FIRST READINGA Reading from The Book of the Prophet Ezekiel*Ezekiel 33:7-9

Thus says the LORD:

You, son of man, I have appointed watchman for the house of Israel;
 when you hear me say anything, you shall warn them for me.
 If I tell the wicked, "O wicked one, you shall surely die, "
 and you do not speak out to dissuade the wicked from his way,
 the wicked shall die for his guilt,
 but I will hold you responsible for his death.
 But if you warn the wicked,
 trying to turn him from his way,
 and he refuses to turn from his way,
 he shall die for his guilt,
 but you shall save yourself.

Thanks be to God.Responsorial Psalm*Psalm 95:1-2, 6-7, 8-9*R. \ If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

Come, let us sing joyfully to the LORD;
 let us acclaim the rock of our salvation.
 Let us come into his presence with thanksgiving;
 let us joyfully sing psalms to him.

R. \ If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

Come, let us bow down in worship;
 let us kneel before the LORD who made us.
 For he is our God,
 and we are the people he shepherds, the flock he guides.

R. \ If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

Oh, that today you would hear his voice:
 "Harden not your hearts as at Meribah,
 as in the day of Massah in the desert,
 where your fathers tempted me;
 they tested me though they had seen my works."

R. \ If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.SECOND READING*A Reading from The Letter of St. Paul to The Romans*Romans 13:8-10

Brothers and sisters:

Owe nothing to anyone, except to love one another;
 for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law.
 The commandments, "You shall not commit adultery;
 you shall not kill; you shall not steal; you shall not covet, "
 and whatever other commandment there may be,
 are summed up in this saying, namely,
 "You shall love your neighbor as yourself."
 Love does no evil to the neighbor;
 hence, love is the fulfillment of the law.

Thanks be to God.GOSPEL*A Reading from The Gospel according to Matthew*Matthew 18:15-20

Jesus said to his disciples:

"If your brother sins against you,
 go and tell him his fault between you and him alone.
 If he listens to you, you have won over your brother.
 If he does not listen,
 take one or two others along with you,
 so that 'every fact may be established on the testimony of two or three witnesses.'
 If he refuses to listen to them, tell the church.
 If he refuses to listen even to the church,
 then treat him as you would a Gentile or a tax collector.

Amen, I say to you,
 whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven,
 and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

Again, amen, I say to you,
 if two of you agree on earth
 about anything for which they are to pray,
 it shall be granted to them by my heavenly Father.

The Gospel of the Lord.

By Father Edward A. Murphy

Fr. Edward A. Murphy

Gospel of Matthew

The last verse of this morning's gospel reading is one that has spoken to believers down through the generations, 'For where two or three meet in my name, I shall be there with them.' The saying highlights the value of believers coming together in the Lord's name, whether for liturgical worship, other forms of prayer or some form of communal activity. No number is too small; any more than one will do. Even when two people gather in the Lord's name, he is there in the midst of them.

There is a real value in coming together in faith, even if it is only two people, because in doing so we create a space, as it were, for the Lord to be present. This saying of Jesus is one that gives tremendous value to all our gatherings, especially our gatherings for prayer, no matter how small those gatherings are. We can easily get preoccupied with numbers in the church. We bemoan the fact that fewer people are coming to Mass or to gatherings of faith whether for prayer or for other purposes. Yet, if even a minimum of two people ensures the presence of the risen Lord between them, then there is something there to truly celebrate rather than bemoan.

Whenever the Lord is present in our midst, he is not there in a passive way.

His presence is always an active, life-giving, transforming presence. There is a great deal going on when even two gather in the Lord's name. There is so much more happening than just the physical coming together of people. The Lord is at work in their midst. We need never underestimate the value of our gatherings or their power to transform, no matter how small they are.

Points To Ponder

In many ways, we are keepers of our sisters and brothers. We have social responsibility in family and in neighborhood. Jesus is saying something like that today. We have a responsibility for each other, for the common good. Parents may find this most difficult - to try to guide the family well and not lose them. We teach by example and by love. Even when children are young and making some mistakes, we hope they are not mistakes that last forever, like crime, alcoholism or an unplanned life-changing moment. We pray to God for help. This we do with others. We ask for guidance and find help in the community of the church and of others. That's where God is - two or three gathered is the community of God. Church is the gathered people. God wants the best for each of us. We can help each other to goodness, we can support each other, correct each other, and help each other on our way to God.

Jesus promises guidance and his presence to his followers for all ages. If we gather in his name, he is with us. The 'in his name' is the relevant condition. That means openness to his word and the traditions faithfully handed on by his community of followers. It means openness to asking for wisdom and guidance and the humility to admit none of us has all the answers.

Young Adult Section

By Brooke Pina

How can older adults in the church do a better job at teaching the youth about our faith?

I think the first step is having factual and sensible explanations when we ask “why.” Young people are not going to believe something without an explanation that makes sense, nor will they believe things without evidence. Some topics are easier to explain than others, but being able to answer our questions is very important. There are plenty of ways to explain one topic as well, so if one explanation isn’t making sense to someone, try it another way instead of repeating the same thing over and over again. Every brain is different and the same explanations won’t make sense to everyone, so keep that in mind when speaking to youth, especially during this back to school season.

If you have any questions about the youth that you would like answered, please email brookepina.standrews@gmail.com
