Recessional Hymn: Missal #190 From All That Dwell Below the Skies

This Sunday's Gospel places us on a hillside with Jesus, looking out over a crowd of ordinary people carrying extraordinary burdens. St. Matthew tells us that Jesus "went up the mountain," sat down, and began to teach. This moment matters. Mountains are where God speaks. Moses received the Ten Commandments on Sinai; now Jesus, the New Moses, proclaims the Beatitudes—often called the "new Ten Commandments" of the New Testament, not because they replace God's law, but because they reveal its deepest purpose: to shape a people whose hearts look like His.

What makes the Beatitudes so surprising is that Jesus does not begin by saying, "Blessed are the successful," "Blessed are the impressive," or "Blessed are those who always get their way." Instead, He speaks blessing over the poor in spirit, the meek, those who mourn, and those who hunger and thirst for righteousness. In other words, He blesses the ones the world often overlooks. He calls "blessed" the very people who might feel least blessed.

And here is the key: Jesus is not romanticizing suffering. He is revealing the truth about the Kingdom of God. The Beatitudes are not a set of spiritual fortune cookies. They are a map of discipleship. They show us who belongs close to the heart of Christ and what it looks like to live as citizens of heaven while still walking the roads of earth.

A Message from Our Clergy

Deacon Jared

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Poverty of spirit is not about having low self-esteem. It is about dependence. It is the humble recognition that I am not God—and that I need Him. It is the spiritual posture that prays, "Lord, without You, I cannot do this." This is why the Responsorial Psalm echoes it so beautifully: "Blessed are the poor in spirit; the kingdom of heaven is theirs!"

Then Jesus says, "Blessed are they who mourn." Some of us carry grief that is private, quiet, even decades old. The Lord does not rush past that pain. He meets it. He promises comfort, not as a vague sentiment, but as a presence—His presence. Christianity is not denial. It is hope anchored in the God who entered suffering Himself.

"Blessed are the meek." Meekness is not weakness. Meekness is strength under control. It is the courage to refuse vengeance, the discipline to respond with patience, and the faith to trust God with outcomes. In a culture that rewards outrage, meekness is revolutionary.

Jesus goes on: hunger for righteousness, mercy, purity of heart, peacemaking, and perseverance under persecution. Notice the movement: the Beatitudes begin with the interior life—humility, sorrow, longing for what is right—and then they overflow into how we treat others: mercy, clean hearts, peace. That's the pattern of holiness. A heart formed by God becomes hands extended to others.

St. Paul reinforces this in today's second reading: God often chooses what the world calls small, weak, or foolish to reveal His power. The saints are not a spiritual elite. They are ordinary people who let the Beatitudes become real in their daily choices.

So here is the question this Gospel asks us: Which Beatitude is Jesus inviting you to live this week? Not perfectly. Not all at once. Just faithfully. Perhaps it is to show mercy when you would rather keep score. To seek peace instead of winning. To hunger for righteousness instead of comfort. To become poor in spirit enough to pray with sincerity: "Jesus, I need You."

The Beatitudes are the new law written not on stone, but on hearts. And when we live them, we become what Jesus calls us in the very next passage: salt of the earth and light of the world.

Rejoice and be glad—your reward will be great in heaven.

MALASSADAS FOR SALE

We will be selling Malassadas (Portuguese fried dough) on Saturday, February 7 at the Parish Center. Please contact Noemia at 508-733-8908 to place your advance order. She will advise on your scheduled pick up time. All proceeds to benefit St. Michael Parish. Thank you for your support!

SNOW CREW APPRECIATION

Special thanks to our snow crew who responded to help clear our parking lots, walkways, entrances and steps to all of our campus buildings from the heavy snow we received last Sunday, January 25. Led by our crack facilities team of Antonio Goncalves and Francisco Pinheiro, our other volunteers included Steve Geldart, Patrick Fennel, PJ Steen, Rich Caissie, Dcn. Chuck and Kevin Blanchard, who tackled the cemetery to clear accessways. Even Fr. Bert aided the effort and joined in to assist! The team was too busy for pictures, but enjoyed the work together. We are grateful for your help!

150TH COMMITTEE ACTIVITIES

The 150th committee would like to keep you informed of special opportunities planned at our parish.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 15—Free Painting and Sketch Lessons with Tracy, owner of Gallery in the Pines, Sundays from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., Parish Center.

Starting Sunday, February 15th and continuing every Sunday night from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at our parish center, Tracy is offering free lessons to the youth at St. Michael Parish. Come learn how to sketch and paint, and take part in the creation of a large oil painting depicting a moment in Jesus' life. At the end of this class, the painting will become a permanent part of St. Michael Parish. This program is offered to students ages 8 thru High School. If interested, you will find the application attached and also at the back of the church. Further, you may also go to Tracy's website at <https://galleryinthepines.com/art-lessons> or contact Janice at janicefournier44@gmail.com for more information and assistance. You may leave your paper application on a table at the back of the church where it will be picked up. Please note, the fees have been waived, but contact information is required in order to participate.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7—Malassadas for Sale.

FRIDAY, MARCH 20—Family Soup and Stations of the Cross—Adult Stations at 3:00 p.m. and Children Stations at 4:00 p.m., Upper Church, followed by Soup at the Parish Center.

SUNDAY, APRIL 12—Divine Mercy Sunday Easter Egg Hunt. SVDP and the Social Events Committee ministries are sponsoring an Easter egg hunt on Divine Mercy Sunday weekend from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Children aged 4 to 12 can come and learn about God's Mercy, participate in an egg hunt, and become part of the Saint Michael's community.

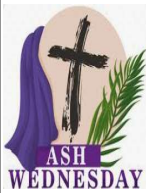

Check out this column for additional events planned by the 150th Committee!
