How Big is Your God?

Program Price:

Single $685pp | Shared $550pp | Commuter $485pp

We warmly invite you to our 2026 Summer Retreat: How Big is Your God?

In this sacred space, we'll delve into the profound wisdom of Richard Rohr's books, including Everything Belongs, The Tears of Things, Hope Against Darkness, and Holding the Tension: The Paradox of Power as well as insights from one of Mary Beth Ingham's conferences.

Join us as we navigate our age of anxiety through a Franciscan Lens, embracing the cross, tension and paradox. Let us become a compassionate voice in a world desperate for reassurance, realizing that everything belongs.

Our main presenter, DT will be joined by two remarkable women, Glenda Campos and Kristin Gulley as guest speakers.

This retreat will also provide opportunities for guided prayer with song and music, creative projects, group conversation, as well as personal time to reflect, rest and renew.

This summer, let us seek new insights and find solace in the truth that we all belong, even amidst life's challenges.

Br. Dick (DT) Tandy, OFM describes himself as "actively retired" following nine years as a chaplain at St. Anthony's Foundation in San Francisco. He is a certified spiritual director with specialties working with recovery groups, all 12-step folks, and those experiencing vicarious trauma. Br. DT's spiritual practices include contemplative prayer for almost 30 years and mindful movement for all abilities. His real passion is photography and he sees it as a wonderful way to express God's beautiful creation and the human condition. Br. DT currently resides at Mission San Luis Rey.

Kristin Elizabeth Gulley has been rooted in the Anglican tradition throughout her life. She earned her Master of Divinity from Regent College in 2024, receiving the inaugural Donald M. Lewis Prize for Pastoral Care. Kristin has served in pastoral and leadership roles in Anglican parishes in Canada and the Seattle area. She now lives in California, where she cares for her parents and serves at Grace Episcopal Church in San Marcos in vestry leadership and outreach. Kristin is grateful to be part of the Mission San Luis Rey community.

Glenda Campos is a certified spiritual director through Christian Formation and Direction Ministries in the Pacific Northwest and Loyola Institute of Spirituality in Orange, CA. Glenda's experiences include many years of teaching, faith formation for adults, individual and group spiritual direction, along with art and writing retreats. Her main interests are the merging of art and spirituality with an emphasis on visual arts, the incorporation of various art mediums and writing the stories of your life to discover traces of God's grace.
