PREPARE FOR WINTER

As the days draw in and the light softens, the way we live in our homes shifts with the season. Rooms that felt open and bright through summer close in earlier, and the spaces we love can start to feel dim and cold.

Good lighting is how you hold onto that warmth. By layering ambient, task and accent light — and choosing warm tones and soft, diffused finishes — an interior can stay bright, balanced and welcoming long after the sun has gone.

This collection is built for exactly that: four winter styles, from sculptural stone and organic form to warm glass and considered outdoor light, designed to carry your home comfortably through the colder months.

TRAVERTINE & MODERN STYLES

Natural stone meets clean, contemporary form. Cast-stone texture and soft sand-finished surfaces bring a quiet warmth to minimalist interiors, while integrated LED and 3CCT control keep every piece as considered as it is sculptural.

ORGANIC FORM

Lighting shaped by nature. Soft, sculptural silhouettes and tactile materials — fluted diffusers, woven and fabric shades, gently curved columns — bring a sense of calm and quiet character to a room. Forms made to be felt as much as seen.

WINTER WARMTH

The season's softest light. Smooth opal and frosted glass diffuse a warm, even glow, paired with finishes in antique gold and matt black — the simplest way to bring comfort and atmosphere to the rooms you live in most.
