

150+ word bio:

Who would have ever known that the little girl called "Jenny Who Ain't Got a Penny," would now be recognized as Lady Jen, DC (Dame Commander), the result of her dedication to humanitarian and transformational experiences, and would duly position her to be a Knighted member of The Royal and Sovereign House of Cappadocia under The Royal Order of Constantine The Great and St. Helen, Knighted by H.R.H. D. Prince Rafael Andujar y Vilches, Ph.D., a descendent of Constantine the Great. Embodying a spirit of selfless service and boundless compassion, Dame Jen exemplifies a life lived with intention, as she continues impacting other's lives with an open heart and unwavering generosity, while also becoming a numerous #1 Amazon best-selling author, host of 3 top ranking podcasts, and producer and host of her TV show Business on the Vine.

Affectionately known as The Scaling Architect, Lady Jen is the Leading Expert in mentoring established, high-revenue businesses that are ready to scale by creating a company that runs smoothly without being CEO-dependent—while achieving massive revenue growth to gain more freedom and fulfillment for the owner.

Clients pay more than $100,000 for one VIP Weekend with Lady Jen, where she consults businesses how to scale their company exponentially while attaining personal freedom. When you listen to her, you will immediately recognize that she is one the most masterful, heart-centered communicators and mentors you have ever heard.

Devotion to her philanthropy and charity work, ballroom dancing, enjoying local wineries, boating, traveling, and spending time with her family is what Lady Jen cherishes most in her life. Her motto is "Live your Legacy while you are building it!"