PRAYING FOR PEACE AND REPARATION

We invite you to stay at the end of Sunday Mass – following the closing hymn – and join us in praying three “Hail Mary’s” for Peace: in our World, in our Families and in our Hearts. We also pray the Prayer to St. Michael the Archangel, for healing and reparation in our Church. The Prayer to St. Michael can be found on the back inside cover of the St. Augustine Missal.

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Embrace life

People say the darnedest things when someone dies. They say, “God took him from us” or “God must’ve had a reason.” But according to our faith, Jesus promised to rescue us from death. When, because of age or illness or injury, our mortal bodies can no longer sustain God’s precious gift of life, Jesus promised to “come again” and snatch us from the jaws of death. The Bible says, “In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died” (Wisdom 3:2). God had a reason for giving us life. And Jesus has a reason for saving us from death. Death is not part of God’s plan for us. Only life—life everlasting.

Acts 6:1-7; 1 Peter 2:4-9; John 14:1-12 (52). “I will come back again and take you to myself, so that where I am you also may be.”

The power of words

Former U.S. Poet Laureate Stanley Kunitz died at age 100, soon after publishing The Wild Braid: A Poet Reflects on a Century in the Garden. In it Kunitz describes falling in love with language as a child. Finding new words in a family dictionary, he learned meanings but loved even their sounds. “I would go out into the woods behind our house and shout my latest discovery and listen to the words reverberate. I considered it my duty to give my new words to the elements, to scatter them.” Do we forget the sheer power of our own words that carry not only meaning but are formed by our very breath, our very selves? The words we “shout” into the world, which we have a duty to shout, are incarnations of our own kindness, joy, compassion, and forgiveness.

Acts 14:5-18; John 14:21-26 (285). “Whoever loves me will keep my word.”

Look for the open door

Saint Paul had reason to suspect his attempt to bring Christ’s Good News to the Greeks was ill-fated. Even after making a cripple walk again and astounding the crowds, the Jews stoned Paul and left him for dead. All we are told at that point is that he simply stood on his feet and proceeded into the city of Derbe to continue preaching. Perplexingly, when Paul and Barnabas then return to the church in Antioch, they celebrate the door of faith now open to the Gentiles. That is a peculiar “open door” indeed that leaves one stoned and left for dead! But when failure appeared nearest at hand, Paul found opportunity. Today, find in each of your failures and misfortunes an opportunity for God’s grace to fill in.

Acts 14:19-28; John 14:27-31a (286). “They called the Church together and reported what God had done with them and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.”

Put your anger on ice

Marlene Dietrich, actress/singer of the past century, once said during a television interview that when a woman forgives her man, “she must not reheat his sins for breakfast.” Though it is not always possible to forget an offense, we can forgive and let go of the anger. This power comes from our communion with Christ, who forgives all our sins. When we abide with Christ, we produce the fruit of patience and peace that comes from God alone. The temptation is to reheat an old hurt. But we can resist that temptation and live in the love of God.

Acts 15:1-6; John 15:1-8 (287). “Remain in me, as I remain in you.”

Thursday, May 07, 2026

We’re all on the same team

The phrase “us and them” separates humanity into teams of rivals. But what happens when those teams change sides? When Saint Paul, apostle to the Gentiles, talks about “us,” he means his Jewish brothers and sisters. For Paul, “them” refers to non-Jewish followers of Jesus—which curiously now means, mostly, “us.” Heaven’s view of history and who’s who is quite fuller than ours. Isn’t it time to build more bridges and to see as God sees?

Acts 15:7-21; John 15:9-11 (288). “He made no distinction between us and them, for by faith he purified their hearts.”

How do you picture Jesus?

The New Testament is filled with images of Jesus—from a good shepherd to a mother hen, from a royal king to a dear friend. Writers, theologians, mystics, and artists also have given us many images that can help us deepen our own experience of God and stretch us in new ways. While some images may surprise us, they can also spark a new way of thinking about how God is present in our everyday life. At different times one image might speak to us more than another. Which image of Jesus do you most relate to today? Which do you find challenges you and opens you to new ways of experiencing God?

Acts 15:22-31; John 15:12-17 (289). “I have called you friends.”

It’s not a popularity contest

When beloved and famous citizens die these days, an immediate outpouring of public grief attends their passing. Something like a secular shrine is formed as multitudes contribute flowers, candles, stuffed animals, and final messages to the one they so admired. Nothing like this happened at the death of Jesus, of course—few who loved him even dared to be seen with him at the end. At his death, Jesus was despised by the powerful and disowned by the powerless. Those who followed him most nearly met a similar end: folks like Stephen, Peter, and Paul. Remember, winning the esteem of others is not the goal of Christian living, rather it is giving witness to the truth.

Acts 16:1-10; John 15:18-21 (290). “If the world hates you, realize that it hated me first.”

5TH SUNDAY OF EASTER

FROM THE PASTOR

Congratulations to our 3rd graders who received their First Holy Communion on Saturday morning. Since these little ones began the Sunday morning EDJE ReEd program, they have sat quietly while others were receiving Communion, reflecting upon the promise of their own great day when they too would be able to participate in this wonderful gift of Jesus. When asked afterwards, they all agreed it was worth the wait. May this great divine gift continue to be a source of strength for them throughout their lifetimes.

In the Gospel today from John, Jesus confirms one of His greatest promises. While speaking with the Apostles, He said, "Do not let your hearts be troubled. You have faith in God; have faith also in me. In my Father's house there are many dwelling places. I am going to prepare a place for you, so that where I am you also may be."

He told them that if they would be His disciples, there is a place for them — and for us — in His Father's house in heaven. What better gift could we have received than that? He makes the promise and offers the path; it is simply up to us.

Father O'Neil

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS
Witnesses for Jesus

This journey of faith is not always easy. Sometimes the greatest wounds are those we suffer when family members and friends wander away from God and leave us behind. The faith they had when they were younger is now strained, or they see the daily walking with Jesus to be too difficult. For them, Jesus becomes what Peter wrote about when he described Jesus as the stone that causes people to stumble and the rock that makes them fall. Our journey is hard enough, but watching a loved one stumble and fall is heart-breaking.

What are we to do in such a situation? Most importantly, we pray. We must realize that God is more powerful than us, and even if we can't make them see the truth, He can. Then we witness to the transformative power of Jesus by our own lives. We need to serve him in word and deed. We should let a joy of being a disciple enlighten our faces. Allow Jesus to work through us so that others may be drawn to him. Lastly, we must never lose hope. Many have walked long journeys alone only to find God far down the road. What will it take to bring someone to Christ? It might be an action, a word, or an emotion. We never know how certain people will be touched. That loved one is a gift from God in your life. Place them back in God's hands, and let Him pick them up if they have stumbled and fallen.
