Welcome to the Scottish Mixed Pairs Golf Week

As we approach the 2023 tournament in July, our 19th year since inception, the Scottish Mixed Pairs Golf Week continues to grow and attract participants from far and wide and from national and international locations. This year we have a record entry with 560 players taking part in what is seen as one of the best mixed golf tournaments in the country.

Each year we manage to attract a healthy number of new entrants, and this year we welcome more new faces than ever - which is a trend always appreciated by the organising committee. This year we welcome overseas couples from the USA, Switzerland, and Netherlands. But equally satisfying is the fact that so many couples return year after year, and with that in mind, we are delighted to welcome back again a few "weel kent faces" who have not missed competing in the SMPGW for many years. Whatever your status, we would like to extend a very warm welcome to all competitors, and we are looking forward to forming and renewing friendships which have grown over our 19-year existence.

We have increased the prize pool and money for this year's event, and we are also in the midst of producing a new and improved website, which we hope to launch during the tournament week.

All the host courses are in excellent condition following a relatively mild winter and everyone at the clubs are as excited to meeting everyone as we are. The sun always shines in Angus and East Perthshire, so we need not worry about that!

We hope that you will experience all that is best about Angus and East Perthshire during your stay, and the committee will endeavour to assist you in every way possible.

Good luck to all competitors for the week, and we sincerely hope you enjoy the hospitality and friendships that only Scotland and the Scottish Mixed Pairs Golf Week can bring.

Best wishes and welcome,
Tournament Committee

Alyth Golf Club

Host at Venue:

Managing Secretary: Glenn Davies

Pitcrocknie, Alyth, PH11 8HF

The Alyth Club consists of the original 18 hole Alyth Course and the new addition of the 9 hole Glenisla Course. The Alyth Course (6259 yards, Par 70) is a combination of tree lined fairways and rolling terrain, the course presents a delightful challenge as it meanders through the avenues of pines and silver birch, requiring accuracy over length off the tee. However, both are required at the long par 4, 9th and 10th holes, and the Par 5, 11th. A fun course to play, it was recently voted Scotland's "Best Course Under £50", at The Scottish Golf Tourism Awards. In 2016, the Club took on the back 9 holes of the original Glenisla course, creating a challenging 9 hole course (3078 yards, Par 35) with the option to play 18 holes from different tees (6229 yards, par 70)

Host at Venue:

Managing Secretary: Stuart Wilson

Golf Course Road, Rosemount, Blairgowrie, PH10 6LG

Blairgowrie Golf Club boasts 3 fine golf courses. The Lansdowne Course, (7007 yard, Par 72) was designed by Peter Alliss and Dave Thomas in 1979 and has hosted a number of events including most recently, the Scottish Amateur Championship in 2013 and the PGA Championship Finals in 2014. Routed through swathes of pine and silver birch trees, it requires much more accuracy from the tee than the much older Rosemount Course (6630 yard, Par 72) which hosted the Junior Ryder Cup in 2014, and was the venue of Greg Norman's first European Tour victory in the 1970's. The Rosemount and Lansdowne courses are complimented by The Wee Course (2327 yard, Par 32) which is one of the most fun and enjoyable 9 hole courses to be found anywhere in Scotland.

Forfar Golf Club

Host at Venue:

Managing Secretary: Owen Leslie

T: 01307 463773 | E: info@forfargolfclub.co.uk | W: www.forfargolfclub.co.uk

Arbroath Road, Cunninghill, Forfar, DD8 2RL

Originally laid out by Old Tom Morris and later redesigned by James Braid, the course design is a combination by two golfing greats with no less than 9 Open Championships between them and is of a quality that it has hosted national championships and has twice been the venue for the Scottish PGA Championship, the Scottish Boys Stroke Play and the Girls Home Internationals. The Cunninghill course at Forfar is set on beautiful wooded heathland. The terrain is almost 'links' like with undulating fairways lined by Scots Pine and lovely views towards the Angus Glens.

Kirriemuir Golf Club

Host at venue:

Managing Secretary: Alan Tucker

T: 01575 573317 | E: enquiries@kirriemuirgolfclub.co.uk | W: www.kirriemuirgolfclub.co.uk

Sheilhill Road, Kirriemuir, DD8 4LN

James Braid created this exquisite gem (5518 yard, Par 68), a glorious mix of heathland and parkland which rests perfectly on a hillside and against the spectacular backdrop of the Angus Glens.

Although short by modern standards, the course boasts its fair share of obstacles including the 180 yard par 3, 17th hole which is surrounded by mature trees, and the uphill 18th which is blocked on the right fairway by a magnificent large oak. But the breathtaking scenery may well prove your greatest distraction.

Strathmore Golf Centre

Host at Venue:
General Manager: David Norman

T: 01828 633322 | E: enquiries@strathmoregolf.com | W: www.strathmoregolf.com

Leroch, New Alyth, PH11 8NZ

The warmest of welcomes awaits every visitor to Strathmore, which is beautifully set amidst the glorious Perthshire countryside, overlooking the Strathmore Valley and Sidlaw Hills. Opened in 1996, the facilities include the impressive John Salvesen designed 18 hole Rannaleroch Course (6454 yard, Par 72) and the 9 hole Leitfie Links (1130 yd par 27), driving range, large short game practice area, putting green, and a beautifully appointed clubhouse, making it a popular spot for golfing and non-golfing visitors alike. The fairways are relatively generous, but watch out for the many undulations on the greens which may make putting trickier than you first expect!

Four Ball Better Ball

The Ladies' Handicaps should have the course adjustment added before having the recommended fraction applied.

Each player will receive a handicap allowance of 85% of their course handicap. Each player plays their own ball. The lowest NETT score of the 2 partners is the score that will be entered on the scorecard (please also record gross scores where possible). Ladies play from the Ladies tee and Gents play from the Gents tee.

In the Four Ball Betterball format the gents will play from their par and stroke index and the ladies will play from their par and stroke index, with the best gross score AND best nett score being recorded on the score card.

Greensomes

The players' handicaps should have the course adjustment added before applying the handicap allocation.

All players tee off. Ladies play from the ladies tee and Gents play from the gents tee. Players then elect one ball to play then play alternate shots from there until the completion of that hole. The team handicap will be 0.6 of the lower handicap added to 0.4 of the higher handicap. If the handicaps are equal the allowance will be half of the combined handicap. All players will use the Ladies Par and Stroke Index.

Foursomes

Gents tee off on the EVEN holes and Ladies tee off on the ODD holes. Players play alternate shots until the hole is completed. The handicap allowance will be ½ of the combined total. All players will use the Ladies Par and Stroke Index.
