Saint Luke's Episcopal Church

It is the parish custom to observe silence prior to the start of the Eucharist. Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent, for this is the House of God. Before the service, speak to the Lord, during the service, let the Lord speak to you; after the service, speak to one another.

We invite you to join us as an active participant in our worship of God. This bulletin is your guide to our worship. You will find three books in front of you that contain most of the material needed for this service. We will use The Book of Common Prayer [BCP], The Hymnal 1982 [H], and Lift Every Voice and Sing, II [L]. [S] denotes service music which is found in the front of the hymnal.

First Lesson

Exodus 16:2-15

Lector: A reading from the Book of Exodus

The whole congregation of the Israelites complained against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness. The Israelites said to them, “If only we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the fleshpots and ate our fill of bread; for you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger.” Then the Lord said to Moses, “I am going to rain bread from heaven for you, and each day the people shall go out and gather enough for that day. In that way I will test them, whether they will follow my instruction or not. On the sixth day, when they prepare what they bring in, it will be twice as much as they gather on other days.” So Moses and Aaron said to all the Israelites, “In the evening you shall know that it was the Lord who brought you out of the land of Egypt, and in the morning you shall see the glory of the Lord, because he has heard your complaining against the Lord. For what are we, that you complain against us?” And Moses said, “When the Lord gives you meat to eat in the evening and your fill of bread in the morning, because the Lord has heard the complaining that you utter against him—what are we? Your complaining is not against us but against the Lord.” Then Moses said to Aaron, “Say to the whole congregation of the Israelites, ‘Draw near to the Lord, for he has heard your complaining.’ “And as Aaron spoke to the whole congregation of the Israelites, they looked toward the wilderness, and the glory of the Lord appeared in the cloud. The Lord spoke to Moses and said, “I have heard the complaining of the Israelites; say to them, ‘At twilight you shall eat meat, and in the morning you shall have your fill of bread; then you shall know that I am the Lord your God.’” In the evening quails came up and covered the camp; and in the morning there was a layer of dew around the camp. When the layer of dew lifted, there on the surface of the wilderness was a fine flaky substance, as fine as frost on the ground. When the Israelites saw it, they said to one another, “What is it?” For they did not know what it was. Moses said to them, “It is the bread that the Lord has given you to eat.

The Epistle

Philippians 1:21-30

Lector: A reading from the Letter of Paul to the Philippians

To me, living is Christ and dying is gain. If I am to live in the flesh, that means fruitful labor for me; and I do not know which I prefer. I am hard pressed between the two: my desire is to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better; but to remain in the flesh is more necessary for you. Since I am convinced of this, I know that I will remain and continue with all of you for your progress and joy in faith, so that I may share abundantly in your boasting in Christ Jesus when I come to you again. Only, live your life in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that, whether I come and see you or am absent and hear about you, I will know that you are standing firm in one spirit, striving side by side with one mind for the faith of the gospel, and are in no way intimidated by your opponents. For them this is evidence of their destruction, but of your salvation. And this is God's doing. For he has graciously granted you the privilege not only of believing in Christ, but of suffering for him as well-- since you are having the same struggle that you saw I had and now hear that I still have.

“Jesus proclaimed the Gospel of the kingdom and cured every disease among the people.” (Mt.4:23)

The Holy Gospel

Priest The Holy Gospel ✠ of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Matthew People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Jesus said, “The kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard. After agreeing with the laborers for the usual daily wage, he sent them into his vineyard. When he went out about nine o’clock, he saw others standing idle in the marketplace; and he said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard, and I will pay you whatever is right.’ So they went. When he went out again about noon and about three o’clock, he did the same. And about five o’clock he went out and found others standing around; and he said to them, ‘Why are you standing here idle all day?’ They said to him, ‘Because no one has hired us.’ He said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard.’ When evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his manager, ‘Call the laborers and give them their pay, beginning with the last and then going to the first.’ When those hired about five o’clock came, each of them received the usual daily wage. Now when the first came, they thought they would receive more; but each of them also received the usual daily wage. And when they received it, they grumbled against the landowner, saying, ‘These last worked only one hour, and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.’ But he replied to one of them, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong; did you not agree with me for the usual daily wage? Take what belongs to you and go; I choose to give to this last the same as I give to you. Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or are you envious because I am generous?’ So the last will be first, and the first will be last.”

Election Engagement

We recognize election engagement as an act of Christian stewardship and a tangible way to love our neighbors. Our mandate to care for God's world and people compels us, morally and spiritually, to vote—and to help ensure voting access for others. Election engagement also means we seek to stay informed; critically evaluate information before we share or act on it; and engage in respectful political dialogue even when we disagree.

Learn more below about specific ways you and your congregation can get involved in the election process, as well as what The Episcopal Church has officially said in voting-related resolutions.

How can I be involved?

Below are some steps and resources to guide you as you prepare for Election Day.

- Register to vote or confirm you are registered. Visit Vote.org.
- Find your polling place or request an absentee/mail-in ballot. Visit Vote.org and be sure to learn who and what is on your ballot.
- Vote. If you have problems casting your vote, contact the Election Protection hotline at 866-OUR-VOTE (866-687-8683) in English, or 888-VE-Y-VOTA (888-839-8682) en español. Also check out resources on their website.
- Become a poll worker. Learn more from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, and find resources from Power the Polls.

What can my congregation do?

Find ideas and resources to help your congregation ensure others in your community have access to voting.

- Help people register to vote or confirm they are registered. Share Vote.org.

- Help people find their polling location or learn about absentee and mail-in voting. Share Vote.org.
- Find and share information about voting with a criminal history or without a physical address. Laws vary by state. Use and share this resource from the Brennan Center for Justice to inform people about their eligibility to vote.
- Offer childcare. Identify Safe Church-trained volunteers to provide free childcare on Election Day. This is also something people who are not eligible to vote can do to support those who are eligible and wish to vote.
- Organize rides. Match people willing to offer transportation with those who need a ride to the polls. This is also something people who are not eligible to vote can do. Check your local election bureau to confirm churches can do this.
- Clergy may serve as poll chaplains. Learn more from Faiths United to Save Democracy.
- Engage on social media. Demonstrate your church's commitment to our common life during election season by posting on social channels. Below are some sample posts:
 - When we vote, we publicly declare our commitment to love our neighbor and to seek the common good. Let's spread the word that we #VoteFaithfully.
 - I listen, I pray, and I #VoteFaithfully on Election Day.
 - I #VoteFaithfully because voting is a commitment we make to our community.
- Provide food and water for people at the polls. Find guidance from Interfaith America and confirm local laws on this.
- Learn about disinformation. The U.S. Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency has a guide to dealing with disinformation.
- Monitor and publicize new state procedures. Keep your community informed about any changes in voting, including early, mail-in, and absentee voting. Always share trustworthy information and validated links to your local or state websites.

The recommendations listed above have been vetted to comply with 501(c)(3) regulations from the Internal Revenue Service. Churches, as nonprofit organizations, must follow certain guidelines when participating in elections. Churches may not campaign, openly or otherwise, for or against candidates for public office. IRS guidelines permit houses of worship to involve their members in the political process through education, voter registration, and candidate participation in town halls. Here are more resources on what your church can and cannot do during election season. The IRS has several resources that you can use as a guide for your election engagement activities: Publication 1828 (Rev. 8-2015); Political Campaigns and Charities | Stay Exempt; and IR-2003.
