FIFTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Gardening lessons

If the word of God is like a seed, and Christ is the sower, what is the soil? Our hearts and minds. When we talk about the word of God, we can mean many things: the gospel message, scripture, the Incarnation, the creative spirit of God that goes forth to create and inspire. If this word finds us open and receptive and willing to respond, it bears good fruit. The word calls us to hear, understand, believe, and act accordingly. One of the challenges of faith is to be the good soil. Cultivate it in your life.

Isaiah 55:10-11; Romans 8:18-23; Matthew 13:1-23 (103). "The seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it."

Peace has its dividing lines

Those who side with Christ will find themselves unexpectedly at odds with members of their own household as well as friends, neighbors, and political leaders. As Pope Leo XIV said, "Anyone who is a disciple of Christ, the Prince of Peace, is never on the side of those who once wielded the sword and today drop bombs." Religious principles divide as often as they unite. Be prepared for opposition in tender places, including your own heart as you bring the sword to your old selfish ways and navigate the path of true peace.

Isaiah 1:10-17; Matthew 10:34-11:1 (389). "I have come to bring not peace but the sword."

MEMORIAL OF KATERI TEKAKWITHA

A small but powerful light

Blessed Kateri was a child of the often hostile social and political collision of the Old European world with the Native American New World. Kateri, part of the Mohawk tribe, wore this confrontation physically upon her face, being marred and half-blinded by the small pox carried over by Europeans. However, as Jesuit missionary Father Pierre Cholenec reported, at her deathbed the face so disfigured by the world suddenly became transfigured by Christ. She became so beautiful before death that the French priest could only conclude she had been received into heaven at that moment. Kateri experienced a kind of transfiguration. Through this experience she was claimed as a citizen not of the world old or new, but of the heavenly kingdom. Where are our ultimate allegiances?

Isaiah 7:1-9; Matthew 11:20-24 (390). "Will you be exalted to heaven?"

MEMORIAL OF BONAVENTURE, BISHOP, DR OF THE CHURCH

Take a look in the mirror

The theologian and Doctor of the Church Saint Bonaventure (1221-74) is often called the second founder of the Franciscans, because he held the order together in the critical generation after Saint Francis of Assisi. Bonaventure viewed the natural world as a reflection of God, where created things act as mirrors of the Creator's beauty and wisdom: "Every creature is a divine word because it proclaims God." He believed that seeing Christ in all created things and contemplating Christ's sacrifice on the cross would inspire gratitude, praise, and joy among Christians and eventually lead to union with Christ. Take steps toward that union by looking lovingly upon the creatures—human and otherwise—whom you encounter each day.

Faith brings many blessings

When it comes to God's blessings, Matthew's gospel highlights the spiritual blessings Christ promises: "Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be satisfied" (Matthew 5:6). Luke, on the other hand, emphasizes the physical blessings Jesus brings to his people: "Blessed are you who are now hungry, for you will be satisfied" (Luke 6:21). Both kinds of hunger are real. In the face of injustice, seeing the scales set right brings relief, just as food satisfies physical hunger. But how do we endure the time between what should be and what is? That is where faith comes in. Trust in God's promises, and let that hope sustain you.

Isaiah 26:7-9, 12, 16-19; Matthew 11:28-30 (392). "You will find rest for yourselves."

Kindly look around

The Greek words Kyrie eleison are some of the most ancient—and powerful—words of the Christian liturgy: "Lord, have mercy." Typically we find these words in the penitential rite where the church asks God's mercy and forgiveness. But these words are not just for penance; they are words of life and encouragement to the weary soul. It is as if we are saying, "Look kindly upon me." This call for mercy is not just directed toward God; it is also part of the fabric of our relationships with ourselves and the world. We can look kindly upon ourselves, instead of berating ourselves for what we didn't get done. We can look kindly upon those around us filled with fear and hatred. We can look kindly upon the fragile Earth and God's good creation. Mercy is calling you everywhere you turn.

Isaiah 38:1-6, 21-22, 7-8; Matthew 12:1-8 (393). "I desire mercy, not sacrifice."

MEMORIAL OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

See Mary's timeless witness

A fair amount of confusion exists around the subject of Marian apparitions. Do Catholics believe in them? Perhaps the best answer would be: "Some do and some don't." In rare cases the Catholic Church may judge an apparition to be worthy of belief, but that belief is never required of Catholics. According to the Marianum Pontifical Institute in Rome, of the 295 reported apparitions studied by the Holy See through the centuries, only 12 have been approved as worthy of belief. Such an apparition is believed to offer evidence of Mary's continuing presence in the life of the church. Whether we choose to believe an apparition or not, we can see that Mary offers a timeless witness of the full response to God's plan for our lives: "Thy will be done."

Micah 2:1-5; Matthew 12:14-21 (394). "Behold, my servant whom I have chosen."

"What's a priest's favorite type of taco?"

"Tacos Al Pastor."

FUN FACT! This taco term means "shepherd style" in Spanish and was inspired by Lebanese immigrants who made lamb in Mexico. Mexicans adopted the style and made their own (yummy) version. "Pastor" means "shepherd," something he does for his congregation.

CLP

This weekend we hear the Parable of the Sower and the Seed. There is no blanket application to this Gospel passage, as it tends to apply differently to each person at varying times in their lives. The receptivity of the "soil" to the "seed" represents the receptivity of the soul to the guidance offered in Scripture. If the Scripture passage is sown into a hardened heart, the chances of it bearing much fruit will most likely require a miracle.

Faith is very difficult to live out for those who struggle with the virtue of humility. The humility of the individual determines the quality of the seedbed in which the seed of faith can germinate. Prayer and humility determine the richness of the soil. If you struggle with pride, try meditating on the One who is hanging on the Cross. It does wonders for that struggle.

We continue to make progress on the Memorial Wall, which is being considered for the hill area to the right of Our Blessed Mother and the Crucifix in the side yard of the church. We will have some renderings of the hill and the proposed memorial wall within the next few weeks. We plan to invite a representative from the Diocesan Office of Catholic Cemeteries to speak at all the Sunday Masses in the near future to discuss what other local churches have undertaken on their grounds. More information to follow.

God bless you!

Father Stu is an inspiring film based on the true story of Stuart Long, a boxer-turned-priest whose unexpected journey of faith transformed his life. GOSPEL

The farmer is God. The seed is God's Word. That makes the soil your heart. If your heart is angry or stubborn, God's Word can't sink in. If your heart is shallow, God's Word can't take root. Instead, you will worry about getting power or riches. If your heart is discouraged by people who hate God, your faith will choke. If your heart is soft, God's Word will change your life, and it will show.

Vacation Bible School: A Week of Growing as Changemakers

What an incredible week we shared at Vacation Bible School! We are so grateful to our wonderful campers, dedicated teen and adult volunteers, and supportive families who made this year's VBS such a joyful success.

Throughout the week, our campers discovered what it means to be Changemakers by exploring God's Word and learning how each of us can make a difference in the world through faith and action.

Our Bible stories helped bring this theme to life:

- Nicodemus reminded us that changemakers ask questions and seek to grow in their faith.
- Candace showed us that working together with others helps us solve problems and accomplish great things.
- Barnabas taught us to recognize the needs of others and generously share what we have.
- Peter and Cornelius helped us see that changemakers are bridge builders, welcoming others and sharing God's love with everyone.
- Finally, through Isaiah's vision of a new heaven and a new earth, we learned that God invites us to help create a world filled with hope, peace, justice, and love.

Beyond the Bible stories, campers enjoyed music, games, crafts, science activities, snacks, and plenty of laughter while building new friendships and growing in their faith. It was a joy to watch them embrace the week's message and discover that no one is too young to make a positive impact in their families, schools, parish, and community.

Thank you to everyone who helped make this week possible. We pray that the seeds planted during VBS continue to grow, inspiring our young people to be faithful changemakers wherever God calls them.
