

CAYMAN BRAC - 2026

JULY 25, 2026 - AUGUST 1, 2026

Cayman Brac is part of the Cayman Islands. It lies in the Caribbean Sea about 90 miles north-east of Grand Cayman and 5 miles east of Little Cayman. It is about twelve miles long, with an average width of 1.2 miles. Its terrain is the most prominent of the three Cayman Islands due to "The Bluff" a limestone outcrop that rises steadily along the length of the island up to 141 feet above sea level at the eastern end. The island is named after its prominent feature, as "brac" is a Gaelic name for a bluff.
