League and proprietor agreements

Agreements reached between bowling center management and league officers are basic to the bowling game. If proprietors and bowlers could not be depended upon to keep their word it would be impossible for the proprietor to conduct his business or the league to operate with any degree of certainty.

Here's what's involved

Both the proprietor and league make a definite commitment.

- * The proprietor agrees to furnish his lanes and equipment at a certain designated time at a specified price.
- * The league agrees to bowl at the designated time for the length of the agreement at the specified price.
- * The agreement cannot be changed except upon mutual agreement between both parties.

Association's involvement

Neither the ABC national office nor the local association can enter into the agreement except to counsel and advise. To do so means ABC or the local association would be assuming the rather serious role of agent and therefore could be held responsible for any obligations a league may fail to fulfill.

Neither the local association nor ABC can enter into the commercial aspects of the game. Both groups must refrain from assuming controls normally reserved for governmental agencies. Therefore, the league as an independent purchaser must negotiate its agreement with the center as an independent business and neither the ABC nor the local association can become a part of these negotiations.
