September 14: NC Assistive Technology Program- Ja Medicott

Ja Medicott, an assistive technology specialist is the consultant at the NC Assistive Technology Center and is an expert in working with children and adults who have hearing or vision loss, speech or physical disabilities and who cannot fully access the activities of daily living we take for granted.... eating, working, accessing a computer etc. There will be demonstrations of devices and time for questions. This is an excellent opportunity to learn how you, your friends and family can benefit from the free services provided at the Assistive Technology Center.

September 21 and 28: Spiritualities in India- Tom McKnight

Why I Love India—Retired pastor Tom McKnight will share personal stories and photographs across 30 years of travel throughout India

Sept. 21—Hinduism, largely through the window of India's most sacred city, Varanasi

Sept. 28—Buddhism (Bodh Gaya, the site of the Buddha's Enlightenment) and Islam and Christianity (South India)

There will be opportunity to look through photographs and share questions. How might our different cultures speak to each other?
