THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Lace up your walking shoes

Do you feel different this year? What insights have you gained over the past 12 months? In what ways have you changed? What areas in your life need your attention? You may feel like resting for a while. But remember, you can't stand in one place indefinitely and be a disciple of Jesus. Christianity requires transformation and conversion, and these changes can take a lifetime. Invest in the resources (people, periodicals, books, and worship) that will serve as your walking shoes on your never-ending spiritual journey.

Isaiah 8:23—9:3; 1 Corinthians 1:10-13, 17; Matthew 4:12-23 (67). "Immediately they left their boat and their father and followed him."

Truth be told

"What is truth?" Pontius Pilate asked at Jesus' trial. His question showed how little he understood of Jesus' claim that "Everyone who belongs to the truth listens to my voice" (John 18:37). Today, people sometimes go to the opposite extreme and are a little too quick to call something, particularly their own ideas, the Truth. However, most of us recognize that truth has to do with something or someone we can trust and rely on. For Christians, God is the one who is utterly trustworthy. How do we know this? One place to look is scripture and the truth revealed there. Listen to God's word and learn it well, and you will "belong to the truth."

2 Timothy 1:1-8 or Titus 1:1-5; Mark 3:22-30 (520/317). "Bear your share of hardship for the Gospel with the strength that comes from God."

MEMORIAL OF ANGELA MERICI

Think differently

Jesus continually challenged his followers (and us) to think beyond rigid definitions and long-established rules. Angela Merici (1470-1540), founder of the Order of St. Ursula, was one who accepted this challenge. At a time when women were either supposed to marry or enter a convent, Angela understood that single women could live with their families, immerse themselves in their community, and evangelize through their good works. She considered the women who joined her mission her "daughters," and thus expanded, as Jesus calls us to do, our perception of family. In what ways do your perceptions restrict you? Be open to new ways of thinking, as Jesus and Saint Angela were.

2 Samuel 6:12b-15, 17-19; Mark 3:31-35 (318). "Whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother."

MEMORIAL OF THOMAS AQUINAS, PRIEST, DR OF THE CHURCH

Put your mind to it

The formidable thinking and writings of Saint Thomas Aquinas, Dominican theologian and doctor of the church, are still studied today, not only by Christian scholars but by secular philosophers as well. While Aquinas did refer to his massive and unfinished Summa Theologiae as "so much straw" when compared with what he came to discover in his relationship with Christ, he is nonetheless an important model for us today on the seemingly lost art of clear and logical thinking. We can also show Thomas respect by exploring the richness found in other philosophies and beliefs and seek to include rather than exclude, to understand more than proselytize.

2 Samuel 7:4-17; Mark 4:1-20 (319). "Those present along with the Twelve questioned him about the parables."

Save space for learning

Read just about any string of online "comments"—chances are if you're a thoughtful person you won't be able to get far—and you'll quickly realize that many people don't think much about what they say. In most virtual spaces, expressing opinions and feelings, no matter how shallow, uninformed, and irrelevant to the topic, is everything. So please note: Carelessness doesn't fly when it comes to the gospel. Jesus wants his disciples to take time to learn and ponder and explore his message before they start sharing it. As Saint Jerome bluntly put it: "Ignorance of Scripture is ignorance of Christ!" So do your spiritual homework, and after that remember to be kind.

2 Samuel 7:18-19, 24-29; Mark 4:21-25 (320). "The measure with which you measure will be measured out to you."

Put some mustard on it

The tiny mustard seed adds flavor not only to many foods but also to a number of religious traditions. Jesus used the gospel parable of the mustard seed as a model for the reign of God. To teach humility, Jewish texts compared the knowable universe to the size of a mustard seed. And the Quran states that no soul will suffer the least injustice on the Day of Judgment because even the equivalent of a mustard seed will be accounted for on God's scales of justice.

Whenever you doubt that your small efforts will make a difference, remember the quiet power of that tiny seed.

2 Samuel 11:1-4a, 5-10a, 13-17; Mark 4:26-34 (321). "To what shall we compare the Kingdom of God...? It is like a mustard seed."

MEMORIAL OF JOHN BOSCO, PRIEST

Discover your calling

When we hear the word vocation, many of us think of ordained ministry or vowed religious life. Yet each of us has a unique calling that, if discerned and embraced, would make the best use of our gifts and talents. When we haven't taken time to discover that call, our lives can feel less significant or effective than they were meant to be. In honor of Saint John Bosco (1815-88), a pioneer in vocational training, take some time to ask yourself, "Who am I called to be?" A thoughtful book, such as A Sacred Voice Is Calling by John Neafsey, or a heartfelt conversation with a wise friend can help your process of discernment.

2 Samuel 12:1-7a, 10-17; Mark 4:35-41 (322). "Who then is this whom even wind and sea obey?"

Peace be with you!

Jesus had a moment we've all had in our lives: when a curveball—an unexpected event—broke into His world, and it was a game-changer for Him personally and ministerially. His cousin, John the Baptist, was arrested by King Herod, and that type of thing never ends well. The manner in which He proceeded is an excellent template for us to keep in mind in our own lives. In the end, things—good and not so much—happen for a reason. How may this serve You, Lord?

I also want to thank all of you who contributed to the special collection for Fr. Reagan's visit with us this summer. I had only announced it at the 5:00 Vigil Mass and the 7:30 a.m. Sunday Mass when a very generous couple came forward and told me they would fund his visit. I was overwhelmed by the generosity and relieved that we would not have that added financial burden. Thank you to Lisa and Jim and all others who supported this need. We are truly blessed here at St. Joseph Church.

Stay warm and whoever is praying for snow, PLEASE STOP!!!! :

Father O'Neil

Virtues, Explained! Patience

In treating others with a spirit of patience, said Pope Francis, we “look at them ... with God’s gaze, knowing how to distinguish their faces from their faults.”

“Rushing and impatience are enemies of spiritual life,” he continued. “God is love, and those who love do not tire, they are not irascible; they do not give ultimatums. God is patient, God knows how to wait.”

Patience is sometimes referred to as being “annexed” to the moral virtue of fortitude. In practicing patience, we bear any kind of suffering for a greater good. St. Thomas Aquinas describes patience as a means to “safeguard the good of reason against sorrow, lest reason give way to sorrow” (Sum. II-II, 136, Art. 1).

The virtue of patience is a fruit of the Holy Spirit (Galatians 5:22), and as Christians who have received the Holy Spirit we are called to “be patient in tribulation” (Romans 12:12) and to “preach the message (of Christ) ... with great patience” (2 Timothy 4:2).

The Knights of Columbus want to personally thank the Pastors, Parishioners, Friends and Family for making this year's Coats For Kids Drive a huge success!

Through your overwhelming support and generosity we were able to deliver and distribute over 500 Coats, 50 sweaters and sweater shirts, 200 plus hats, gloves, mittens, and scarves to those less fortunate than ourselves. Please know that through your support hundreds of working poor and homeless will be a little warmer this winter season.

Additionally, Ignite Youth Group is so grateful to the Knights of Columbus, the participants of the Strikers Bowling Fundraiser, and for all Coats for Kids Donors. Your collective effort helped make our Annual Stuff A Box campaign a tremendous success. We were able to create and deliver 75 Boxes to Brookfield Social Services right in time for Christmas. We extend a special thank you to our Young Families Ministry who donated socks they collected from their Pancake Breakfast with St. Nick. Ignite Youth truly appreciates everyone's generosity in donating items and funds that helped to make a local child's holiday a little brighter.

Thank You and May God Bless You.
