LEGACY VILLAGE OF HENDERSONVILLE

NEWSLETTER | FEBRUARY 2026

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

After a long day, I found myself in the checkout line of a busy grocery store. Around me, the rhythmic beeps of scanners punctuated the shuffle of carts, while nearby, friends exchanged the familiar, half-hearted promise to "grab lunch soon"—a well-meaning refrain rarely fulfilled. In the next lane, an elderly gentleman was telling who I can only assume was his very young grandchild that when they got home, he'd "buy that wart off of her." I was utterly flummoxed, positively befuddled, and completely nonplussed—what on earth was this tomfoolery unfolding in the sacred ten-items-or-less express lane? I couldn't wait to reach my car and dive online—curious whether Pa-paw's claim had merit or if his imagination had simply taken flight.

The digital know-it-all, Google, told me the tradition: rub a copper penny over the wart, then bury it somewhere secret—some low-tech magic hoping the wart vanishes, carried away by the earth. It's a charming blend of faith, hope, and folk wisdom, a reminder of a time when healing was as much about intention and human connection as it was about medicine. And at the heart of it is intention, the deeply held belief that true healing begins in the heart and mind, nurtured by small acts of care and kindness.

Copper isn't just a shiny metal; it has natural antimicrobial properties, known for centuries to aid in healing. But beyond the science, this story—and others like it—holds something far more precious: the power of storytelling and tradition. They are the threads that tie us to those who came before, the lessons and love passed down through generations.

In our fast-paced world, these stories risk fading away, lost in the shuffle of modern life. Yet they hold a quiet power—not just in what they teach us about healing or health, but in how they remind us to pause, listen, and share. To tell our own stories, to pass along the wisdom tucked into everyday moments, and to treasure the customs that shape who we are.

In our community, that spirit flourishes every day. Healing isn't always about grand cures; it's found in the smiles shared, the hands held, and the quiet presence beside someone who needs it most. Like the copper penny, these small acts carry a weight far greater than their size, weaving a fabric of care, connection, and hope.

As we move forward into this year, let's take time to share our stories—those old family traditions, those little-known remedies, those moments of kindness and resilience that define us. Because when we tell these tales, we keep the past alive, strengthen our bonds, and build a future rooted in love, respect, and community.

May this year bring stories shared, memories made, and healing found in the simple power of connection.

Warmly,

Britt Locke
Executive Director

An elderly couple, married for decades, is getting ready for Valentine's Day. The wife asks her husband, "What do you love most about me now?" After a thoughtful pause, he replies, "Well, dear, I love that you still remember how to make my favorite pudding!"
