WE ARE ALL LIVING TEMPLES

The basilica of St. John was the first great Christian temple built in Rome after the time of persecutions, in the 4th century. It is the cathedral of the Pope as Bishop of Rome.

Brothers and sisters:

1. The Basilica of St. John Lateran is a symbol of the unity of all Christian communities with Rome. It reminds us that we are all built upon the one foundation of Jesus Christ. Each one of us participates in the building up of the Church. Let us follow St. Augustine's advice: "When we remember the consecration of a Church, let us think about the words of St. Paul: 'We are all temples of the Holy Spirit.' May we always keep our souls beautiful and pure, for God wishes us to be his holy temples. This way the Holy Spirit will be happy living in our soul."

2. How many important things have happened right here, where we are now gathered to celebrate the Eucharist! Many of you were probably baptized in this church, and began here your journey as a Christian. Many of you made your first communion here, and since then have been participating every Sunday at mass. Perhaps some of you were confirmed here, or maybe even married. Many of you have come here to say your last goodbye and to pray for a deceased relative or friend. Some of you come just to pray before the tabernacle. This church is a visible sign of all of this and each church reminds us that God is present in the midst of men.

3. On the day of our baptism, we were each consecrated as a "Temple of God". This is why every man deserves to be respected, esteemed, and valued. "If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy that person; for the temple of God, which you are, is holy."

Each and every man and woman is sacred. We must never convert our brother into our slave or servant, into someone we cannot pardon, understand, and help. No one is a mere instrument, a means of production, or an object of pleasure for us. Each and every man and woman, whether he be a street cleaner or a movie star, a politician or an unemployed worker, young or old, a triumphant executive or a handicapped person, a woman of great beauty or ugliness, a policeman or a terrorist; whoever they may be, all men and women are "sacred", deserving of all our love, respect, and understanding.

May today's Eucharist make us live the foundations of our faith with even more intensity. May these foundations be renewed each time we enter this church or any other, each time we pass one by. Above all, may we bear fruit in the fulfillment of the commandments, especially the "new commandment" of charity. This is the foundation that sustains the Church that Christ founded. Amen.

SOMOS TEMPLOS VIVOS

La fiesta de la Dedicación de la Basílica de Letrán pasa normalmente bastante desapercibida, pero este año cobra notoriedad al caer en domingo. San Juan es el primer gran templo cristiano construido en Roma después de las persecuciones, en el siglo IV; es la catedral del Papa como obispo de Roma

Hermanas y hermanos:

1. La Basílica de San Juan de Letrán es símbolo de la unidad de todas las comunidades cristianas con Roma y nos recuerda que todos estamos contruidos sobre el mismo cimiento de Jesucristo. Cada uno de nosotros participamos en la construcción de la iglesia. San Agustín recomienda: "Cuando recordemos la Consagración de un templo, pensemos en aquello que dijo San Pablo: 'Cada uno de nosotros somos un templo del Espíritu Santo'. Ojalá conservemos nuestra alma bella y limpia, como le agrada a Dios que sean sus templos santos. Así vivirá contento el Espíritu Santo en nuestra alma".

2. Aquí, donde estamos reunidos ahora celebrando la Eucaristía, ¡cuántas cosas importantes han pasado! Seguramente que muchos de los presentes han sido bautizados en este templo, y han iniciado así su camino cristiano. Muchos también han recibido aquí la primera comunión y desde aquella primera vez han continuado participando cada domingo en la Misa. Quizá también han recibido aquí la confirmación, o han celebrado su matrimonio. Y más de una vez han venido a decir el último adiós, y a rezar, por algún pariente o amigo difunto. O han entrado aquí a rezar ante el sagrario. Este templo es una señal visible de todo esto y todas las iglesias nos recuerdan que Dios está presente en medio de los hombres.

3. Todos nosotros hemos sido consagrados "templo de Dios" el día de nuestro bautismo. Por esa razón todo hombre merece respeto, estimación, valoración. "Si alguno destruye el templo de Dios, Él lo destruirá porque el templo de Dios es santo: ese templo son ustedes".

Cada hombre y cada mujer son sagrados. No podemos convertir a nuestro hermano en esclavo o servidor nuestro, en alguien a quien no sabemos perdonar, comprender, ayudar. Nadie es un instrumento, un productor o un objeto de placer para nosotros. Cada hombre y cada mujer, sea barrendero o artista de cine, sea gobernante o un obrero sin trabajo, sea viejo o niño, sea un ejecutivo triunfante o un minusválido, sea una mujer llena de belleza o una mujer fea, sea un policía o un terrorista, todos son "sagrados", son templo de Dios. Merecedores de todo amor, de todo respeto, de toda comprensión.

Que la Eucaristía de hoy nos haga vivir más intensamente los cimientos de nuestra fe. Que siempre que entremos en esta iglesia, o en cualquier otra iglesia, o siempre que pasemos por delante de la misma, se renueven estos cimientos. Sobre todo debemos dar frutos en el cumplimiento de los mandamientos, especialmente del mandamiento "nuevo" de la caridad que es el cimiento que sostiene a la Iglesia fundada por Cristo. Así sea.
