

Dear Praying Supporters,

Our travel is a regular part of the Reseeding America Ministry, and May was certainly a busy month of travel. We began at Faith Baptist Church in Pikeville, Tennessee, where I had the privilege of preaching for their Missions Conference. The church graciously provided a beautiful missions house for our four-day stay, and Jennifer and I were blessed by the fellowship with Pastor and Mrs. Ashburn, the Faith Baptist members, and the missionaries who attended. While we were there, I also enjoyed the opportunity to hike Black Mountain on the Cumberland Trail with my hiking guide Larry Angel. (See picture at left)

From Pikeville, we traveled to Life Gate Baptist Church in Arab, Alabama, where Pastor Jeff Mims and his congregation hosted a meeting for the Independent Baptist Friends of Alabama. I spoke in two sessions about the need for church planting across America. This group of pastors and Christian workers is doing a tremendous job encouraging and assisting new churches throughout their state.

Later in the month, I flew into Wilmington, North Carolina, picked up a rental car, and drove to Faith Independent Baptist Church in Magnolia, North Carolina, where Ray Kennedy serves as pastor. This church supports several of our Reseeding America church planters. During their “Church Planting Sunday,” I once again had the privilege of preaching on one of my favorite subjects—church planting. Faith Independent Baptist Church is a country church with a tremendous heart for seeing new Bible-preaching churches established across the United States.

After arriving back home, it was time to pack the car again as Jennifer and I drove to Monticello, Georgia, for a Reseeding America Sunday at Enon Baptist Church. Pastor Rich Miller has been faithfully working to restart this church. We enjoyed our time with the church family, and the attendance was strong in both the morning and evening services.

As May ended, we began preparing for BIMi Candidate School. I always enjoy teaching church planting to the second-year candidates who are in the final year of deputation before leaving for their fields of service. I currently serve as the USA Director and Far North Director for Baptist International Missions, and it was a joy for Jennifer and me to have one new female missionary candidate accepted for the USA this year and one new female candidate accepted for the Far North. Reseeding America church planter Jordan McDowell married Rishia Anderson in March, so Rishia is now officially part of our ministry. Last December, Isaiah Lockwood was accepted as a missionary to Greenland. He and Julia Bohman are now engaged and will be married in September. Julia feels called to Greenland and she also attended Candidate School and is now a BIMi missionary as well. God is still calling people to His harvest field! Thank you for your faithful prayers and support.
