FEAST OF ST ANTHONY

Dear friends in Christ,

This weekend, on Saturday June 13, we celebrate the Feast of St. Anthony. St. Anthony of Padua is the patron of our parish family Church of St. Anthony in Carnation.

We don't usually get the opportunity to celebrate this feast on the weekend because most often the feasts of the Easter Season, Holy Trinity or Corpus Christi take precedence. This year, however, the calendar allows us to celebrate it at St. Anthony at the Saturday evening 5pm Mass. This occasion gives us the opportunity to celebrate all the good work God has done in and through the people at St. Anthony - Carnation. Since 1914, St. Anthony Mission has been a great witness of Catholic faith in the valley. It was said of the early Christians, "See how they love one another!" and that is certainly true of the parishioners of St. Anthony Mission. May God bless all those wonderful faithful who have lived out the Gospel there, in a beautiful way.

St. Anthony of Padua was born in Lisbon around 1195 and died near the city of gates of Padua on June 13, 1231. So great was his reputation for holiness and the miracles attributed to him that he was canonized just one year later in 1232. A few years ago, Pope Benedict reflected on the preaching and teaching of St. Anthony of Padua in one of his Wednesday audiences. Here is an excerpt of what he had to say of this great saint:

In these Sermons, St. Anthony speaks of prayer as of a loving relationship that impels man to speak gently with the Lord, creating an ineffable joy that sweetly enfolds the soul in prayer. Anthony reminds us that prayer requires an atmosphere of silence, which does not mean distance from external noise but rather is an interior experience that aims to remove the distractions caused by a soul's anxieties, thereby creating silence in the soul itself. According to this prominent Franciscan Doctor's teaching, prayer is structured in four indispensable attitudes which in Anthony's Latin are defined as obsecratio, oratio, postulatio, gratiarum actio. We might translate them in the following manner. The first step in prayer is confidently opening one's heart to God; this is not merely accepting a word but opening one's heart to God's presence. Next, is speaking with him affectionately, seeing him present with oneself; then a very natural thing presenting our needs to him; and lastly, praising and thanking him...

...Anthony writes further: "Charity is the soul of faith, it gives it life; without love, faith dies" (Sermones Dominicales et Festivi II, Messagero, Padua 1979, p. 37).

It is only the prayerful soul that can progress in spiritual life: this is the privileged object of St. Anthony's preaching. He is thoroughly familiar with the shortcomings of human nature, with our tendency to lapse into sin, which is why he continuously urges us to fight the inclination to avarice, pride and impurity; instead of practicing the virtues of poverty and generosity, of humility and obedience, of chastity and of purity. At the beginning of the 13th century, in the context of the rebirth of the city and the flourishing of trade, the number of people who were insensitive to the needs of the poor increased. This is why on various occasions Anthony invites the faithful to think of the true riches, those of the heart, which make people good and merciful and permit them to lay up treasure in Heaven. "O rich people", he urged them, "befriend... the poor, welcome them into your homes: it will subsequently be they who receive you in the eternal tabernacles in which is the beauty of peace, the confidence of security and the opulent tranquillity of eternal satiety" (ibid., p. 29)...

St. Anthony, in the school of Francis, always put Christ at the centre of his life and thinking, of his action and of his preaching...St. Anthony writes: "Christ who is your life is hanging before you, so that you may look at the Cross as in a mirror. There you will be able to know how mortal were your wounds, that no medicine other than the Blood of the Son of God could heal. If you look closely, you will be able to realize how great your human dignity and your value are.... Nowhere other than looking at himself in the mirror of the Cross can man better understand how much he is worth" (Sermones Dominicales et Festivi III, pp. 213-214).

PRAYERS AND CONGRATULATIONS TO GRADUATES

At this time of year, many of our young people are graduating from 8th grade, high school or college and moving on to new adventures in their lives. Congratulate on your accomplishments! We thank God for the blessings he has bestowed upon you. Let us all pray for them. Let us pray that God will bless them and guide them in their new endeavors. Let us pray that they may use their gifts at the service of God and neighbor, and that they may know the joy and peace that comes from following the Lord where he leads. Again, congratulations to all who are graduating! May God be with you always!

Blessings on your week!
Fr. Johnson

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

ELEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

2 SM 12:7-10, 13; PS 32:1-2, 5, 7, 11; GAL 2:16, 19-21; LK 7:36—8:3

Today's readings center on the powerful theme of mercy — and the response that mercy calls forth from us.

In the Gospel, we encounter the well-known account of the sinful woman who approaches Jesus with humility and love. She recognizes her need for mercy and responds with a profound expression of gratitude.

Jesus contrasts her response with that of others who fail to recognize their need for forgiveness. The difference is striking — those who understand the depth of God's mercy love more deeply.

This is a powerful lesson for us as Christian stewards. Everything we have is a gift, and among the greatest of these gifts is God's mercy. In the first reading, King David is confronted with his sin and responds with repentance. He recognizes his need for God's mercy and receives it. This is the beginning of transformation.

St. Paul reminds us that our lives are now lived "in Christ." This means our priorities must change. We are no longer centered on ourselves, but on the One who has given everything for us.

When we truly grasp the mercy we have received, our response cannot be indifference. It must be gratitude expressed through action. We are called to use our time, talent, and treasure in service to God and others.

The stewardship way of life is a natural response to God's mercy. The more we recognize what we have been given, the more generously we will give. Let us ask for the grace to recognize God's mercy more deeply in our lives — and to respond with generous, grateful hearts.

MINISTRY NEWS

DOUBLE YOUR IMPACT THROUGH CORPORATE MATCHING

Did you know your employer may match your charitable donations to St. Jude & St. Vincent de Paul—potentially doubling your impact? Employers in the area that offer matching gifts include Microsoft, Boeing, Google, Apple, Amazon, Starbucks, Alaska Airlines, T-Mobile, Expedia, Nordstrom, Adobe, Salesforce, and many others.

Microsoft employees have a special advantage: your company matches up to $15,000 annually — including regular monthly donations and Annual Catholic Appeal gifts. Contact the parish office for instructions.

Most other employers require donations funding a community service ministry rather than the parish directly. Good news: if your employer's donation program is powered by Benevity, St. Jude's three listed projects all qualify — St. Vincent de Paul, Refugee Ministry, and Safe Parking. You can have a huge impact on these ministries by taking advantage of these generous matching programs.

How it works:

1. Log into your company's giving portal (many use Benevity)
2. Search St. Jude Catholic Church or EIN: 91-1052558
3. Select a ministry and submit

You can also donate to St Vincent de Paul online using the QR code and clicking fund 118-St Vincent de Paul if your company does not have a matching program. If you are interested in joining our team of Vincentians, please contact Diane Murphy via email: svdp@stjude-redmond.org
