FIRST READINGA Reading from The Book of the Prophet Isaiah*Isaiah 25:6-10a

On this mountain the LORD of hosts will provide for all peoples a feast of rich food and choice wines, juicy, rich food and pure, choice wines. On this mountain he will destroy the veil that veils all peoples, the web that is woven over all nations; he will destroy death forever. The Lord GOD will wipe away the tears from every face; the reproach of his people he will remove from the whole earth; for the LORD has spoken. On that day it will be said: "Behold our God, to whom we looked to save us! This is the LORD for whom we looked; let us rejoice and be glad that he has saved us!" For the hand of the LORD will rest on this mountain.

Thanks be to God.Responsorial Psalm*Psalm 23:1-3a, 3b-4, 5, 6*R. I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.*SECOND READING*A Reading from the letter of St. Paul to the Philippians*Philippians 4:12-14, 19-20

Brothers and sisters: I know how to live in humble circumstances; I know also how to live with abundance. In every circumstance and in all things I have learned the secret of being well fed and of going hungry, of living in abundance and of being in need. I can do all things in him who strengthens me. Still, it was kind of you to share in my distress.

My God will fully supply whatever you need, in accord with his glorious riches in Christ Jesus. To our God and Father, glory forever and ever. Amen.

Thanks be to God.GOSPEL*A Reading from the Gospel according to Matthew*Matthew 22:1-14

Jesus again in reply spoke to the chief priests and elders of the people in parables, saying, "The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son. He dispatched his servants to summon the invited guests to the feast, but they refused to come. A second time he sent other servants, saying, 'Tell those invited: "Behold, I have prepared my banquet, my calves and fattened cattle are killed, and everything is ready; come to the feast."' Some ignored the invitation and went away, one to his farm, another to his business. The rest laid hold of his servants, mistreated them, and killed them. The king was enraged and sent his troops, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. Then he said to his servants, 'The feast is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy to come. Go out, therefore, into the main roads and invite to the feast whomever you find.' The servants went out into the streets and gathered all they found, bad and good alike, and the hall was filled with guests. But when the king came in to meet the guests, he saw a man there not dressed in a wedding garment. The king said to him, 'My friend, how is it that you came in here without a wedding garment?' But he was reduced to silence. Then the king said to his attendants, 'Bind his hands and feet, and cast him into the darkness outside, where there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.' Many are invited, but few are chosen."

The Gospel of the Lord.

By Father Edward A. Murphy

Gospel of Matthew

In today's Gospel, Jesus tells us about the wedding feast. A man entered the banquet without a wedding garment.

The king asked him, 'My friend, how did you come in here without one?' But the man was silent. This was not the silence of wisdom, but the silence of fear and pride. He could have spoken. He could have begged for mercy. He could have said like the thief on the cross, 'Lord, remember me.' But he kept quiet, and his silence condemned him.

There are two kinds of silence. There is negative silence, born of guilt, fear, or pride. Cain was silent after killing his brother. Judas was silent instead of asking pardon from Jesus. In our own homes, such silence can wound love - a husband who refuses to speak, a child who hides the truth, a family that avoids prayer. But there is also holy silence.

Jesus was silent before Pilate. Elijah found God not in thunder or fire, but in a gentle silence. A mother watching over her sick child, a husband and wife resting in quiet peace, a family gathered in evening prayer - these silences are filled with love.

The Gospel reminds us that it is not enough to be silent. There comes a moment when a word must be spoken.

The thief on the cross spoke and was saved. The wedding guest remained silent and was lost. Silence is holy when it listens, but salvation comes when, at the right moment, we speak words of humility and repentance.

Saint John of the Cross says that silence is God's first language, but God also listens when we whisper, 'Forgive me. I am sorry. I love you.' In confession, these words open heaven. In our families, these small words heal more than long speeches.

At the end of our life, all noise will fade away. What will remain is the truth of our heart, sometimes in silence, sometimes in a humble word. May our silence be filled with listening, and may our words be spoken at the right moment to save our soul.

Points to Ponder

The landowner had prepared for a large crowd. When he sent his servants out to personally remind the guests to come, some of the servants were mistreated, beaten and even killed by his prospective guests! Quite naturally, the king was enraged.

What does this Sunday's Gospel say to us? I doubt that we have had the experience this story speaks of. However, we all have been disappointed and upset at various times in our lives. We may have been deeply hurt by someone or betrayed by another. Our natural human response is to be angry, hurt and disappointed - and rightly so. Hopefully, we haven't decided to kill anyone because of that!

In these situations we need to take time to calm down and deal with the hurt, anger and disappointment. We need to acknowledge and feel the emotions. If we repress them, most likely the emotions will come back with a vengeance. But we can't stop there. We also need to honestly acknowledge what we are experiencing but then with time to gradually 'let those feelings go' and forgive. Most often this is the last thing that we want to do! It will take time but it is an important step to take. If we nurse our anger and hurt, we are not hurting the individuals who disappointed us, we are hurting ourselves and those we love!

If we are not able to forgive, we simply need to ask God to help us. May we have the grace to ask God to heal the anger and hurt - and to free us!

Catholic Bishops of Massachusetts
Statement Against Late-term
Abortion Bill

On July 22, 2026, the Massachusetts House of Representatives passed legislation which removed all remaining legal limits on late-term abortions in the Commonwealth. Late-term in this case means abortion after 24 weeks of pregnancy and up until the birth of the child. As Catholic bishops we have a moral responsibility to present and uphold Catholic teaching and the sacred God-given dignity of every human life from conception to the natural death. The proposed elimination of any legal restraint on late-term abortion is, in our judgement, a radical measure which is gravely immoral. Life is beautiful! We invite the Catholic community to pray for a renewal of reverence for all human life. We reaffirm the Church's call to its own community and to civil society to provide the resources to welcome and cherish the gift of life, as well as to accompany women and families who have known the tragedy of abortion. Let there be room in our hearts for the most vulnerable among us. May we recall and live the Lord's own word "whatsoever you do to the least of these you do to me."

Saint Ignatius of Antioch

Feast Day: October 17th

This Syrian-born martyr, who gave himself the nickname "God-bearer" because of his certainty of God's presence within him and who may have been a disciple of St. John the Evangelist, became bishop of Antioch about 69. Eventually he was arrested and sent to Rome, where his strong desire for martyrdom was fulfilled when he was thrown to the lions in the Colosseum. In seven letters written to Christians in Asia Minor and Rome, he stressed the need to heal church conflicts, the authority of local bishops and the Eucharist as a source of unity.
