PRAYING FOR PEACE AND REPARATION

We invite you to stay at the end of Sunday Mass – following the closing hymn – and join us in praying three “Hail Mary’s” for Peace: in our World, in our Families and in our Hearts. We also pray the Prayer to St. Michael the Archangel, for healing and reparation in our Church. The Prayer to St. Michael can be found on the back inside cover of the St. Augustine Missal.

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

TWELFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME; FATHER’S DAY

A gift list for dads

Fathers, instead of raking in the gifts this year on your special day, how about committing to doling them out? Give encouragement to the child who needs a boost. Or give a challenge if your child would benefit from that. Compliment each of your children sincerely and specifically today about a character trait you admire in them. It can range from their bravery, to their great humor, to their tenderness, to their ability to keep things stirred up in the family. You play an important role in the life of your family. Give the best gift of all: Show up for your family as the man you were meant to be. Jeremiah 20:10-13; Romans 5:12-15; Matthew 10:26-33 (94). “What I say to you in the darkness, speak in the light.”

Tend to your knitting

There aren’t many things that get Jesus’ goat, but hypocrisy is one of them, particularly when we judge others to feel superior. Most of us have all fallen into this trap at some point: mistakenly believing that we rise when we put others down. Ironically, the flaw we recognize so easily in another is often the very flaw we can’t see in ourselves. Avoid provoking the ire of Jesus today and stay focused on what needs fixing in yourself. Indeed, “This is the very perfection of a man,” says Saint Augustine, “to find out his own imperfections.” 2 Kings 17:5-8, 13-15a, 18; Matthew 7:1-5 (371). “Why do you notice the splinter in your brother’s eye, but do not perceive the wooden beam in your own eye?”

The least deserve our greatest love

Today, designated International Widows’ Day by the United Nations, is a good day to remember all families that have lost a loved one—especially families who are most vulnerable and faced with poverty, injustice, and social stigma. As Pope Benedict XVI affirmed in his encyclical Deus Caritas Est, “love for widows and orphans, prisoners, and the sick and needy of every kind is as essential” to the church “as the ministry of the sacraments and preaching of the gospel.” How can you be Christ’s hands and feet today and help provide sustenance to hurting families to lessen their suffering? 2 Kings 19:9b-11, 14-21, 31-35a, 36; Matthew 7:6, 12-14 (372). “Do to others whatever you would have them do to you.”

SOLEMNITY OF THE NATIVITY OF SAINT JOHN THE BAPTIST

“God’s gift” prepares us for love

The name John means “God’s gift,” and such was the Baptist. From the moment he came on the preaching scene, he proved himself a powerful, captivating herald of God. His bold, dramatic, austere, and uncompromising style is actually what people had in mind when they hoped for a Messiah. But John understood that his role was to prepare the way for the One who was to come. His prophetic witness and commitment to his call are his legacy to us. Share in his gift by being true to your own Christian calling. Isaiah 49:1-6; Acts 13:22-26; Luke 1:57-66, 80 (587). “He will be called John.”

God would like a word with you

Ancient philosophers thought that reason governed the universe. They called this reason the logos, Greek for “word.” In the Hebrew Bible the “word of God” was not only the way God communicated with human beings but it also had its own creative power. The New Testament, especially the beginning of the Gospel of John, says this creative power became human in Jesus. All this history testifies to the “word” being the way to God’s guidance in the real world. God can be known—and wants to be known. All you have to do is listen to God’s word—and follow it. 2 Kings 24:8-17; Matthew 7:21-29 (374). “Everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a wise man who built his house on rock.”

Keep it clean

No one quite knows where the expression “cleanliness is next to godliness” comes from. It may be an ancient Hebrew saying. John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, used it in a homily in 1791 as if it were common wisdom. It had a practical value, because being clean helped combat disease. Religions have made cleanliness a sign of God’s favor—not only the absence of dirt but also to say that one is in the right way with the divine. In his healing ministry, Jesus, though almost constantly “unclean” because of his contact with “undesirables,” also made people clean, restoring them to health and the community. To whom can you reach out a healing and welcoming hand? 2 Kings 25:1-12; Matthew 8:1-4 (375). “A leper approached, did him homage, and said, ‘Lord, if you wish, you can make me clean.’”

Words matter

In 2011, the revised Roman Missal (the U.S. translation of the Mass) underwent a number of changes. One of the more noticeable changes was in the Eucharistic Prayer: “Lord, I am not worthy to receive you . . .” became “Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof . . .” The new wording echoes the gospel story of Jesus healing the centurion’s servant from a distance. It was Christ’s word and the centurion’s faith that healed. Perhaps as we participate in the Mass these words are a good reminder that the words we use are powerful—filled with faith and capable of miracles. Lamentations 2:2, 10-14, 18-19; Matthew 8:5-17 (376). “Jesus said to the centurion, ‘You may go; as you have believed, let it be done for you.’”

“Do not be afraid,” Jesus said to the apostles. “You are worth more than a flock of sparrows.”

To understand this verse in context, his point was that if the Father is aware of all his creation and cares for even a flock of sparrows, how much more does he care for us, who were created in his image and likeness.

Each one of us who were created in God’s image and likeness were created for a purpose and our mission in life is to determine that mission and fulfill it to our best ability - Ad majorem, dei gloriam - For the greater glory of God. Quite the tall order, but made somewhat easier through self awareness and prayer. How may I serve you best, Lord?

Coming to Mass this weekend, if you parked in the lower lot, you noticed that the stairs to the upper lot may have been closed. This is due to some repairs being made to correct some concrete erosion and step restoration. As I write this on Tuesday, we are not sure if the construction will carry over the weekend. Either way, the repairs were necessary for your safety and we apologize for any inconvenience.

I would like to celebrate our newest centenarian who celebrated his 100th birthday on Thursday, Ray Conroy. Ray comes to daily Mass when he can get a ride and is usually here for the 7:30 Mass on Sunday and sits by the library. If you see Ray, offer best wishes to him on his amazing achievement. He is truly an inspiration.

God bless and be well!

Blessing of Fathers

God and Father of all creation,
we come before you today with humble hearts.
You are our model of a loving father.
When we fail and fall short of your expectations,
you are always there at the end of the day with open arms,
ready to heal the cuts and scrapes of the day and to encourage us to try again and not to give up.

We hold up these men in our midst who act in the world as fathers to their children or models of fathers for others.

Bless them in their moments of doubt and frustration with their children.
Give them warm and open hearts to forgive failures.
Provide them with the words needed for encouragement and perseverance.
We ask all this in the name of Jesus.
Amen.

One Truth.
One Youth.
