FIRST READINGA Reading from The Book of the Prophet Isaiah*Isaiah 5:1-7

Let me now sing of my friend, my friend's song concerning his vineyard. My friend had a vineyard on a fertile hillside; he spaded it, cleared it of stones, and planted the choicest vines; within it he built a watchtower, and hewed out a wine press. Then he looked for the crop of grapes, but what it yielded was wild grapes. Now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and people of Judah, judge between me and my vineyard: What more was there to do for my vineyard that I had not done? Why, when I looked for the crop of grapes, did it bring forth wild grapes? Now, I will let you know what I mean to do with my vineyard: take away its hedge, give it to grazing, break through its wall, let it be trampled! Yes, I will make it a ruin: it shall not be pruned or hoed, but overgrown with thorns and briars; I will command the clouds not to send rain upon it. The vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the people of Judah are his cherished plant; he looked for judgment, but see, bloodshed! for justice, but hark, the outcry!

Thanks be to God.

Responsorial PsalmPsalm 80:9, 12, 13-14, 15-16, 19-20

R. The vineyard of the Lord is the house of Israel.

SECOND READINGA Reading from the letter of St. Paul to the Philippians*Philippians 4:6-9

Brothers and sisters: Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, make your requests known to God. Then the peace of God that surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus. Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is gracious, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. Keep on doing what you have learned and received and heard and seen in me. Then the God of peace will be with you.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPELA Reading from the Gospel according to Matthew*Matthew 21:33-43

Jesus said to the chief priests and the elders of the people: "Hear another parable. There was a landowner who planted a vineyard, put a hedge around it, dug a wine press in it, and built a tower. Then he leased it to tenants and went on a journey. When vintage time drew near, he sent his servants to the tenants to obtain his produce. But the tenants seized the servants and one they beat, another they killed, and a third they stoned. Again he sent other servants, more numerous than the first ones, but they treated them in the same way. Finally, he sent his son to them, thinking, 'They will respect my son.' But when the tenants saw the son, they said to one another, 'This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and acquire his inheritance.' They seized him, threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What will the owner of the vineyard do to those tenants when he comes?" They answered him, "He will put those wretched men to a wretched death and lease his vineyard to other tenants who will give him the produce at the proper times." Jesus said to them, "Did you never read in the Scriptures: The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone; by the Lord has this been done, and it is wonderful in our eyes? Therefore, I say to you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that will produce its fruit."

The Gospel of the Lord.

By Father Edward A. Murphy

Gospel of Matthew

'It's mine and I can do what I want with it.' This is what someone who considers himself the owner thinks as the sole owner and decision maker. Most often, this approach applies to various material things. But sometimes someone talks about their life in this way. Are we really the absolute owners of anything in this world? Can we do whatever we can think of with it? Pope Francis in the Encyclical Laudato Si', referring to the description of the creation of the world contained in the Book of Genesis, reminded us that God rejects all human 'claims to absolute property.'

We are not the owners but the tenants. In every way. We do not own the world and the planet we live on. Neither are we owners of goods in the spiritual realm. We are not possessors of revealed truth or of the Gospel, or of the good news of salvation.

One mother kept telling her son, 'Never want more than God's grace has given you.' He rebelled for a long time. He pretended not to understand what she meant. Not only did he get richer, he accumulated more and more material goods, but he tried to have the greatest possible power over people. Until one day he discovered that there were things over which neither money nor power gave control. The parable of the tenant of the vineyard tells about human desire, about the desire to appropriate what belongs to God.

The desire to take God's place can affect anyone. Whoever succumbs to temptation quickly learns that not only does he not own anything, but also loses what he had up to now. 'Pride and selfishness make it impossible to recognise and accept God's most precious gift: his only-begotten Son,' said Benedict XVI, commenting on Jesus' parable to the high priests and elders of the people. But not only they are its addressees. It applies to us today.

Points to Ponder

Today's parable is a powerful message about God's patience, our responsibility, and the consequences of rejecting Him.

1. God Entrusts Us with His Blessings: Just as the landowner provided everything for the vineyard to thrive, God has given us all we need - His Word, His Spirit, and His grace. He calls us to be faithful stewards of His blessings. Are we using what God has given us for His glory? Do we honour Him with our time, talents, and resources?
2. God Is Patient, But There Are Consequences for Rejection: God's patience is great, but it is not limitless. When people continuously turn away from Him, they face the consequences of their choices. Jesus warned that the kingdom would be taken from those who rejected Him and given to those who bear its fruit.
3. Jesus, the Cornerstone We Must Build Our Lives On: We must ask ourselves: Is Jesus the cornerstone of our lives? Do we build our decisions, actions, and purpose on Him? Or are we trying to build on our own understanding? Only when Christ is our foundation can we truly bear fruit for God's kingdom.
4. A Call to Repentance and Fruitfulness: The religious leaders understood that Jesus was speaking about them, but instead of repenting, they sought to kill Him. God desires that we bear fruit, that is, to live lives filled with faith, love, and obedience. He calls us to humility and repentance, turning from self-centeredness to Him.

May we embrace Christ as our foundation, live faithfully, and bear the fruit that glorifies God.

Medjugorje Message

September 25, 2026

“Dear children! May this time be a time of prayer for peace. I am calling you to renew in your families the prayer of the Rosary for my intentions, so that I may be able to multiply your prayers and intercede for you before the Most High, [for Him] to heed your prayers and to give you peace. I am with you and like never before I pray for you and with you, my little children. Thank you for having responded to my call.”

DIOCESE OF FALL RIVER

Called by Name

Today is Called By Name Sunday!

Bishop da Cunha is asking us to share the names of faithful teens and men who are dedicated to the faith and may be open to the priesthood. To submit a name, please visit fallrivervocations.org/calledbyname. Sharing a young man's name is a way to honor him for his dedication to the faith, and ensure that he receives resources and support as he prays about his vocation. Men named in this initiative will receive a letter of encouragement from Bishop da Cunha, an invitation to a special dinner with the bishop and seminarians in December, and ongoing support from the Vocation Office. Feel free to honor teens and men you have named in previous years.

Thank you for your participation in this important campaign!

Saint Faustina Kowalska

Feast Day: October 5th

Saint Faustina was born in 1905 into a poor Polish family and experienced a religious calling from a young age. She initially deferred pursuing a religious vocation to help her family with her earnings as a housekeeper. At age 19, after a vision of the suffering Jesus, she earnestly sought entrance into religious life. Initially turned away by many convents, she entered the order of the Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy in 1925. In April 1928, she took her first vows with her parents in attendance. St. Faustina served the Congregation as a cook, gardener, and porter. While living a simple religious life, she grew in great union with God, experiencing profound sufferings as well as consolations. She had many visions of Jesus and wrote a diary of her experiences. St. Faustina died from tuberculosis at the age of 33 in 1938. In 1959, the Vatican suppressed the Divine Mercy devotion. But in 1978, the Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith lifted the suppression after new original documents were examined and texts were retranslated. Then Cardinal Karol Wojtyla strongly promoted the message of Divine Mercy. Later, as Pope John Paul II, he canonized St. Faustina, in April 2000, and designated the Second Sunday of Easter as Divine Mercy Sunday. Because of her work fostering devotion to Divine Mercy, St. Faustina is known as the "apostle of Divine Mercy." Jesus appeared to her many times and spoke of his great and unfathomable mercy to those who would trust in him. Jesus told St. Faustina that he wanted the Sunday after Easter to be celebrated as a "Feast of Mercy," as a refuge for all souls, especially poor sinners. On Divine Mercy Sunday, celebrated the weekend after Easter, the Gospel tells the story of when Jesus appeared in a locked room where the disciples were hiding.
