CLAIRCOGNIZANT MEDIUM PRACTICE

Effective October 2026

I work as a claircognizant medium, and I approach this work with seriousness, restraint, and ethical responsibility. I do not operate as an open-access service, nor do I offer my work on a transactional basis. Private sessions are offered through referral and selective inquiry, and alignment is established before any session is scheduled.

I do not make fear-based claims, promises of certainty, or assertions of absolute accuracy. Insight is contextual and interpretive, meant to support reflection and personal responsibility, not dependence. I do not use my work to influence, coerce, or control decisions.

I maintain strict confidentiality and discretion for everyone I work with. Protecting privacy is not optional in my practice; it is foundational.

I do not provide medical, legal, psychological, or psychiatric diagnosis or treatment. I have, however, created educational and reflective work intended to assist people navigating concerns in these areas. That work is complementary and does not replace care or advice from a licensed professional.

Payment reflects reserved time, preparation, and professional boundaries. All sessions are final and non-refundable.

I reserve the right to decline or discontinue work when alignment, readiness, or ethical boundaries are not present. My responsibility is to the integrity of the work first, always.

This practice is guided by discernment, accountability, and respect for both the seen and unseen dimensions of human experience.
