A Life on Earth

This year we are celebrating the 100th Birthday of Sir David Attenborough the amazing writer, broadcaster and naturalist.

Although born in Middlesex, Sir David grew up in Leicester so here in Leicestershire we are happy to consider him "one of our own". Most of us have grown up learning to understand, care for and appreciate the natural world through his many TV programmes and through his advocacy for environmental causes.

Amateur and professional artists, schools and community groups have created a colourful gallery of celebratory paintings all of which have been inspired by Sir David and the natural world.
