Thursday 24 August – talk by Don Christophersen on Charlie Flannigan – noon -1pm at Charles Darwin University, Northern Institute, Yellow Building 1.2.48, Casuarina campus

Charlie Flannigan was a young Aboriginal stockman and a renowned horseman from Queensland who worked at various cattle stations in the Northern Territory. Events at Auvergne Station in 1892 resulted in his incarceration at Fannie Bay Gaol and his execution the following year.

During his ten months' imprisonment, Charlie was kept in chains in solitary confinement. He was also given pencil and paper with which he produced a startling collection of images of people and places he had known.

In this talk, Don Christophersen discusses his new book, A Little Bit of Justice. The story of Charlie Flannigan – the first man to be executed in the Northern Territory. Don also shares many of Charlie's drawings and explains why he wanted to research his story.

Vale Roger Davey 1942-2023

The Committee is saddened to hear of the sudden death of Roger in early July. Roger was a valued and long term member of the Historical Society. He was so full of life and enthusiasm for Northern Territory history that it is hard to believe that he has gone. We shall miss him very much. A service to commemorate his life will be held mid August. Details will be announced in the NT News.
