legal pathways, safeguard asylum and due process, meet legitimate labor needs, and enforce the law with humanity. Prudential judgments may differ, but indifference is not a Catholic option.

Before we close, let us remember that the Holy Family themselves became refugees. When Herod threatened the life of the Child Jesus, Mary and Joseph fled from Bethlehem to Egypt to safeguard Him. They arrived in a foreign land with little more than the clothes on their backs and the gifts the Magi had placed in their hands. They needed safety, shelter, food, work, and the kindness of strangers. What would have happened if no one had opened a home, a heart, or the resources needed to help them?

The same Christ still comes to us in families forced to flee danger and begin again with almost nothing. What can we do? This week, choose one verb—welcome, protect, promote, or integrate—and make it visible: meet one person, accompany one family, correct one cruel falsehood, join one ministry, or write one public official. If the Holy Family came to our community today seeking refuge, would they find room in our hearts—and would our faith give them reason to hope?

With a loving and grateful heart,
Msgr. Louis Marucci, VF, Ph.D., D.Min.
Pastor

You can also support the campaign by requesting memorial donations to the St. Andrew's Building Fund in lieu of flowers when a loved one passes away.

26th Sunday in Ordinary Time: Humble Stewards

"Do nothing out of selfishness; rather, humbly regard others as more important than yourselves..." -Philippians 2:3

Pride and ego are hard things to control. We see how others act or dress and think we are superior to them. We idolize our own self-image. But, if we truly believe that in stewardship everything is a gift from God, we recognize all the people that God has put in our lives as gifts! We are grateful for how they enrich our lives. Pray every day for the people in your life: your family, your friends and those who make you angry.

✚ Saint Spotlight—St. Gerard Majella

St. Gerard Majella is sometimes called the "Mother's Saint" because generations of mothers and expectant mothers have turned to him for his intercession.

He became particularly associated with mothers and expectant mothers because of accounts of his prayers helping women during difficult pregnancies and childbirth.

One famous story involves a handkerchief Gerard gave to a young woman, telling her that she would need it someday. Years later, she reportedly used it during a dangerous childbirth and delivered a healthy baby.

Our Parish will be holding a special St. Gerard Majella Mass on Thursday, October 15 at 7:00 PM.

Pro-Life Mothers in Need Ministry - Article Spotlight

“When Baptism Was More Powerful Than My Postpartum Depression” by Allison Auth, published in Denver Catholic, is a moving reflection on motherhood, postpartum depression, and the healing power of the sacraments. Allison, a former parishioner of St. Andrew the Apostle, shares her personal and spiritual journey following the birth of her second child.

For Allison, her daughter’s Baptism became much more than a celebration of new life. It became a turning point in her own journey toward physical and spiritual healing, revealing the transformative power of sacramental grace.

“The grace of the sacraments is real, actual and effectual. The pouring of water and the anointing with oil are not just nice gestures but enact genuine change.”

Read more about the spiritual and physical journey of both mother and child in Allison’s book, Baby and Beyond: Overcoming Those Post-Childbirth Woes, published by Sophia Institute Press.

CONVALIDATION OF MARRIAGE

If you were not married in the Catholic Church, Msgr. Marucci will try to assist couples in navigating the convalidation process to see if your marriage can be blessed by the Church.

In seeking the blessing and convalidation of your marriage, you are embracing the fullness of the sacrament and inviting Christ to be at the center of your union. This step not only strengthens your relationship but also brings you into deeper communion with the Church.

The journey toward convalidation is one of reflection, preparation, and celebration, where the grace of God transforms your marital bond into a sacred covenant.

Please email Msgr. Marucci for more information about the convalidation process at the following email address: Msgr-Marucci@churchofstandrews.org

“A smile is laughter's whisper and has it's roots in the soul” - Fulton Sheen

Dear Seniors, What would you think of a place where you can socialize, laugh, drink coffee, eat together, and challenge your mind, all in one morning? We're here! Two days a week in the Upper Room of our own parish. Fall is a good time to join us because we have several fun events planned that will take us right up to the Christmas holidays. First is the Halloween Party! The theme this year is "Halloween Roundup"! It will be held on Thursday, October 29th, from 9:30 AM until 1:00 PM. Western wear will fit the theme, but any costume is good, just be comfortable because there will be dancing! ALL SENIORS ARE INVITED! You don't have to be a regular attendee.

Our annual auction will be held on November 10th! Start gathering your nice, slightly used items to donate. We don't sell clothes, but last year we made a killing on purses! Bring your items to the center during our regular hours.

This Tuesday we will try some Salsa dance moves. This type of movement is said to be very good for muscle tone and mental well being. It's really fun, so let's try it! Also, bring in a pic of your younger self! Your age can range up to your 30's or 40's! Write your name on the back, and we will try to guess each pic! Also think about the question: What are some of the most important things about aging that you have learned? On Thursday we will start with the Rosary, and then break into "Families" for a Family Feud game! Hope you can make it!!

We meet in the Upper Room on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Plan to arrive between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m. , and stay until the end of lunch, about 1:00 p.m. We serve breakfast and a delicious lunch, and there is no cost or commitment. The group looks forward to meeting you!

Just send me a note at themschoot@churchofstandrews.org, and I will send you a schedule. There is no commitment or cost to join, so what's stopping you?
