PRAYING FOR PEACE AND REPARATION

We invite you to stay at the end of Sunday Mass – following the closing hymn – and join us in praying three “Hail Mary’s” for Peace: in our World, in our Families and in our Hearts. We also pray the Prayer to St. Michael the Archangel, for healing and reparation in our Church. The Prayer to St. Michael can be found on the back inside cover of the St. Augustine Missal.

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

See with the eyes of a child

“I see dead people . . . walking around like regular people,” confessed the preternatural child in the thriller The Sixth Sense. It is not uncommon for children to be portrayed in movies and literature as possessing special powers or visionary gifts. And we know that, as the old TV show put it, “kids say the darndest things.” Because kids haven’t been completely conditioned to adult social conventions, they sometimes see and say things that “wise” adults miss entirely—or perhaps simply have forgotten how to see. If we make the effort to recover the childlike innocence and openness so prized by Jesus, God has much to reveal to us—things that until now have been hidden only by the limitations of our own vision. Zechariah 9:9-10; Romans 8:9, 11-13; Matthew 11:25-30 (100). “Although you have hidden these things from the wise and the learned you have revealed them to little ones.”

Monday, Jul 06, 2026

Love leads to faith and hope

We toss around words like fidelity and trust. The prophet Hosea uses his promiscuous wife and his faithfulness to her to show us how to remain faithful to God. Hosea decides no matter what, he will remain loyal to his wife. He will “speak to her heart” and wed her to righteousness and justice so that she “will know the Lord.” The gospel of Matthew mirrors that same faith and trust in the story of the official who asks Jesus to give him back his deceased daughter. Both Hosea and the official cannot exhibit such faith and trust without the love they have—Hosea for his wife and the official for his daughter. Without love there cannot be faith and hope. Today we pray for faith and hope and the love to make them real in our lives. Hosea 2:16, 17c-18, 21-22; Matthew 9:18-26 (383). “My daughter has just died. But come, lay your hand on her, and she will live.”

Tuesday, Jul 07, 2026

Praise each day keeps the devil away

What keeps us from praising God all day long? Oh, probably a lot of things. Bad moods. Rushing around. People who drive us nuts. Distractions besiege us that make praise the furthest thing from our minds. But as the simplest form of prayer, praise could be the easiest way to find more time for spiritual growth. Indeed, Saint John Paul II says, “One must arrange one’s life so that everything praises God.” Try offering a few silent words of praise every hour. As you drive: What wonderful trees! As you look at your children: How creative, Lord! As you cook: Food smells so good! Keep the devil off your tongue with a mouthful of praise. Hosea 8:4-7, 11-13; Matthew 9:32-38 (384). “And when the demon was driven out the mute man spoke.”

Wednesday, Jul 08, 2026

Power to God’s people

Don’t you hate it when you see young people, particularly those closest to you, doing bad things? Isn’t there some way you can take charge of the situation and turn them back to good? Evidently there is. “To convert somebody, go and take them by the hand and guide them,” advises Saint Thomas Aquinas. That may not always be physically possible, but we can lead by example. When we really believe in God’s reign and proclaim it by the way we live, then we experience the authority over evil that Jesus gives us. To trust in God always, to forgive wrongdoing, and to care for others is to tap into the life-changing power of God’s kingdom. Don’t be afraid to use the power God gave you.

Hosea 10:1-3, 7-8, 12; Matthew 10:1-7 (385). “Jesus . . . gave them authority over unclean spirits to drive them out and to cure every disease and every illness.”

Thursday, Jul 09, 2026

Bless all in this house

Have you ever blessed your home? Blessing your home brings the presence of God to it and all who live in or visit it. Such a blessing asks for God’s protection of your home and reminds those who come through the door to dwell in holiness. It also helps us remember how all good things come from God. You can ask a priest to bless your home, or you can gather your household and do it yourself. A home-blessing ritual is available in the book Catholic Household Blessings and Prayers, published by the U.S. bishops. May God fill your hearts and homes with peace. Hosea 11:1-4, 8e-9; Matthew 10:7-15 (386). “If the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it.”

Friday, Jul 10, 2026

Love leaves an impression

Sonnets of love describe with passionate detail the merits of the beloved that draw such devotion: eyes, hair, lips. Who would declare a burning love in vague or abstract terms? Would such a theoretical declaration ever be convincing? In the same way, Pope Francis argued, “There is no abstract love; it does not exist. Concrete love is the one that gets its hands dirty.” Our love is shaped by our actions. We step into the mix and make our intentions known. We say, “I love you” but more important, we show that we love in the way we live each day. We make our mark for the benefit of others to ensure our love is a real and tangible thing. Hosea 14:2-10; Matthew 10:16-23 (387). “Let him who is wise understand these things; let him who is prudent know them.”

MEMORIAL OF BENEDICT, ABBOT

A good guide to follow

Saint Benedict’s wisdom has guided people for centuries. Among the gems of his Rule are the first words: “Listen carefully,” followed by this distillation of other key teachings: The search for security, wealth, and salvation is futile. Instead, treat each hour as a gift. See in each day reasons for joy. Reverence the tools of work like the vessels of the altar. Small, daily brush strokes create the stunning canvas. Important decisions should be made with consultation, gaining the richness of different viewpoints. Learn from relationships not to take oneself too seriously. Know the value of silence. Choose one of these guidelines to follow each day for a week. Then start again! Isaiah 6:1-8; Matthew 10:24-33 (388). “Even all the hairs of your head are counted.”

14TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

FROM THE PASTOR

On July 4, 1776, the 13 colonies severed their ties to England and King George III. This “Declaration of Independence” was authored primarily by Thomas Jefferson, and it established the nation’s core principles of natural rights, equality, and government by the consent of the governed. After listing their 27 grievances against King George—accusing him of violating the colonists’ rights, interfering with colonial legislatures, and imposing unfair taxes without consent, all while ignoring the colonists’ repeated petitions for peace and justice—the delegates concluded they had no viable option but to separate.

The Declaration of Independence declared the thirteen colonies to be “Free and Independent States,” fully absolved of allegiance to the British Crown.

This week and this weekend, we offer a prayer of thanks to our Almighty God for allowing our great nation to be born under His fatherly care 250 years ago. Like any human endeavor—even one divinely inspired—we have had our share of missteps alongside many laudable achievements. As a nation, we have always acknowledged these shortcomings and have endeavored to course-correct, learning from them, while being thankful for the great sacrifices we have made as a nation for the rest of humanity.

Please take some time this weekend to read (or reread) this magnificent document and thank God for those who created it and those who have defended it—even with their lives—to keep our country free.

May you have a wonderful celebration with family and friends this weekend! Happy Fourth!

Father O'Neil

The Miracle Club is a heartfelt and uplifting film about faith, forgiveness, friendship, and the healing power of God’s grace. Set in Ireland, it follows a group of women on a pilgrimage to Lourdes as they wrestle with past hurts, broken relationships, and the hope for miracles. Rather than focusing only on physical healing, the film beautifully illustrates how God works in the human heart through repentance, reconciliation, compassion, and trust.

GOSPEL

Jesus knows that you can get tired. Doing your best in school is hard work. You also may feel tired, sad, or left out on the playground. Whenever you start to feel tired, remember that Jesus is with you. Learn from Jesus. Follow his example. Be honest. Be kind. Help others do the right thing. Jesus will help you.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS
Faith Like a Child

If you Google Search recommendations on how to raise generous children, almost every list of ideas begins with — or at least contains — the directive for adults to be good models of generosity themselves. Our children learn from our actions much more than from our words. Of course, when I think back over the years while my children were growing up, I think I may have learned as much from them as they learned from me. There is a time between early childhood and middle school where a child seems to be freer to give and share than at any other time in life. It is around the age of First Communion when the cries of “mine” turn to laughter and smiles, and the urge to be a part of something bigger than oneself leads to sharing. Before you know it, the child hits the pre-teen years, and once again, he or she becomes the center of the universe.

I believe that the previous paragraph is all true, however, the stages described seem to repeat themselves throughout adulthood. Don't you agree? Sometimes we fall into seeing ourselves as the center of the universe, or we become consumed by our state in life or with what we have acquired. Also, we at times are generous and loving people. It is sin that draws us back into ourselves and away from any meaningful life of stewardship and generosity. In order to be freed for love, we need role models to help us see what really matters. We need to reflect on the example of many of our brothers and sisters in Christ. And, yes, we need to look to children who may be at the point in their lives where sharing is fun, and love is something in abundance.
