Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica

This weekend we celebrate the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica in Rome, the cathedral of the Bishop of Rome—our Holy Father. While it may seem curious to honor a building, the Church invites us to look deeper: this feast is not merely about brick and stone, but about the living Church—the People of God—you and I.

In our first reading, the prophet Ezekiel has a vision of water flowing from the Temple. This water grows into a great river, bringing life wherever it goes. Trees flourish, fish abound, and what was once barren becomes alive again. This is a powerful image of God's grace. From the very heart of worship, life flows outward. When we encounter God—when we allow His presence to touch us—something new springs forth, not just in us, but in the world around us. We are called to be like that flowing water: carrying God's life, healing, and mercy into our families, workplaces, and communities.

A Message from Our Clergy

Deacon Jared Auclair

St. Paul reminds us in his letter to the Corinthians: "You are God's building... you are the temple of God... and the Spirit of God dwells in you." The Lateran Basilica is holy not because of its age or grandeur, but because it is a place where God's people gather and Christ is present. Likewise, we are holy not by our own strength, but because God chooses to dwell within us. Each of us is a living church—a sanctuary of God's love—called to reflect His presence in the world.

In the Gospel, Jesus cleanses the temple in Jerusalem, driving out those who had turned a place of prayer into a marketplace. His actions remind us that the dwelling place of God—whether a church building or a human heart—is meant to be a place of reverence, honesty, and encounter. Jesus is not only protecting the physical temple; He is calling us to allow Him to cleanse and renew our inner temple. And He promises something profound: He is the true temple, the meeting place between God and humanity.

So what does this feast ask of us today? What can we do practically? To honor our churches as sacred spaces where we meet Christ in Word and Sacrament. To respect and care for one another, recognizing that each person is a temple of the Holy Spirit. To allow Christ to cleanse, heal, and rebuild our hearts, especially when cluttered with distraction, selfishness, or fear. To become, like the river in Ezekiel's vision, vessels of grace—bringing life, healing, and compassion to a world longing for hope.

The Dedication of the Lateran Basilica invites us to remember who we are: a holy people, built on the one foundation—Jesus Christ. May we continue to grow as living temples of God's presence, and may His grace flow through us abundantly into all the world.

Several St. Michael's parishioners have heard the call to serve and responded by joining religious orders. Two long-time parishioners—Dennis Marsicano, a Third Order Secular Franciscan, and Linda Driscoll, a Third Order Lay Dominican—were featured in the August 2025 issue of the magazine. In case you missed it, we have placed copies of their stories in the back of the church this weekend. Please take one. Novembro celebramos todos os Santos e nossos saudosos Finados. Santidade não é apenas reservada aos Santos canonizados mas é também um chamado de Deus a todos nós para vivermos conforme a Sua vontade e refletir Seu amor e Sua misericórdia no mundo. No dia de Finados lembramos de quem já partiu dessa Vida com carinho e orações. Sabemos que a morte não é o fim mas uma passagem para a Vida eterna com Deus. Jesus nos ensinou que mesmo diante da morte há Esperança... Que o Senhor nosso Deus nos conceda tudo que nos é necessário para nossa Salvação. Amém.
