Our readings this weekend speak to us about faith in God, trusting in His love and plan for us. Habakkuk was one of the minor prophets of the Old Testament (OT) who lived around the 7th century BC, before the time of the Babylonian invasion and exile. Unlike the other OT prophets who spoke to the people on God's behalf, much of Habakkuk is a dialogue with God. He laments to God about the injustice and violence that he observes around him. Judah was full of corruption, oppression and lawlessness at the time, and Habakkuk is scandalized that God seems silent while the wicked triumph and prosper. God's request to Habakkuk is to write down the vision that he sees so that all can read it: judgment is indeed coming, but in God's time, not on human terms. The invasion by Babylon, which will come soon, will be used as an instrument of God's justice. The faithful must trust in God's plan despite the appearances of delays.

This theme of faith-filled trust is picked up in our psalm: If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts. We must listen faithfully and with obedience, and resist the temptation to give in to despair. God hears our prayers and answers the cry of our pleas, all in His time.

A Message from Our Clergy

Deacon Chuck Rossignol

In our second reading, Paul encourages Timothy to 'stir into flame' the gift of faith he has received, and not give into fear. Trust in the power of the Holy Spirit. This is perseverance in discipleship.

In our gospel from Luke, we learn through the parable of the servant the value of humility. Our faith is not about power, but about trustful service to God – who will reward us for doing 'what we were obliged to do.' It is our attitude of humility before God and His will for us – all for our good, that will help us grow in our faith.

This weekend, we celebrate the Feast of St. Faustina Kowalska, the Polish mystic known as the Apostle of Divine Mercy. Her mission was to proclaim God's mercy and trust in him, centered on the prayer 'Jesus, I trust in You.' Like Habakkuk, St. Faustina lived in turbulent times – those being around WWI. She too cried out to God about suffering. His response to her was the beautiful prayer of Divine Mercy. Her Diary is filled with appeals to not harden our hearts, but to listen to the voice of Jesus' mercy. Like Timothy, her life 'stirred into flame' the ministry and mission of the Divine Mercy and trust in Jesus. The humility Jesus calls for in the parable of the servant mirrors her own 'nothingness' before God, as she saw herself only as an instrument of mercy, not the source of it.

Dear Lord, help us to always trust in You, especially when we are challenged by our life's circumstances, difficulties and trials. Help is to grow in humility toward you as a means to grow in our faith, that we may know that all we experience in the crosses we bear will always bring us closer to you. We ask these things in Jesus' Holy Name. Amen.

ABOUT THE COVER—Month of the Rosary

In 1208, St Dominic was the first person to receive the prayers of the Rosary from the Blessed Mother – how to pray the Rosary, how to ponder the mysteries of Christ’s life, and his saving work. Our Lady came to St. Dominic in a dream and she told him that the Rosary is the “weapon that the Holy Trinity wants to use to reform the world.” God wills that the renewal of the world, the turning away from sin and violence and hatred, should happen through a prayerful meditation on the truth and light of the Gospel. This month, let us pray the Rosary as a means that we too can draw closer to Jesus and Mary by meditating on the great mysteries of our salvation.

GUEST SPEAKER: ZACH MORRIS

OCTOBER 29, 2025—WEDNESDAY 6 PM

“On the Cultivation of Worth: A Word from St. Augustine to the contemporary heart”

In this increasingly disaffiliated world our kids are leaving God behind. Instead of seeing God as a loving creator, many choose to strike out on the effort of ‘self-creation.’ The trouble is that when we seek to create ourselves we also find ourselves in a situation where we must define our own worth. We live in a world in which our young people, far too often, base their value on passing things (grades, sports, friends, etc.) rather than the unchanging God. When those things pass away our kids are not merely faced with a bad day but their very reason for why they matter is thoroughly shaken. Teens are facing a crisis of worth and we have to respond. This talk will consider the crisis at hand, seeking an answer in the thought of St. Augustine, and discuss what we as parents, educators, coaches, and mentors can do to help our young people ground their worth in the loving God.
