FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK
...27th Sunday of Ordinary
Time: The Vineyard of Life

A few months ago, a woman left a grocery store and noticed an older man sitting alone beside a shopping cart. Everyone was hurrying past him—checking phones, loading cars, and getting on with their day. At first, she did the same. Then she saw that his hands were shaking and that his groceries were still in the cart. She turned around and asked, “Are you all right?” He admitted that he felt dizzy and was afraid to drive. She helped him sit safely, called his daughter, and waited until help arrived. It cost her less than thirty minutes, but it required something our busy world often resists: stopping long enough to see that another person’s life had become her concern. The man was not an interruption. He was a neighbor entrusted, for that moment, to her care.

The woman’s simple decision revealed something essential about her character. She noticed a person in need, and stopped to see if he needed help, rather than merely judge him to be homeless and not worthy of assistance. Notice that she did not first ask whether the man was useful, independent, healthy, familiar, or convenient. She recognized that he was a person, and despite his appearance and circumstances, he was a person whose life mattered. To respect the dignity of others is to recognize every person as someone to be loved and never merely used. This is the conviction the Church brings into October, when Catholics in the United States observe Respect Life Month and its first Sunday as Respect Life Sunday.

At the heart of the Pro-Life debate is the importance of recognizing the dignity of the human person and, that dignity begins at the moment of conception until natural death. Protecting children in the womb is therefore a primary and urgent responsibility. This is why the Church speaks clearly and prophetically about protecting life at all stages. The unborn child is innocent, defenseless, and entirely dependent upon others; abortion directly takes that child’s life. Yet being pro-life cannot end with opposing abortion. The Gospel does not permit us to protect life at one stage and ignore it at another. A truly pro-life heart welcomes and defends human life in every season.

That means accompanying pregnant women who feel frightened or alone, supporting mothers and fathers after a child is born, and offering mercy and healing to those wounded by abortion. It means protecting people with disabilities and resisting the idea that dependence makes a life less worthy. It means visiting the sick, honoring the elderly, providing compassionate care at the end of life, and rejecting euthanasia and assisted suicide. It means opposing racism, human trafficking, abuse, terrorism, and the deliberate targeting of civilians in war. It means working to reduce violence, addressing hunger and homelessness, welcoming the stranger with both compassion and prudence, caring for prisoners, and seeking forms of justice that defend society without treating any human being as beyond redemption. These issues are not identical in moral gravity, but they flow from one conviction: every life is sacred, from conception to natural death.

In Matthew 21:33–43, Jesus warns that the vineyard will be given to a people who will produce its fruit. The parable reminds us that what God entrusts to us is never ours to exploit or discard. What fruit does God seek from us? Not slogans without sacrifice or arguments without love. He seeks conversion, courage, mercy, justice, and practical care. Catholic pro-life witness must be both truthful and tender: truthful enough to name whatever destroys human life and tender enough to stand beside people carrying fear, grief, poverty, illness, or regret. We do not defend an abstract cause; we love actual neighbors.

During the month of October, allow me to suggest some practical strategies to promote the Pro-Life cause and build a Culture of Life:

- Pray: Offer a Rosary, a Holy Hour, or one day of fasting for unborn children, expectant parents, people facing serious illness, prisoners, refugees, and victims of violence.
- Learn: Read one reliable Catholic resource each week on abortion, end-of-life care, disability, the death penalty, poverty, migration, or peacemaking. Let Church teaching enlarge—not merely confirm—your concerns.
- Serve: Donate diapers, formula, gift cards, or baby clothing to a pregnancy center or parish outreach. Volunteer at a food pantry, nursing home, hospice, prison ministry, disability ministry, or shelter.

- Accompany: Call an elderly neighbor, bring a meal to a family under strain, offer transportation to a medical appointment, or listen without judgment to someone facing a difficult pregnancy or painful diagnosis.
- Advocate: Communicate respectfully with public officials about laws and policies that protect vulnerable life and strengthen families. Speak with conviction, avoid contempt, and refuse language that denies anyone's humanity.
- Make a family plan: Choose one work of mercy to continue beyond October. A culture of life is built by habits, not by a single observance.

Christian discipleship begins by remembering that every life belongs to God. The child in the womb, the exhausted mother, the person with profound disabilities, the immigrant family, the condemned prisoner, the lonely elder, the patient nearing death, and the neighbor whose politics differ from ours all stand on holy ground: each life bears the mark of the Creator.

This October, may we become more attentive to the lives placed before us—grateful for each person, vigilant in defending the vulnerable, generous in service, and humble before the One to whom every life belongs. May God find among us communities where no one is disposable, every wound meets compassion, and every human life is welcomed, protected, and loved.

With a loving and grateful heart,
Msgr. Louis Marucci, VF, Ph.D., D.Min.

Feast of St. Francis of Assisi

This year, October 4 brings St. Francis of Assisi especially close to us. Because it falls on a Sunday, the Sunday liturgy takes precedence, yet the witness of St. Francis beautifully illuminates the Gospel. The year 2026 marks the 800th anniversary of his death—his “Transitus,” or passage to eternal life—on October 3, 1226. The Church is observing a special Franciscan Jubilee Year, inviting the faithful to rediscover his call to holiness, peace, humility, and care for creation.

Francis understood that creation is not merchandise to be consumed without limit; it is a family of gifts received from the Father. He could speak of Brother Sun, Sister Moon, and the creatures with affection because he first recognized God as Creator. His love for animals was not sentimental decoration. It flowed from conversion. He saw every creature as pointing beyond itself to the goodness of God, and he knew that gratitude must become responsibility.

In that spirit, our parish will hold the Blessing of Animals at 11:30 AM, following the 10:00 AM Mass this weekend. The schedule is intentional: parishioners may attend Mass, go home to collect their animals, and return for the blessing. Please bring pets safely secured on a leash or in an appropriate carrier, remain attentive to their comfort around other animals, and bring whatever is needed to clean up after them. The blessing is a joyful moment, but it is also a prayer of thanksgiving and a promise to care well for the creatures entrusted to us.

In the spirit of the Gospel, and of St. Francis of Assisi, we must ask ourselves: How might we bear good fruit this week? First, choose one relationship that needs tending. Make the call, offer an apology, or give someone your undivided attention. Second, practice one concrete act of care for creation: waste less food, avoid unnecessary purchases, recycle carefully, conserve water, or pick up litter in a shared space. Third, examine one gift—your time, money, influence, skill, or property—and ask how it can serve someone beyond yourself. Finally, pray each morning: “Lord, this day is your vineyard. Show me the fruit you desire.”

“Faith makes things possible, not easy” Fulton Sheen

Dear Seniors, We are so excited that Fall is here, and with it the beginning of lots of fun activities and holidays! First is the Halloween Party. This year the theme is “Halloween Roundup.” The party will be held on October 29th in the parish hall, during our regular hours. Any type of costume is good, but you might want to make it something with a Western flair. Just be comfortable because there will be dancing.

Our annual auction will be held on November 10th! Start gathering your nice, slightly used items to donate. We don’t sell clothes, but last year we made a killing on purses and jewelry. Bring your items to the center during our regular hours.

This Tuesday we will have a visit from the wonderful diocesan group called Vitality at 10:00 AM. After the visit we will get moving with some “Aerobics”. This type of exercise is not only fun, but gets the circulation going, and the joints moving!

Then, let’s talk about our favorite holiday, and what makes it so special, followed by a game of “Who knows you best” game. This game will be played in your table groups, to see who knows how you will answer a question! On Thursday, Luisa will be back with Tai Chi! After that, see how well you do with the brain games that are designed to target certain areas of the brain. We work in teams of course. This was really fun last time we played it.

We meet in the Upper Room on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Plan to arrive between 9:30 and 10:00 AM , and stay until the end of lunch, about 1:00 PM. We serve breakfast and a delicious lunch, and there is no cost or commitment. The group looks forward to meeting you!

Just send me a note at themschoot@churchofstandrews.org, and I will send you a schedule. There is no commitment or cost to join, so what’s stopping you?

27th Sunday in Ordinary Time Stewardship Lifestyle

“The stone that the builders rejected has become the corner stone...” - MATTHEW 21:42

Jesus was rejected by the religious and political leaders of his day, as well as ordinary citizens, but he was still obedient to God, the Father. Similarly, living a stewardship lifestyle may cause you to be “rejected” by others, but we, too are called to be obedient. Saying grace before a meal in a restaurant may attract some strange looks from some. But to others it is a sign that God is alive and well!
