May God bless the following 32 boys and girls on receiving our Lord's Body and Blood for the first time this weekend! We are so very proud of these children and thankful for the witness they provide to us, as we remember our own reception of Holy Communion for the first time! May we always receive as though it is our first time!

Lumen Christi School

Living Faith, Celebrating Family, and Achieving Excellence

⇒ Principal's Update:

Congratulations to all of those students who received the Sacrament of Confirmation this week!

As mentioned, well over half of our students are getting Confirmed this spring! Well done Archangels!

Mrs. Spillers reports that the Close Up trip is going very well. Our students are engaged with their peers from all over the country and learning so much about our nation's government and capital! We look forward to welcoming them home this weekend full of memories and amazing stories.

Next week, we will celebrate the last week of school for our graduating class of 2026! Our Student Leadership Board has put together a Prom Spirit Week with themed days and we will close out the week with our Last Mass with Seniors. During this Mass, we pray the Rosary and crown Mary. In a proud Lumen Christi tradition, we will transfer the Light of Christ from the outgoing senior class to the juniors, signifying a transfer of responsibility and leadership from one class to another. We will end Mass with a procession down to the Marian statue in front of the school, lay flowers at our Blessed Mother's feet, and pray the Hail Mary together as a school community! I encourage you to join us for this important and memorable celebration!

Blessings, Brian

Most of us consider ourselves peaceful people, looking for the best scenario when confronted with conflict. But in today's world, we find ourselves divided with our families, friends, and even the news channels. Below are ten "commandments" for us to follow to remind us to remain peaceful.

Active nonviolence calls us:

1. To learn to recognize and respect "the sacred" in every person, including in ourselves, and in every piece of Creation.
  2. To accept oneself deeply, "who I am" with all my gifts and richness, with all my limitations, errors, failings, and weaknesses, and to realize I am truly loved by God.
  3. To recognize what I resent, and perhaps even detest, in another, comes from my difficulty in admitting this same reality lives also in me.
  4. To renounce dualism, the "we-they" mentality. This divides us into "good people/bad people" and allows us to demonize the adversary. It is the root of authoritarian and exclusivist behavior. It generates racism and makes possible conflicts and wars.
  5. To face fear and to deal with it not mainly with courage but with LOVE.
  6. To understand and accept our need to live our life in Christ, which is always carried forward with others. It is never a "solo act."
  7. To see ourselves as a part of the whole creation to which we foster a relationship of love, not of mastery, remembering the destruction of our planet is a profoundly spiritual problem, not simply a scientific or technological one. We are one.
  8. To be ready to suffer, perhaps even with joy, if we believe this will help liberate the Divine in others. This includes the acceptance of our place and moment in history with its trauma, with its ambiguities.
  9. To be capable of celebration, of joy, when the presence of God has been accepted, and when it has not been, to help discover and recognize this fact.
  10. To slow down, to be patient, planting the seeds of love and forgiveness in our own hearts and in the hearts of those around us. Slowly we will grow in love, compassion, and the capacity to forgive.
- Adapted from (Rosemary Lynch and Alain Richard, "The Decalogue for a Spirituality of Nonviolence," in From Violence to Wholeness) (Las Vegas, NV: PACE e Bene Franciscan Nonviolence Center, 1999), 18.

No experience needed, just the desire to help these men come to Christ. An application and an evening Dept. of Corrections Chaplain's Office training would be required. Interested?
