

John Healey MP
Chancellor of the Exchequer
HM Treasury
1. Horse Guards Road
LONDON
SW1A 2HQ

8th October 2026

Dear Chancellor,

I start this Open Letter to you with the worrying observation that, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, you are a member and supporter of the Fabian Society. It is also to be noted that your immediate predecessor, Rachel Reeves MP, is too a Fabian...as is the current Governor of the Bank of England, Andrew Bailey.

It is also on public record that our new Prime Minister, Andy Burnham MP, is a strong advocate for the Fabian Society, as are three members of your own Treasury team...Emma Reynolds MP, James Murray MP and Lucy Rigby MP.

With this clearly very influential think tank in mind, not to mention the current hysterical, bogus and completely pre-planned Fabian 'war drums' that are now starting to be sounded against Russia (for which the British people will not be falling for), two books have recently come onto my radar. The first was The Milner-Fabian Conspiracy – How an international elite is taking over and destroying Europe, America and the World by Ioan Ratiu. This was published in 2015 and the entire book can now be read here.

The second, which I have just finished reading, is The Fabian Society – The Masters of the Conspiracy Exposed by Guy Boulianne. This book was first published in French in 2019 and in English last year. As with the first book, the evidence portrayed is compelling and is extremely worrying to say the least. It would seem to confirm that something is dreadfully amiss in the way that our country has been...and is being...quite deliberately hollowed out and distressed by using the age-old Fabian ploy of 'permeation' or stealth.

And both books explain perfectly the way in which I have been treated by your predecessor, the Rt. Hon. Rachel Reeves MP. My suspicions as to why she was determined not to answer six very clear questions about strategic finance have been confirmed by the devastating content of these two books. The blunt truth is that the British people are being duped on a truly massive scale and this must come to an end on YOUR watch. Put simply, the game is up!

In your Growth Speech on Monday 7th September, you stated that your forthcoming Budget is to be "a roadmap to fiscal devolution". In the light of my five previous and failed attempts to elicit proper and comprehensive answers to those six politely-put questions (sent to your predecessor by my MP, Tim Farron, between October 2024 and March 2026), I would strongly suggest to you that it would be far better for the British people if your Budget was to become 'a roadmap to fiscal truth and freedom'.

With this in mind, I am now giving you the opportunity to answer those six questions comprehensively before you give your first Budget. They are:

1. As the Governor of the Bank of England is ultimately responsible to HM Treasury and to Parliament for his actions, when Andrew Bailey returns from his strategic bi-monthly meetings of the Economic Consultative Committee at the Bank for International Settlements in Basle, Switzerland, do you, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, receive a full and formal briefing from him in person as to what was discussed and what decisions were made?
2. Is Professor Richard Werner, who is one of the world's leading economists, correct in his public pronouncement that the City of London is classed legally as a state within a state and, if this is in fact correct, how can the Bank of England, that's physically located in a foreign state with its own form of sovereign governance, be allowed to have responsibility over our nation's finances in the way it does?
3. On becoming the Chancellor of the Exchequer, were you already aware of what happened on August 7th 1914 and the incredible success of the Treasury-issued, debt-free and interest-free 'Bradbury Pound' in immediately preventing a complete collapse of the British economy at the start of World War One?
4. Is the UK Government moving us into a form of fiscal governance based around Stakeholder Capitalism as proposed by the World Economic Forum?
5. Will you now announce the complete expansion of the M0 fiscal mechanism (currently used by HM Treasury to create the debt-free and interest-free coinage used by our nation) so as to properly fund with debt-free and interest-free Treasury Sovereign Money our essential public services, vital infrastructure and strategic industries?
6. Are you at all concerned, in your capacity as Chancellor of the Exchequer, that the entire global financial and banking system, including the volatile and pivotal financial markets, is all in the hands of powerful and private people who are unelected, unaccountable and who meet in complete secrecy to decide how much money...or, to be much more accurate, how little money... the world is allowed to spend?

With the current refusal by HM Treasury (all five attempts to get a meaningful response from Rachel Reeves MP carefully documented here) to answer these six strategic fiscal questions of immense importance, simple logic decrees that both Westminster and Whitehall would appear to be working for the selfish and vested interests of the City of London and not for the well-being and prosperity of the British people as a whole.

Chancellor, I am now giving you the opportunity to set the record straight before you present your Budget to the British people in just under three weeks time. Failure to promptly answer these six polite but searching questions in a comprehensive and detailed way will confirm beyond all reasonable doubt that our country has indeed been hijacked and taken over by a corporate, Marxist and quite criminal mind-set that uses gradual stealth, gross deception and high treason to achieve its goals – exactly as is outlined in those two aforementioned books!

I now await your prompt, respectful and detailed response.

Yours sincerely,

Justin Walker – The Great Rising (www.the-great-rising.org)
