

Hatch Get Ready to start

Support Document

Edition 4

Additional Information

Aware+Vision
Social Enterprise proposal

Extra Social Mission

Proving a special series of presentation talks, exhibitions and specially created publications.

I have has experienced many situations as a neurodivergent on the autistic spectrum as an awareness campaigner, creative designer and a Latin dancing participant. Combining these experiences to educate, inspire and enable open minds.

Presentation talks
Social responsibility convincing & Showcase
Exhibition display
Presentation booklets & magazine

Idea Clients

There are four levels to this answer

1. With my awareness initiative which provides a unique approach towards social responsibility issues to benefit the community. To be strong enough to generate interest in the products and access services & products in the medium to long term

2. Exposure to beyond what I can offer who are accessing awareness or vision products and services

3. for the public services, commercial businesses and bigger corporations. When developing consultation could lead to a lot of possibilities of developing further and customised services & products over the long term. Also in partnership awareness social mission projects that will cover more people which could lead to greater interest to access greater services and products.

4. If the creative projects on a strong interest it could have more variety of potential variety of projects in the long-term.

Targets

Awareness

Modernising awareness initiatives and projects

Get connected with key in people awareness related or influential individuals

Connect with role models and high-profile people to support the social responsibility aspect of the awareness initiative

Vision

Modernising the presentation Focus services and design items

Develop new style creativity for potential services and designed items for sale

Develop prototype designed items

Develop a family of Creative design proposals

Other

Start influencing and testing products and potentially social mission activities & services

Unique selling point & Making work meaningful

Unique selling point

On the awareness side, it will be related to how to products and specific services are developed. Important aspects of the customised solutions are how education and training and research and consultation can lead to customised services and solutions.

Also to make a difference based on ground-level experiences and insights which can inspire and enable positive step forward in communities and Society. Also so to inform, inspire and in some cases empower.

On the vision side who is related to the design items which features original creativity.

Making work meaningful

The awareness element want to make a difference based on ground level sponsors which can inspire and enable positive steps forward in communities and in society. Also seems to inform inspire and some cases in empower.

Hatch Get Ready to start

Thank you for Reading

Aware+Vision

Aware+Vision is a Social Enterprise proposal

Written & Presented by Keith Mckenzie for Hatch Enterprise

