Souper Bowl of Caring

Super Heroes helping the Homeless

Calling all Super Heroes! The annual Souper Bowl of Caring campaign will take place nationwide on Sunday February 8th, raising millions for local food charities. Prince of Peace will celebrate Super Bowl Sunday with a collection for food and dollars to aid homelessness in our community.

Sunday school children and our congregation can be Super Heroes by bringing in food to help the Journeys facility feed hungry clients. Their day site and overnight shelter is in need of healthy snacks of granola bars, dried fruit and nuts, bottled water and juice boxes for hydration, shelf stable milk, and protein drinks for nutrition on the go and non-perishable foods like beans, pasta, rice, and peanut butter.

Food and monetary donations can be brought into church on game day February 8th and the following Sunday February 15th. Let's all fight hunger on game day to make a SUPER difference in the lives of area homeless.

Board of Stewardship

Thoughts Related to the Recent Pledge Season

by Will Damico

We currently have received 61 pledges (versus 80 received last year) and are almost $97,000 behind last year's pledge total. This shortage will seriously impact the work we do at Prince of Peace and in the community. Many thanks to those who have already made their pledge, but it's not too late to do so for the coming year (see links below).

I want to pass on a few thoughts about giving and specifically pledging. As Pastor Carla Thompson Powell included in her sermon December 7, we cannot rely on our own pedigree or resources but rather on the love of God. The acts of pledging and giving are acts of worship in keeping with our depending on God to meet our needs rather than our own strength and resources.

There is truth that we cannot meet all of our needs with just the resources and talents we can amass or develop but must depend on community. Back when I was in therapy during the end of my first marriage, my therapist challenged me to do something for myself. I took training to help seniors to do their taxes and then helped two people to fill out their tax forms. When I reported this to my therapist, she was disappointed in my choice. It turns out that further research has shown that helping others is one of the best ways to make yourself feel better.

I think this is because God created us to live in community, sharing the gifts he gave each of us. It is a model and reminder that we cannot meet all our needs on our own. However, it is in trusting that God will provide what we need most that only he can provide – forgiveness for our sins.

Thanks again if you have already made your monetary and time and talents pledges, even if you did not use our pledge form.

If you have not made your pledges yet, the links are; Monetary Pledge Form and Time and Talents.

Prince of Peace, like any church, needs both monetary donations and the time and talents of our members to function. One is not more important than the other. Even if you don't have much money to give, you do have talents we need. I also want to note that if you don't feel like you can make a commitment to a year-round volunteer position, you have special talents or abilities that we need for shorter term projects so we are asking you to identify these talents and what kinds of commitments you can make. May you be blessed as you search your hearts and listen in the quiet spaces and times for those whispers of guidance from God as you fill out the two forms.

If you have any questions or suggestions, email bdstewardship@princeofpeace.net.

Schaumburg Police Department Safety Presentation

Wednesday, February 4 @ 7:00pm

at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church

All Members of the Community are Invited.

Please attend to listen to a highly informative and free presentation by members of the Schaumburg Police Department on home safety, internet safety, phone safety, and overall safety measures in our village.

Prince of Peace financial information for the six months ending December 31, 2025

-YTD, our total expenses continue to exceed the funds received, resulting in a higher deficit than anticipated. While we expected an overall operating deficit of $18 thousand at this point in the year, we have instead incurred a loss of $31 thousand. The year-to-date loss for church operations stands at $50.5 thousand. In contrast, the preschool has achieved a positive year-to-date result of $19.5 thousand, which is helping to offset some of our overall losses. Although our current cash reserves and investments are sufficient to cover all expenses, we remain concerned about the ongoing depletion of these reserves over the past four to five years. To address this issue, we are actively evaluating measures such as increasing fundraising efforts, seeking alternative revenue sources, and carefully reviewing our spending to ensure long-term sustainability.

-Tithes and offerings have fallen short of budget by $33 thousand for the six months ending December 31, 2025. If this trend continues for the next six months, we could end the year with $410 thousand total offerings, compared to the expected $474 thousand. This would reduce overall operating results by an additional $31 thousand.

-Facility usage and Other Board revenue is higher than budget primarily due to investment income and additional facility revenue as the Church focuses on alternative sources of revenue and promoting Prince of Peace as a location for meetings and events.

- We have used $30 thousand of unrestricted funds during the past six months and may need to transfer money from Savings soon.

-Executive/Shared Services expenses are under budget $17.7 thousand, due primarily to reduced costs resulting from Pastor's leave of absence. Starting mid-November, we are no longer paying her salary or benefits, as she is covered under disability insurance.

-Property expenses are higher than budget primarily due to unplanned fire alarm maintenance, worship center lighting, boiler maintenance, and other urgent repairs (drainage /roof leak issues).

If you have any questions, ideas, or feedback regarding the numbers, please come to our congregational meeting on February 1, contact any council member or Carol Pfeifer or Lisa Benson.

Music Notes...

by Scott Uddenberg

The Gospel lesson on February 25th, the last Sunday in Epiphany, takes us to one of the most astonishing moments in the Gospels—the Transfiguration of Jesus on the mountain. Peter, James, and John witnessed something that defied all expectations. In Matthew 17:1-9, Jesus was "transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and his clothes became as white as the light." Moses and Elijah appeared. A bright cloud overshadowed them. God's voice thundered from heaven: "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased. Listen to him!"

The disciples were terrified. They fell facedown, overwhelmed by glory they couldn't comprehend. Everything they thought they understood about their teacher was suddenly revealed to be so much more.

If you're a Bears fan, as many of you are aware that I am, you might have felt a tiny echo of that shock recently when Chicago mounted an improbable comeback against their historic rivals, the Packers. One moment, all seemed lost. The next, the impossible was happening before your eyes. Disbelief turned to astonishment, then to overwhelming joy. You could hardly process what you were witnessing.

Of course, no football game compares to encountering the divine glory of Christ! But that feeling—when reality suddenly exceeds everything you dared to hope—gives us a small window into what the disciples experienced. They thought they knew Jesus. They'd walked with him, eaten with him, heard his teachings. But on that mountain, they saw who he truly was: the radiant Son of God, standing with the greatest prophets of Israel, affirmed by the Father himself.

The Transfiguration reminds us that following Jesus means being prepared for moments when he reveals himself in ways that shatter our expectations. His glory, his power, his love—they're always greater than we imagine. And when we catch even a glimpse of his true nature, it changes everything.

As we reflect on this passage this week, let's ask ourselves: Are we open to being amazed by Jesus? Have we grown too comfortable with a scaled-down version of who he is? The same Christ who shone with divine glory on that mountain walks with us today, and he's still in the business of doing the impossible.

Join our musical ensembles, be a part of worship here at Prince of Peace. Lenten Wednesday worship services will once again be Holden Evening Prayer, beginning February 25th.

Stephen Ministry USA! USA! USA!

By Janet Ichida

"Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training." -1 Corinthians 9:25a

On February 6, many of us will be tuned into the winter Olympics, this time with an Italian accent. I can't wait for the competition to begin. My TV will be tuned to skiing, skating, snowboarding and yes, even curling. I remember watching in national pride the 1980 "Miracle on Ice" men's hockey team earn a silver medal. Many of us quickly purchased Olympic T-shirts and learned all the names of that very special team. It would be wonderful if we could get another hero.

There is beauty in joining others with big hopes for the same team. This nation needs to come together and have some pride. Back in 1980, nobody cared who was a republican or democrat. Nobody interrupted game time. That was before Stephanie was even born, let alone my grandsons. You did know I was a grandma, didn't you? If you are too young to remember this frenzy, check online. I hope that excitement will come again this year.

It's always good to tune to the opening ceremony where you see who is selected to carry our flag into the arena. Eyes are glued to the TV while you watch in fascination the big cauldron being lit. You wonder which athletes will catch the eyes of our country. Texts about the national uniforms will probably fill our text boxes. There is no way I could ever have been an Olympian. I don't have the physical prowess or any athletic ability. Now, if there was an event about shopping or being a grandma, I might stand a chance. What events would you be in?

Unfortunately, complaints against the government are heard every day at work or in restaurants. Debate can easily grow heated. We also frequently groan about the cost of groceries, our spouses, politicians, and misbehavior of our kids. Our marital status and job situations get our blood pressure quickly boiling. We can get depressed, angry, or frustrated within minutes. We need help.

Stephen Ministers may help those moods. Consider calling to get a trained Stephen Minister assigned to you. (Just don't call during some key competition.) We will be glad to sit and listen to your quandary as long as it isn't against one of our national teams. Generally, a Stephen Minister will meet with you for about an hour each week at a location of your choosing. Confidentiality is guaranteed. So, go USA! Listen for the National Anthem to be played while flags wave in glory. Let's come together to enjoy the show.

PoP for Confirmation and Emerge

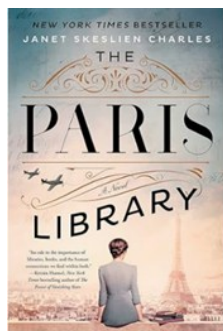

by Emily Uddenberg

"For as in one body we have many members, and the members do not all have the same function, so we, though many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another."

—Romans 12:4-5

Community has been on my mind lately: how community can bring safety, love, understanding, most especially in a spiritual community. I am reminded of the importance of such communities to our young people every time our Emerge kids come together on a Sunday evening. In a lot of cases, these kids go to different schools, so our meetings are an opportunity to be with such important friends. This community's foundation is so strong because what is stronger than faith? How many people beyond our congregation say in workplaces, can we share deep faithful ties like a youth group does? I know I felt this way growing up, that church relationships just hit differently. You could speak without a filter about anything you were afraid to say within school hallways because the communities almost never intersected. That's what I mean when I say safety within this community. There are still immensely close bonds to people from church that I cherish.

Community means you do not have to go through anything alone; you do not have to do it all yourself, you can take care of your people. We do not have the same function, but we all support and can be supported for all the fabulous moments and the moments that are a bummer. Community means problem solving, giving yourself and others grace and space to learn and grow. If we let it, community can mean solving the world's problems. God is the guiding center, and we all are pieces of God's plan. Community means letting each of us bring our strengths forward in an ideal moment. Let us be ideal examples of letting the community do its magic and continue creating a place where the community can flourish.

Prince of Peace Book Club Selection for February 2026

Book Selection: “The Paris Library” by Janet Skeslien Charles

Our reading selection for this month is The Paris Library by Janet Skeslien Charles. This novel has been described as a moving and unforgettable ode to the importance of libraries, books, and the human connections we form through them. Kristin Harmel, a New York Times bestselling author, praised the work for its heart-felt tribute to the transformative power of literature and community.

About the Book

The Paris Library unfolds across two timelines:

Paris, 1939: The story introduces Odile Souchet, a young and ambitious woman whose life seems idyllic. She enjoys the company of her handsome police officer boyfriend and works her dream job at the American Library in Paris. However, when Nazi forces occupy the city, Odile faces the loss of everything she holds dear, including her cherished library. Together with her fellow librarians, she joins the Resistance, wielding books as her most powerful weapons. As the war concludes, Odile finds herself confronting not only the aftermath of conflict but also the painful experience of betrayal.

Montana, 1983: In a small town in Montana, Lily, a lonely teenager longing for adventure, becomes intrigued by her reclusive, elderly neighbor. As Lily delves deeper into her neighbor’s mysterious history, she discovers that they share a love of language, similar desires, and even intense jealousy. Unbeknownst to Lily, a dark secret from the past intimately links their lives.

Discussion Details

During our meetings, we will explore the novel’s themes, including the resilience of communities, the enduring value of books and libraries, and the ways in which our personal histories intertwine. We look forward to seeing you at one or both sessions for an engaging discussion.

Thank You Messages from Our Mission Partners

by Chris Chason

We received a thank you note from the Augustana Open Arms office in Chicago for our participation in the Christmas Gift Giving Project for children in foster care. We provided gifts for 30 children. Special thanks go out to the shoppers who all turned in their gifts quickly! We sent them down in time for the packages to be distributed at the holiday party sponsored by the staff on December 13th.

Excerpts from the note: “On behalf of Lutheran Social Services of Illinois, we extend our heartfelt gratitude for your generous contribution to our 2025 Christmas Gift Giving Project. Your support has made a difference in the lives of our Youth in Care, bringing joy and hope during this special season. Thank you for partnering with us to make a positive impact. We look forward to continuing this relationship and working together to transform lives....”

We received a thank you note from Viator House of Hospitality for our winter coat donations, along with some bedding supplies and clothes.

Excerpts from the note: “Thank you for partnering with us as we accompany young, male immigrants in need of housing, case management, and supportive services. Many of them have fled persecution, violence, and unrest in their home countries and are in the process of seeking asylum. Because of people like you, since opening in January 2017, more than 121 men from more than 28 nations have found success in school, work opportunities, and relief from trauma, while building lives that will contribute to our nation.”

The notes are on display on the bulletin board in the Fellowship Hall.
