Outer Burial Container Selection

Effective Date: April 1, 2026

Prices are subject to change without notice

In most areas of the country, state or local law does not require you to purchase a container to surround the casket in the grave. However, many cemeteries require that you have such a container so that the grave does not sink. Either a grave liner or a burial vault will satisfy these requirements.

The difference:

A concrete grave liner is designed to support the weight of the dirt above it while having drainage holes to allow liquids and air to drain out of the bottom of the non-sealed unit.

Most burial vaults have a seal along with a plastic-type inner liner to help deter outside liquid(s) and air from entering the vault. It also comes in a variety of different finishes and with a selected emblem, name, and dates (years only) applied to the lid for an added presentation at the gravesite.
