EARLY YOUNGSTOWN

Youngstown, NY, situated on the Niagara River at Lake Ontario, is located at the most northwest corner of New York State. Old Fort Niagara State Park borders the Village of Youngstown's northern line. The castle at Fort Niagara was built by the French in 1726. The area was part of the pre-revolutionary history, the "French & Indian War" (1754-1763), and the "War of 1812" (1812-1815).

The Village area was settled by colonials in the 1790's. Businesses were dry goods, inn-keeping, taverns, fishing and wagon shops. It was named Youngstown when in 1808 a Canadian businessman named John Young purchased most of what is now called the Village of Youngstown.

YOUNGSTOWN TODAY

With its proximity to Lake Ontario, the Niagara River, and Fort Niagara - Youngstown has a thriving waterfront, and a unique and attractive business district. Boat launching facilities and two public waterfront parks are free to enjoy. Sunsets are spectacular. Water Street serves as a gateway to some of the best sailing, boating, and fishing waters in the Northeast.

Main Street and Lockport Streets feature historic buildings, shops, and restaurants. East on Lockport Street you'll find farm markets with seasonal fresh grown produce and "you-pick" orchards.

Five Village parks (Falkner, Veterans, Constitution, North & South waterfront), and three New York State parks provide visitors with ample leisure activities, including swimming, camping, kayaking, picnicking, cycling, cross country skiing and sledding opportunities.

Youngstown was named
"Best Small Village" of WNY a few years back.

Visitors often say "You know - I could live here!"

Living up to its motto, Youngstown is truly
"YOUNG IN SPIRIT, AGELESS IN PRIDE"
