FEAST OF THE EXALTATION OF THE HOLY CROSS

Understanding cross culture

It's not always easy to face the things that hurt us or our loved ones. So why would we lift up the cross, honoring that which symbolizes pain and the death of Jesus? As Christians we choose to face the cross. In doing so we confront not only the reality of suffering and death but also the hope and belief in new life, in that "something more" of salvation. And somehow in facing our pain, instead of pretending it isn't there or whitewashing the reality, there is acknowledgement of our vulnerability. We become open to healing. The exaltation of the cross is not only a reminder of Jesus' death but of his Resurrection. It is an invitation to lift up our own pain and find in it a path to healing and wholeness.

Numbers 21:4b-9; Philippians 2:6-11; John 3:13-17 (638). "So must the Son of Man be lifted up, so that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life."

MEMORIAL OF OUR LADY OF SORROWS

Seven ways to know Mary

Pop quiz on Catholic tradition: Name the "seven sorrows" in the life of the Virgin Mary. OK, time's up! While all seven may not have come to mind quickly, here's a tip: They're all found in gospel passages. Today is a good day to read and ponder them: the Prophecy of Simeon (Luke 2:34); the Flight into Egypt (Matthew 2:13); the Boy Jesus in the Temple (Luke 2:43); the Way of the Cross (Luke 23:27); the Crucifixion of Jesus (John 19:26); the Descent from the Cross (John 19:39); the Burial of Jesus (Luke 23:55).

1 Timothy 2:1-8; John 19:25-27 or Luke 2:33-35 (443/639). "He said to his mother, 'Woman, behold, your son.'"

MEMORIAL OF CORNELIUS, POPE, AND CYPRIAN, BISHOP, MARTYRS United in welcome

Cornelius and Cyprian are remembered and celebrated together because of their united efforts to welcome people back into the church. At the time (ca. 250) there was rancorous and strident debate over how and even whether to allow "sinners" to rejoin the Christian community. One group advocated severe punishment and often permanent excommunication. Cornelius and Cyprian, on the other hand, pushed for leniency grounded in the forgiveness modeled by Jesus. Ostracism can never lead to oneness and wholeness. In honor of Cornelius and Cyprian we might ask ourselves, "In what ways have I excluded others, even briefly, and how can I make amends?"

1 Timothy 3:1-13; Luke 7:11-17 (444). "God has visited his people."

Allow wisdom in

When the wisdom of God comes calling at your door, it's always a good idea to receive her—and, oh yes, Hebrew scripture compares holy wisdom to a woman. The smart person allows wisdom to enter their life because she comes from God, has always been with God, and embodies God's creative power and teaching (Torah), three pretty important things. Saint Paul called Christ the wisdom of God, as have Christian saints and scholars ever since. "When we speak about wisdom, we are speaking of Christ," said Saint Ambrose, the fourth-century bishop of Milan. How can you entertain wisdom today?

1 Timothy 3:14-16; Luke 7:31-35 (445). "Wisdom is vindicated by all her children."

Thursday, Sep 18, 2025

Take bold steps to break barriers

As much as society creates and perpetuates divisions and privileges based on gender, color, orientation, ability, income, religion, Christians must be equally persistent in breaking those barriers, just as Jesus did. Jesus' actions were often condemned as audacious and rebellious. But he was actually modeling reciprocity and inclusivity. In a 2022 speech on welcoming people with disabilities, Pope Francis explained that Christ's gaze on the people he met was "a gaze of tenderness and mercy above all for those who were excluded. For this reason, every time the Christian community transforms indifference into proximity, and exclusion into belonging, it fulfills its prophetic mission." What part will you play in advancing this audacious mission of universal welcome?

1 Timothy 4:12-16; Luke 7:36-50 (446). "If this man were a prophet, he would know who and what sort of woman this is who is touching him."

Friday, Sep 19, 2025

What will you leave behind?

We've all heard the adage, "You can't take it with you." Although it's a true statement, it's not a very inspiring one. Another way to say the same thing is to ask, "What will you leave behind?" Consider the wisdom of the ancient Greek statesman Pericles: "What you leave behind is not what is engraved on stone monuments, but what is woven into the lives of others." What stories and witness will you bequeath to your heirs? Saint Paul urges us to "compete well for the faith" and pursue righteousness, devotion, faith, love, patience, and gentleness. That would be quite a legacy for the next generation.

1 Timothy 6:2c-12; Luke 8:1-3 (447). "For we brought nothing into the world, just as we shall not be able to take anything out of it."

MEMORIAL OF ANDREW KIM TAE-GŌN, PRIEST, AND PAUL CHŌNG HA-SANG, AND COMPANIONS, MARTYRS

Cultivate a death-defying faith

While an underground and prohibited faith in Korea, Catholicism had taken root among laypeople 12 years before a priest arrived in 1836. Some 4,000 Catholics had learned the faith from pamphlets smuggled in from China. Catholics in Korea faced many hardships in those years, including the martyrdom of today's saints, but they kept their faith alive until finally gaining religious freedom in 1883. When the desire is there, faith is possible under all kinds of circumstances. Stay strong in your faith as you deal with hardship in your own life. For inspiration, remember the words of Saint Paul Chông Ha-sang when he was asked to renounce his faith: "I have told you that I am a Christian, and will be one until my death."

1 Timothy 6:13-16; Luke 8:4-15 (448). "Some seed fell on good soil, and when it grew, it produced fruit a hundredfold."

Peace be with you!

This Sunday, we celebrate the Feast of the Exaltation of the Cross. “Exaltation,” a celebratory word, and “Cross,” a word often associated with suffering, seem very contradictory, indeed. And to the unenlightened, that would be a correct assumption, but to enlightened Christians, these words belong together and, in fact, are quite complementary and a source of humble gratitude and love. In the Gospel reading from John, we hear how the instrument of Jesus’ suffering, the Cross, was and is the ultimate source of His victory and our salvation and healing.

We are just a week away from our Annual Family Picnic, and there are many punch-list items being addressed by the Picnic Committee. If you have a minute after Mass, please stop by the sign-up tables in the Narthex and see if there is any way you might be able to lend a hand. You can purchase tickets at the table on the other side of the Narthex for a discount, as well. Again, I want to thank Mike and Bill and the rest of the Picnic Committee for all their efforts again this year.

Our Parish Council President, Andy Pacuk, is working hard arranging the schedule for our church flooring project, which will begin in mid-October. We will be having carpet and tile installed, so the church itself will be in disarray. We will need to move the Masses into the gym for a few weeks while this project is completed. I will have more on that next week.

Our E.D.J.E. Religious Education program is well underway again this year. Please keep our little ones in your prayers as they learn about Jesus and their faith. We appreciate all our regular 9:00 a.m. Mass attendees who graciously step back to allow us to run our wonderful Mass-based program. By the time these children receive the Sacrament of Confirmation in sixth grade, they will know the Mass and their prayers, which will serve them very well later on in life.

Lastly, by popular acclaim from our older IGNITERS who are now in high school, our very successful IGNITE Youth Group is now expanding to 7th–12th grades. Check the bulletin for more info.

God love you!

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC – BENEATH THE SURFACE

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

The Cross is Not Negotiable

“Holiness isn’t for wimps,” Mother Angelica famously said. “And the cross isn’t negotiable, sweetheart — it’s a requirement.”

I love Mother Angelica, and I love this quote. Following God is tough, and to do it you have to make a decision to be tough, to endure tough things — and ultimately, to love the toughness of it all, because within that struggle God meets us with mercy and salvation.

But in light of today’s readings, I think Mother Angelica would forgive me for tweaking her words a tiny bit.

Holiness is for wimps, because the cross isn’t negotiable.

When the unfaithful among the Israelites were bitten by the serpents, they were healed by looking upon the instrument of their suffering: the serpent itself, mounted on Moses’ staff. With a literary flourish that puts Homer and Shakespeare to shame, God inverts that primitive symbol. To heal us, he invites us to look upon the cross — the sacrifice which achieved our redemption.

Jesus came here to die on that cross for us. For the wimps. Because we couldn’t do it ourselves, even if we tried. We couldn’t right all of our wrongs, not if we had a million years to do it. We would keep screwing it up. We would keep failing. We’re wimps; that’s what we do.

But the cross — the cross is a magnificent invitation to something more. Divinity Himself, assuming the cloak of flesh and the weight of sin, so that when we look at the cross we might recognize ourselves. So that we might see what we have been, what we are, what we could be.

And none of it is negotiable.
