Your website isn't just a business card-it's your #1 salesperson, brand ambassador, and trust-builder. Choosing the right web designer is one of the most important investments you'll make for your business.

Too many businesses end up with outdated, underperforming websites. This expert guide helps you avoid that trap and find a web designer who elevates your brand and drives results.

WHY IT MATTERS

- First impressions count: Poor design = lost trust and customers
- Conversion-focused sites generate leads and sales 24/7
- A scalable, strategic website grows with your business

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN A GREAT WEB DESIGNER

1. Check Their Portfolio - and Look Beyond Pretty Pictures
- Are their designs modern, responsive, and varied?
- Do they showcase real client projects?
- Have they worked in your industry or similar ones?

Pro Tip: Ask about real business outcomes from those projects.

2. Validate Reviews and References
- Look for consistent 5-star feedback on platforms like Google or LinkedIn
- Ask for 2-3 client references and talk to them directly
Ask: "Did they meet deadlines? Communicate well? Deliver business value?"

3. Prioritize UX and Conversion Strategy
- Ask about user journey mapping and conversion optimization
- Ensure they focus on mobile-first design and performance
- Inquire how they improve bounce rate or user engagement

4. Confirm Technical Know-How
- Ensure they understand page speed and SEO basics
- Verify they can build on platforms relevant to your needs
- Bonus: Ask if they provide training on managing the site

5. Post-Launch Support Isn't Optional
- Ask if they offer maintenance and support plans
- Make sure they'll fix bugs or make improvements post-launch
