PERFORMANCE GUIDE / HISTORY

This song was written to be sung by a soloist, to allow freedom of timing, but there are many options.

It was first sung by a ladies' choir: each chorus by a different soloist and the verses harmonised by the full choir. It has also been used as a congregation hymn with the people singing the chorus and a choir or soloist the verses. It was recorded by three women for our 'Life - a Journey Shared' recording.

Magdalene

*"My Lord is risen, my heart can sing now,
for he has brought the world to life.
O God, my Father, send me your Spirit,
that I may share your life and love."*

He found her in the wilderness,
he healed her of her pain.
He blessed her love, he gave her hope,
new grace to live again.

"My Lord is risen"

She followed him in happiness,
she heard him speak of love.
She saw him touch and bless and heal,
grant peace when he forgave.

"My Lord is risen"

But some there were who hated him,
God's love they crucified.
She saw him die upon the cross;
her love was dead . . . she cried.

"My Lord is risen"

She sought him in her darkness,
she longed to hear his word.
He spoke her name, said "Mary";
she knew him as her Lord.

*"My Lord is risen, my heart can sing now,
for he has brought my world to life.
O God, my Father, you send your Spirit,
my heart can sing now."*
