Dear friends in Christ,
I want to take this opportunity to thank all those who worked to make the events last week in our parishes such a success: Our Lady of Velankanni at St. Jude, the Parish Picnic at Holy Innocents and the Fall Potluck and Listening Session at St. Anthony. Though things had to be adjusted because of the rain, nothing could dampen the spirits and devotion of our people. It was so great to see everyone working together in a wonderful way to celebrate our faith and fellowship in Christ.

Last week's Gospel spoke of the centrality of mercy and forgiveness to the life of faith. Pope Leo reflected beautifully on this important aspect of Christianity in his weekly talk at the Angelus:

Today's Gospel speaks to us of forgiveness, which is a fundamental feature of the Christian life. Jesus taught and exemplified forgiveness even on the cross, where he prayed to the Father for his persecutors with the familiar words: "Forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing" (Lk 23:34).

In today's passage, Peter asks the Master precisely about this question: "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times?" (Mt 18:21). His words reveal a generous heart, for the number seven symbolizes fullness in the Bible, and "forgiving seven times" means forgiving abundantly. Jesus' response, however, goes even further: "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven" (v. 22); in other words, beyond all limits, without measure.

To clarify his point further, the Savior tells the parable of a servant who owed his master a large debt that was practically impossible to pay. Although his own debt was forgiven out of pure mercy, he did not extend the same mercy toward one of his fellow servants, and for this he was rebuked and severely punished (vv. 23-30).

With these words, Jesus reminds us that gift and forgiveness are the foundation of our existence. All things are given to us by God out of pure love, and none of us can claim to be perfect in responding to such goodness.

For this reason, gratuitousness — which is the source of our existence — is also the best rule for our life together. We experience this every day. Forgiveness is indispensable, and without it, we cannot live in peace. Sooner or later conflicts, accusations, grudges and acts of vengeance emerge in our hearts and among people, and these acts destroy relationships, divide families and unleash wars.

Only forgiveness sets us free and restores the light, even where human material and moral poverty has darkened the horizon and made the path uncertain. Forgiveness, like a gentle breeze, sweeps away even the thickest clouds until the sun shines once more. Saint Peter himself experienced this many times in his life; in particular, when — after denying and abandoning Jesus during the Passion — he encountered the risen Lord on the shore of the lake and heard him ask just one question: "Simon ... do you love me?" (Jn 21:15). This was accompanied by an invitation, "follow me!" (v. 19), which was the same invitation given on the occasion of their first encounter. It was as if nothing had happened. This love, which forgives and heals, would mark for the first of the Apostles, the confirmation of his mission.

Let us therefore ask the Virgin Mary, Mother of Mercy, to help us forgive — always, even when it is difficult to take the first step — and to spread, with courage and perseverance, the serene and healing light of love that overcomes hatred and disarms all resentment. POPE LEO XVI

Finally, many thanks to those who completed the survey. We are now compiling and synthesizing the results.

Thanks too, to all who participated in the Listening Session last Saturday at St. Anthony. It was a wonderful session and we appreciate your taking time to share your input. This weekend and next we have Listening Sessions at St. Jude and Holy Innocents. I hope you can come and participate in one of them! Please remember to pray for the Partners in the Gospel process: that we may grow together in our faithfulness to the Lord's mission. Blessings on your week!

Fr Johnson

The aim of this phase of the One Parish Plan is to develop a shared understanding and appreciation of the history, the people, the gifts, and the ministries central to each parish and to explore the opportunities and challenges we face today.

One Parish Plan: Phase 1

Who Are We?

Before we discern our future, we need to understand who we are today.

Our Parish Family of St. Jude, Holy Innocents, and St. Anthony has begun the “Who Are We?” phase of the One Parish Plan. Before we discern where God is calling us, we first need to understand who we are today. This stage of the process asks us to take a prayerful look at our identity as a parish. This is a period of listening and discernment, as we ask ourselves: what are the gifts God has given us? How are we growing spiritually? How are we doing as a community if our aim is to carry out the mission of Christ together?

What gifts, traditions, strengths and ministries has God given our communities?

As we listen to one another, we have an opportunity to recognize the many ways God is already at work among us, to name the things that make each of our communities unique, and to begin discerning how we might carry Christ’s mission forward together.

“Father’s Five”

As we go through this process,
Father Johnson implores five actions of every parishioner:

- Deepen your relationship with God. For this process to be a success, we will all need to renew our faith life: our prayer, our practice of the sacraments, our study of the faith, our works of charity and mercy.
- Pray for the Partners in the Gospel Process, that it may bear fruit in Archdiocese, in our Churches and in our discipleship – that it will help us become better Catholics and evangelists.
- Participate in the process, take the surveys, participate in the listening session, pray over the questions asked, listen to your fellow parishioners, discern the movement of the Holy Spirit.
- Be open to the movements of the Holy Spirit and his guidance and change. Jesus tells us the way to heaven is through taking up our cross and following him, which means we have to die to self to experience the new life of the resurrection.
- Finally, pray for vocations to the priesthood and encourage them in your own families and in our churches.

ST ANTHONY

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

IS 55:6-9; PS 145:2-3, 8-9, 17-18; PHIL 1:20C-24, 27A; MT 20:1-16A

Though we can never fully comprehend the perfection of God and His ways, Sacred Scripture reminds us that God's ways are often very different from our own. In our First Reading from Isaiah, the Lord declares, "My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways my ways." As His disciples, we are called to see life from God's perspective, using our time, talents, and treasure with eternity in mind. In today's Gospel, Jesus illustrates this divine perspective through the parable of the workers in the vineyard. Some labor all day, while others are called only near the end of the day.

Yet the landowner gives each worker the same wage.

Those who worked the longest grumble because they are thinking according to human standards rather than God's generosity. The same temptation can affect us.

We may compare ourselves to others and wonder whether everyone else is contributing as much as we are at home, in our parish, or in our community. Instead, we should remember what a privilege it is to have been invited into the Lord's vineyard. Living the stewardship way of life fills our lives with meaning, purpose, and lasting joy.

May we thank God each day for calling us to share in His work.
