RELIGIOUS EDUCATION & FAITH FORMATION

SAINT CARLO ACUTIS FEAST DAY

From the outside, Carlo Acutis was just another regular boy. He wore jeans and Nikes. He played video games and loved sports. He grew up playing outside and enjoying time with his friends. But there was one thing that set Carlo apart from many of the other teens he knew: he loved Jesus.

Carlo's faith was at the center of all he did, but that didn't mean living some ancient, impossible lifestyle. Loving God simply meant that Carlo prayed every day and went to Mass as often as he could. It meant that he cared for the people around him, whether that person was a friend at school or someone who was struggling on the street. And most famously, he used his computer skills to create a website that tracked every known Eucharistic miracle in the world.

It wasn't just computers and sports that held his interest - Carlo Acutis also took on the challenge of teaching himself to play the saxophone, an accomplishment that impressed his mother. Did you know that Carlo also wanted to become a professional chef and showed great interest in learning recipes. He also loved Nutella...hey, Saints can have a sweet tooth!

I love this story about Carlo. Carlo loved his animals, especially his dogs. He had a dog named Briciola, which means "biscuit crumb." Briciola accompanied Carlo and his family on their pilgrimage to Lourdes. The three-month-old puppy was small enough to be smuggled into Carlo's grandmother's purse. When Briciola made noise from inside the purse during the tour, his grandmother would cough to hide the noise so that security would not find the puppy. Carlo caught all this on videotape! Carlo also loved making amateur short films. On occasion he would get his dogs and cats to play lead roles, while Star Wars references and soundtracks snuck into these epic video creations. It seems that Saint Carlo Acutis also had a wonderful sense of humor ☺

"To always be close to Jesus, that's my life plan." Saint Carlo Acutis, pray for us.
