What are Holy Days of Obligation?

Put very simply, these are days appointed by the Hierarchy of the Church to be kept in a similar way as one would keep one's Sunday obligation. At a base level, this means there is a requirement for the faithful to attend Holy Mass sometime during this day or the night previous, all things being equal.

"On Sundays and other holy days of obligation, the faithful are obliged to participate in the Mass. Moreover, they are to abstain from those works and affairs which hinder the worship to be rendered to God, the joy proper to the Lord's day, or the suitable relaxation of mind and body." – Code of Canon Law, 1247.

A few important things to note about Holy Days which can be useful to us:

- The Church, and particularly her hierarchy, have the authority to make such requirements of the Faithful for attendance at Holy Mass on specific days.
- This is not a tyrannical sort of thing, nor "merely a law of men" as some claim. Rather this is an expression of the legitimate authority given by Christ to the Apostles and their successors for the guidance of the Church.
- We must think of the Church as Our Mother, who gives us what we need for nourishment as we mature in faith and pursue holiness.

Note the nature of the words from the Code of Canon Law. There is a clear sense that we need real rest to pursue God, that true leisure is necessary for holiness! We must be told, or, even better, given permission to stop our frantic activity and listen for the still, small voice of the Almighty one (1 Kings 19). Afterall, the "sweat of our brow" has always been a punishment (Genesis 3). The Church, being our Mother, gives the command on our behalf that we should be given the time to go and worship our God, and receive His yoke which is easy, rather than endlessly craft our own which only drag us down.

Go to Mass on January 1. It's good for you.

Father Away

I will be away from the afternoon of Thursday, January 1st until January 10th for a conference and some vacation days, after which our parish schedule will return to normal.

11 AM Mass In Latin on Jan 4 is Cancelled, as are weekday Masses, but all other weekend Masses and Saturday Confessions will be celebrated as usual. All Day Adoration is moved to January 15th.

Moonless Darkness

Gerard Manley Hopkins

Moonless darkness stands between.
Past, the Past, no more be seen!
But the Bethlehem-star may lead me
To the sight of Him who freed me
From the self that I have been.
Make me pure, Lord: Thou art holy;
Make me meek, Lord: Thou wert lowly;
Now beginning, and alway:
Now begin, on Christmas day.
