

FIND YOUR SHUTTLE

Where to board at every pickup location, and how to tell your bus from the one parked behind it. This guide holds for the whole season — your departure time is on your ticket, not in here, because times change from game to game.

THREE THINGS TO KNOW

1. Your ticket has a code. Your bus has the same code in the windshield, in your location's colour. If the two do not match, it is not your bus — check with the driver before you board.
2. Every shuttle at a location loads from one spot, in both directions. It is marked with a red arrow on that location's map in this guide.
3. After the game your shuttle leaves 30 minutes after the final whistle, or at its scheduled time — whichever is later. If everyone is aboard before then, it goes.

How to find your bus

Every shuttle has a location, a code and a colour. Learn to read the code once and you will never board the wrong bus.

READING A CODE

LNS-OUT-2

LNS

Your pickup location. Three letters, never changes, and it carries that location's colour.

OUT

IN goes to the stadium. OUT brings you home afterwards.

2

Which departure of the day it is. This is the part that changes game to game — match all of it.

WHERE THE CODE APPEARS

On your ticket, beside your departure time. In the windshield of the shuttle, on a printed placard. On the curb at the stadium, on the card clipped into the orange meter hood. The same string, in all three places.

SAY THE COLOUR OUT LOUD

Gold, light blue, green, pink. Always say the colour and the code — roughly one man in twelve cannot separate the green from the gold, and a black-and-white printout carries no colour at all. The code never lets you down.

Times are not in this guide, and that is deliberate. Departure times are set once kickoff is confirmed and can be revised in the week of a game. The time you travel on is the one on your confirmation and on the booking page — never a time written on a sign by hand.

Lincoln Northwest High School

NW 49th St & W Holdrege St

South lot — nearest NW 48th St & W Vine St, by Union Bank Stadium

The red arrow marks the boarding point. Every shuttle serving this location loads here, in both directions.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Look for the gold LNW in the windshield. Your ticket shows the same code. The number on the end is which departure it is — match all of it, not just the three letters.

Board in the south lot, not at the main school entrance on W Holdrege St. That entrance is at the north end of the campus, about half a mile from where the shuttle waits. Come in from W Vine St or NW 48th St and follow the map.

Lincoln North Star High School

N 33rd St & Fletcher Ave

Southeast corner of the parking lot

The red arrow marks the boarding point. Every shuttle serving this location loads here, in both directions.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Look for the light blue LNS in the windshield. Your ticket shows the same code. The number on the end is which departure it is — match all of it, not just the three letters.

More than one shuttle runs from this lot, sometimes only minutes apart, and they all load from the same corner. Match the whole code on your ticket — LNS-OUT-1 and LNS-OUT-2 are different buses leaving at different times.

SouthPointe Pavilions

S 29th St & Zermatt Dr

On Zermatt Dr, opposite Von Maur

The red arrow marks the boarding point. Every shuttle serving this location loads here, in both directions.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Look for the green SPT in the windshield. Your ticket shows the same code. The number on the end is which departure it is — match all of it, not just the three letters.

Board at the curb on Zermatt Dr — not at the store entrance and not in the main parking field. This is the longest run on the network and the route crosses the rail line, so give yourself a little more time than you think.

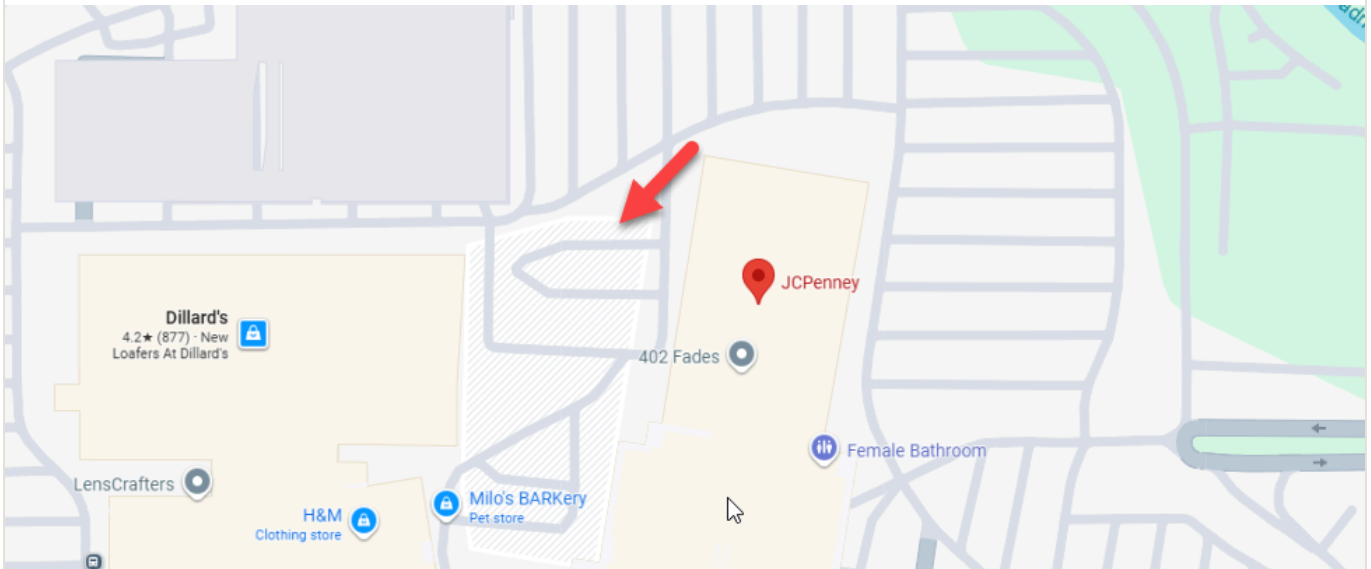

Gateway Mall

GWY

PINK

61st St & O St

The drive lane between the JCPenney and Dillard's buildings

The red arrow marks the boarding point. Every shuttle serving this location loads here, in both directions.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Look for the pink GWY in the windshield. Your ticket shows the same code. The number on the end is which departure it is — match all of it, not just the three letters.

61st & O St is the mall entrance, not the boarding point. Come in there and continue to the spot marked on the map. This curb can hold more than one shuttle at a time, so check your whole code before you step on.

At the stadium

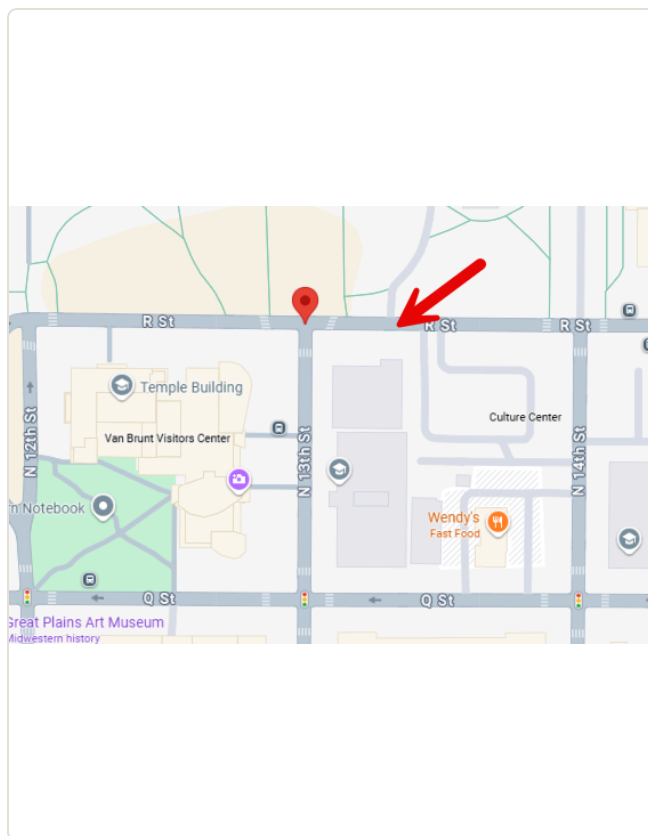

Every location is dropped off and picked up in the same place, so the walk is the same whichever lot you came from.

R St, between N 13th St and N 14th St

North side of R St, by the Culture Center — a short walk from Memorial Stadium

FINDING YOUR RIDE HOME

Look for the orange NO PARKING meter hoods along the north side of R St. Each one holds a card with a location name and that location's code, in that location's colour. Wait at the card that matches your ticket — that is the curb your shuttle pulls up to.

R St between N 13th and N 14th, north side. The arrow marks the bus zone.

When your shuttle leaves. Thirty minutes after the end of the game, or at its scheduled departure time — whichever is later. If everyone on the manifest is aboard before then, it goes early, so do not plan on the clock alone.

Give the getaway some patience. Around ninety thousand people leave at the same moment and downtown clears slowly. Your driver is in the same traffic you are — the shuttle will not leave without the passengers on its list.

Intercity pickup points

Long-haul shuttles into Lincoln, separate from the four Lincoln parking lots. These are round-trip bookings, and the corridors that run change from game to game — the booking page shows which are open.

Crossroads Mall — Omaha

72nd St & Dodge St, Omaha

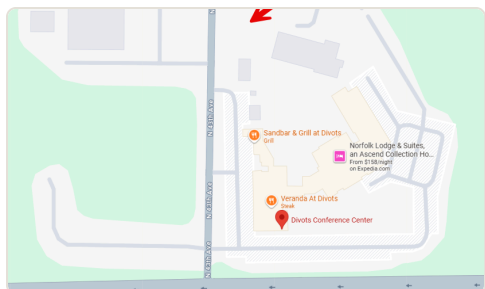

Southwest corner of the Target parking lot, off Dodge St.

Hilltop Mall — Kearney

E 52nd St & 2nd Ave, Kearney

North lot, along E 52nd St by Golden Ticket Cinemas.

Divots Conference Center — Norfolk

N 43rd Ave & W Norfolk Ave (US-275), Norfolk

North lot at Divots, off N 43rd Ave.

Intercity shuttles drop off and pick up at the same R St bus zone as the Lincoln lots, between N 13th and N 14th. Your code works the same way: a location prefix, a direction, and a departure number.

Before you travel

Six things worth knowing before game day. None of them will surprise you, but all of them are easier to read now than at the curb.

Book before you travel.

Every seat is reserved and guaranteed, which means we cannot take you without a booking — even standing at the curb on game day. You can book right up to departure if seats are left, but it has to be done online.

Bring your confirmation.

Printed, on your phone, or open in your account at iPronto.com — any of the three is fine. The driver checks identification for the person who made the booking, not for everyone travelling with you; we just check the count matches.

Book each direction separately for the Lincoln lots.

Out and back are separate reservations, which is what lets you pick a different return time from the one you rode in on. Intercity bookings are round trip and cover both legs.

Everyone gets a seat.

No standing on any Pronto shuttle. That is also why a full departure shows as sold out rather than squeezing people on — pick another loop from the same lot, or another lot, and you will still get there.

Need an accessible vehicle?

We can arrange one. Book your seats as normal, then email us so we have time to put the right vehicle on your departure.

Missed your shuttle, or need a different time?

Reservations are non-cancellable, but we will look after you. Book the schedule you actually want, then email us both confirmation numbers and we will cancel and refund the one you are not using.
