PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT 2023-2024

---

There are three factors identified as the three main “pillars” that should be included in any program designed to treat complex trauma. (continued below)

TBRI continued

These are (a) development of safety, (b) promotion of healing relationships, and (c) teaching of self-management and coping skills. These elements parallel the three evidence-based principles of TBRI.

The three TBRI principles:

3. Correction - attention to behavioral needs.
