CALL TO ACTION 92

Reconciliation for Business

TRUTH2ACTION, the Truth and Reconciliation Call to Action 92 Awareness Program, combines an online self-paced learning platform with an in-depth review to develop a roadmap for you to redefine your workplace standards and culture.

“Reconciliation is all about establishing and maintaining a mutually-respectful relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples in Canada. In order for this to happen, there must be awareness of the past, acknowledgment of the harm that has been inflicted, atonement for the causes and action to change behavior.”

- the late Justice Murray Sinclair

Truth & Education Phase

Consists of 10 one-hour, self-paced chapters that include multi-media elements, online quizzes, and virtual coaching.

Participants will leave this program with an action plan on how they can make a difference.

Chapters include:

1. Pre-contact
2. Contact
3. Legislation
4. Residential Schools
5. Child Welfare
6. Sixties Scoop
7. The Justice System
8. Missing and Murdered Women and Girls
9. Truth and Reconciliation
10. Reflection and Application

Reconciliation & Action Phase

When the Knowledge Program has been completed, the second requirement of TRUTH2ACTION is to make changes to create more welcoming spaces for Indigenous People.

Through a series of document reviews, analysis of best practices, a cultural competence survey, and employee interviews, we will provide you and your team with a road map of recommendations.

These recommendations can then be actioned to establish an inclusive workplace and address colonialism, discrimination, implicit bias, and racism.
